BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICK.—On the market for Common Hards more or less stock is selling along from day to day and occasionally the majority of the trade listen a little enviously to the story of some receiver recounting the fact of having secured custom for quite a number of loads. Business, however, is entirely void of anything like vigor or promise and the situation is quite as unsatisfactory as for some time past, indeed some operators frankly admit they consider it worse. Consumption has failed to expand greatly in any locality to which this market is contributive, and there are no evidences of such preparation under way as to promise a much better state of affairs during the fall and early winter, and thus far at least there has been no gradations of the supply to the outlet, offerings at all times proving ample and frequently liberal, and down to date there has been no serious complaint over quality; indeed, the average runs first-class, values are weak, and while a few special favorites still bring $5 the figure is fully 12c too high for a regular quotation. At such cost no reasonable buyer could complain and the absence of demand is not due to any fault of the price, but simply to absence of use for stock. There is some inquiry for Pales, generally supposed to come from custom outside the city limits and it is met by taking orders for shipment, manufacturers judiciously abstaining from sending stock forward until there is a place for it.

GLASS.—We cannot find that any great gain is looking at the moment in the market for window glass. The actual consumption is small and unlikely to increase for some little time to come, and while there is no addition to supplies in first hands owing to suspension of work, manufacturers are laboring under some disadvantage. Some buyers are standing off hopeful of getting some advantage through foreign stock, and there is also trouble with offerings of domestic goods from second hands. These were taken up when glass was cheaper, and jobbers now appear disposed to shade the wholesale valuation in the effort to secure trade. As a rule, however, manufacturers remain pretty steady, and if they cut rates at all the percentage is very light. Plate glass is generally selling fairly, and the average condition of trade is considered satisfactory and promising.

LATH.—The market continues more or less unsettled and not over firm. After the heavy amounts that have been received and placed this season, it is in the nature of things that a large proportion of dependent custom should be pretty well stocked up and demand, in consequence, is moderate and careful. These conditions, however, are in a measure balanced by less frequent arrivals and the comparatively low cost ruling. Business is reported at $1.75 this week, but it would probably have to be shaded if there was any special attempt to sell quickly.

LIME.—Some coastwise arrivals have been reported during the week, but receivers say they caused no trouble and have found fair demand without disturbing the previously-quoted line of values. Consumption has gained a trifle, but not enough to induce dealers to stock up freely and nice management of the supply is the mainstay of the market. A cargo of St. John lime came in and is reported sold at $0.85c. State lime holds its share of favor, and we also hear of some Western stock selling, the latter $5c. for common.

LUMBER.—General conditions of trade are no worse and here and there conditions show a slight improvement. Some of the yards are commencing to pick up a little more trade, and as fall approaches a further gain may reasonably be anticipated. For wholesale lots there is also something in the way of what may fairly be called new demand. It is not of anxious character and buyers quite generally persistently adhere to the policy of abstaining from investments against any very distant want, but where there is really a good chance for using supplies custom shows less hesitancy about developing demand. This is the result of a conclusion that cost is probably about as low as it is likely to settle this season and about the only thing to be gained in standing off would be some small margin in the way of carrying charges. One feature of the current call is the continued special favor shown the coarser grades or cheap lumber, some of which, in view of the careful production are sold pretty closely to output of mills, and occasionally this makes a little trouble for sellers who may be offering an assortment containing a fuller proportion of finer sorts than buyers care to handle. It is believed that those conditions will prevail for some time, and operators who make a specialty of boxing entertain really hopeful ideas of more extended dealings should general business start up and a broader distribution of merchandise take place. Box makers have followed the common economic methods of investment and therefore have light stocks of materials in hand, to which prompt additions would become necessary should the call for their product expand.

Spruce generally has a better market according to the expressed views of most operators, including some who have heretofore inclined to quite a pessimistic conclusion. At the east manufacturers have to a large extent carried out their threat of shutting down as soon as the old supply of logs were used up, and that course not only greatly reduces the chance of an unexpected and disagreeable offering promiscuously, but as buyers have already discovered creates a serious impediment to the placing of special orders. The State mills are also working light, and the conditions now governing the productions of West Virginia still removes one of the most serious menaces to which the market has heretofore been subjected, making this last-named grade a support to, rather than a drag upon the general market.

Hemlock is not selling to any great extent upon this market, an odd car-load covering the average order, although now and then somewhat fuller custom can be found and out-of-town trade has been very fair. Thus far response to orders is prompt and sellers as a rule seem very well satisfied to accept former rates, but some of them are talking stiffer and hint at a movement to move thoroughly central supplies.

Carolina Pine box continues in very good demand, and as the quantity of that grade of stock is small prices for it rule fairly steady. The upper qualities, however, have the irregularity natural to an effort among manufacturers to work off surplus product, and until the latter has been accomplished there is not likely to be much uniformity to value line.

White Pine is steady so far as the market has been tested. There is still an absence of attention from the trade so far as the upper qualities are concerned, but for box a fair call is claimed and buyers said to be making no objection to the previous run of cost. Offerings, without becoming free or obtrusive, are ample and custom can be served quite as promptly as usual at this season of the year. New demand for export is moderate.

Yellow Pine sells only moderately, yet to a somewhat fuller extent than heretofore in the main on orders. Prices are no better apparently and the cheese-paring methods among manufacturers keep margins small and generally unprofitable.

Hardwoods have undergone no recent change of importance and most of the business at the moment is of a jobbing character. Certain attentions from buyers, however, are hailed as preliminary to a better demand soon and a few operators predict a very good fall trade. Poplar will hold its own without much difficulty in forming proportion of whatever movement may develop, and there are good expectations for oak, ash and red birch, while first-class walnut even now would probably attract attention if offered. Sellers seem confident about cypress, but there seems to be some manufacturers and dealers who have not yet become used to the wood.

The National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association has issued a circular calling attention to a feature of the New York laws relating to corporations organized outside the State and which, if not properly complied with, is likely to cause trouble and delay in prosecuting claims, etc. Want of space forbids attempt to publish the full text of the circular and the accompanying slip giving full text of the law, to be found under Laws 1892, chapter 687, but Secretary Clarke will no doubt furnish full information to those entitled to it.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany Argus says:

Matters are running along about the same in the lumber district. Several pine houses report a little more inquiry by mail, and say they did a little better business last week. Assortments are excellent and prices unchanged. Quotations on spruce and hemlock stand about the same and the market is practically featureless. Freights continue unchanged.

Old Riders who know Bicycles

Are accustomed to ignore friendships, and measure wheels without mercy. With them loud assertions count for nothing.

Their mounts must stand the crucial test of reputation gained by years of honest and skilful construction and dealing. The best riders, the oldest riders, the most intelligent wheelmen of the country know Columbias to be the standard of bicycle excellence for the world, and ride them in preference to any other wheels.

stances. At St. Louis, in this city and other points quite a rush has taken place since the railways began to operate their freight service, and the movement would be greater if ample shipping facilities were furnished. Stocks in country yards are low, and any requirement for consumption must be mainly met by ordering lumber from the mills or wholesale yards. Yet the jobbers are apprehensive that the trouble is not entirely over; and have abated their zeal about making further purchases of supplies. The cargo market in this city and at Saginaw river mills is excessively dull, and the demand for bulk stocks all around the lakes has received a setback by the strike that it may require weeks to recover from. In this market piece stuff, or framing dimension, is selling well, because there is comparatively little being offered at the leading mill points. The general tendency at the majority of lake mills is to convert the greater share of logs into inch lumber, for the reason that bill stuff is considered too low a price to be profitable product. Hemlock at western points is almost a drug, though it is probable that should the short supply of pine piece stuff continue through the season hemlock may be more freely sought for as a substitute.

At the Chicago cargo market the yard dealers have held aloof, except when they could buy piece stuff. But arrivals of such lumber are limited, it appearing that there is not much at the mills to come forward for the reason that logs this year are being largely cut into inch stock. The call for timber, lath and shingles is slight, such would sell fairly well at ordinary conditions existed, but now the yard men are slow in taking hold of anything but piece stuff. Prices are fully maintained on the last named kind of product on a basis of $9.25 a thousand for short lengths. There is too small an amount of trading in anything else to force a pronounced condition in respect to values, though it is said that there is no material change. The horizon will have to clear in respect to general prospects of demand before there will be anything but a quiet market. At present there is an absence of strong demand.

The meeting of the Poplar Manufacturers' Association, held at Oakland, Md., last week, brought out the fact pretty clearly that dry poplar lumber is in short supply, with prospects of a growing scarcity as the season advances. Already prices show a firmer tendency, although there is no appreciable increase in the demand. Sales are still made at considerable below the association list, but in the eastern markets especially sellers are holding back for better values.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman says:

Among lumbermen there is a much better feeling now than there has been for months prevalent. It may but be the reaction of the depressed feeling caused by the strike. At any event reports from lumber distributing points are to the effect that lumber is beginning to move and that orders that have accumulated during the strike are now being filled, thus causing wholesalers and manufacturers to be busy. Orders are also coming in more freely just now owing to the fact that traveling men have been off the road for a time, and on going back are met with a temporary brisk demand.

The lake trade from Duluth and other Lake Superior points has kept on, uninterrupted by the strike, but it is not of a very encouraging character. At Duluth a light inquiry is reported from the east, but in the west but little is being done from Duluth. In the Wisconsin valley trade is on the eve of a change for the better now that the railroads are receiving freight and a fair fall trade is in prospect. For the past two weeks there as elsewhere there has practically been no business done. But the outlook is brighter.

NAILS—Business develops no really new features and a rather narrower market prevails. Sellers, nevertheless, retain fair advantage in consequence of supplies small enough to be managed without difficulty and a disposition to keep production down to manageable limits for all kinds of stock. We quote Cut at $1.00@1.10 per keg for car lots and $1.15@1.25 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.00@1.15 for car lots, and $1.25@1.35 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Business has been dull and still somewhat unsatisfactory, although allowing for the season and the "times" operators are not unwilling to feel philosophical and assume they are getting natural share of general trade. Further information from interior points and from local custom goes to confirm the inadequacy of what may be called the invisible supply to cope with any ordinary increase of call from actual consumers, and that is a basis of considerable hope in regard to coming trade. Another good feature is that when demand is ready to start in it will not be confronted by extreme cost, gradual shrinkage having brought the value line down to about hard pan, and while a fuller trade would in all probability put a stop to some of the deep cuts on price here and there to be found, the selling side in all its divisions is too anxious for custom to interpose a checking feature in way of an attempt to quickly jump up rates to important changes this week. For leads, corridors' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 6½c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 5.9½c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 5.9c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c., and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corrod point. Linseed Oil meets with fair average demand and at generally steady rates, crushers keeping very good control of the position, and close competition is confined in main to ordinary grades. We quote at 50¢ 52c. for Western, 53¢ 55c. for City from domestic seed and 54¢ 55c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine has settled off somewhat in price in consequence of dull trade, but the supplies seem to be very well in hand, and owners abstaining from pressing goods. We quote at 29¢ 30c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Demand has been moderate and uncertain, buyers refusing to move except under force of necessity, and current wants proving quite small at this time. Supplies small and held with a fair display of firmness. We quote Tar at $1.85@1.90 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.50@2.55 in pork bbls., and $3.50@3.55 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

FAVORABLE features are becoming more prominent in the business situation, though they are of the moderate forms that suggest only small improvements. They are not to be despised, however, coming as they do in a time of such extreme depression and in a summer almost tropical in its temperature, the latter fact alone being sufficient to deter industrial revival. Among these encouraging points are the reports that the manufacturers of low-priced shoes have orders sufficient to keep them running until October and that the demand is growing larger in all the great iron markets. High-priced goods in the shoe lines are as dull as ever. Dry-goods generally have seen recently some falling-off in demand and here and there in prices also. Grain markets attempt to give warrant for reports of damage to crops, but it is in such a poor-hearted way that it may be taken that those likely to be best informed do not believe the growers' losses are very severe. The stock market still belongs entirely to the traders, and as these have operated on the crop reports and the situation at Washington, prices have of course suffered. Quotations continue to reflect foreign selling of investment issues. Last fall and the closing days of the silver discussion are recalled by the present position of the tariff bill. The deadlock now, as then, is due practically to the opposition of a few Senators to the wishes of the President and House and the outside public as represented by the almost unanimous press of the country, and it is reasonable to expect the smaller party will eventually have to give way after satisfying the people they represent, whether the sugar men or their legal constituents, by indulging in a large amount of bluff, that they have done all they can for them. While the sugar men are exclaiming that their business will be ruined without the differential duty of an eighth, it is being asserted on the basis of London prices, with the cost of freight, etc., added, that a 40 per cent ad valorem duty would give the home refiner the protection of a quarter of a cent a pound over the German refined, which sells in London at 29c. per cwt. lower than the English refined. If this is the fact, and the position of the country on the question being what it is, the assurance of Messrs. Gorman, Brice & Co. in insisting on the Senate duties is not a particle less impertinent than that of the Silver Senators last year.

PROBABLY the most significant foreign item of the week is the intimation from Berlin that investors are turning their attention from Governments to other classes of securities which have been neglected for a long time, and in this connection are watching the course of our tariff legislation with interest. British railroad dividends for the first half of the year have created no disappointments; the omissions and payments were equally expected. The Labor Department of the Board of Trade reports no material change in the labor market for June, the tendency on the whole being rather downward than upward. Two propositions for the imposition of an income tax, coming from Radical and Socialistic Deputies in the French Chamber, having been defeated, the government finally agreed to the appointment of a commission to draw up a scheme of fiscal reform. The organ of the Credit Foncier has put forward the suggestion that France and Germany should establish in Africa a common neutral line from a point on the Mediterranean to the Transvaal, in order to cut off England's line of communication between north and south. The writer fears that unless this is done British cars will be running between Alexandria and Cape Town in the first quarter of the next century. An unprejudiced observer would say nothing could be better not only for British possessions in Africa, but for all foreign and native possessions there, and if Great Britain can carry out such a stupendous improvement by all means let her do it. French imports for the first half of the year declined $15,000,000 and her exports $21,000,000. Railroad earnings on the continent of Europe as well as in Great Britain continue fairly good. Business in Austria is feeling the effects of the better crop news recorded last week. Spain is suffering from her absurd customs-fight with Germany. The Chilean budget shows a deficiency of $1,271,500 for 1893 and an anticipated surplus for 1894 of $1,500,000. The government has already obtained something over $3,000,000 by the sale of nitrate grounds, the amount realized being $300,000 more than the upset prices. Further sales estimated to produce $10,000,000 are to take place in October.

AN analysis of the wheat imports into Great Britain for the first half of this year shows the sharp competition this country has to meet in that trade. The total importations were 4,638,264 cwts. more than in the corresponding period of 1893, and from this country 3,894,283 cwts. less. A good deal has been said of the cheap Argentine wheat thrown on the British market as a result of the financial distress in the South American Republic, but as a matter of fact we were undersold by almost every wheat-producing country in the world. Germany is the only country sharing a falling off of imports, but her total is so insignificant as to make further reference to it unnecessary. Russian, South American and Indian supplies mainly displaced our wheat. Part of the story of our failure to maintain our share of these importations is found in the prices at which the wheat was laid down in Great Britain by other countries and the most important part of course. The average price of the total importations of wheat into Great Britain in the first half of 1893 was 78c. per bushel, and the average prices for the chief importing countries as follows: United States, 79c.; Russia, 77c., and Argentine, 73c. The average prices for the first half of this year were as follows: For total importations, 67c.; United States, 69c.; Russia, 65c.; Argentine, 63c. An unusually large percentage of the total was imported in the month of June, in which the United States, in spite of the fact that it made the largest relative reduction in the prices, lost ground, and the prices were then, for the total importations, 63c.; United States, 64c.; Argentine, 61c., and Russia, 60½c. This shows the extent of the competition among wheat growers, and taken in connection with the favorable reports from the European harvest fields is not encouraging to the home producer. The London Economist recently published an article showing that even at the low prices prevailing for the harvest of 1893-'94 the Argentine farmer can realize a profit of about 12½ cents a bushel in raising wheat. If this is true our farmers will have to find ways of reducing the cost of producing the cereal on their farms.

THE Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen is likely to become as well known as the American Railroad Union, but for very different reasons. Where the latter has exhausted its resources and strength in an unreasonable strike of sympathy with the Pullman operatives, which could not from the nature of the case be successful, however long it had endured, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen is taking steps to discipline those of its members who took part in the Debs movement, either from sympathy or from any other cause. The rules of the order expressly forbid its members from taking part in strikes organized by other bodies, or the so-called sympathy strike, and its violation renders the offender liable to expulsion. If a lodge shall have so offended, its charter may be revoked. These are not unusual provisions in the laws of labor bodies, but it is very unusual, indeed, for them to be enforced. The official repudiation of responsibility for the Debs insurrection by organized labor will have more ability to prevent the recurrence of such an absurdity and to renew the stability of business than anything else can do. It is highly probable, too, that American workmen, in their own interest, will have to separate themselves from foreigners of anarchistic designs, and from any organizations which may make them responsible for acts that they deprecate and repudiate, by reason of the majority of the members holding violent and un-American views. It may be presumed that the native workman knows that he can gain nothing either for himself or his posterity by foolish strikes, part of the tactics of which are the willful destruction of property and the jeopardy of lives. Labor that wishes to keep clear of these must withdraw from organizations that countenance them, especially such organizations as give secret encouragement to them while forbidding them in their rules.

SOMEbody has raised the question, is journalism a trade? The answer must differ according to the kind of journalism that is referred to. In this country there is a journalism that is a trade pure and simple, being conducted for revenue only, without any scruples or sentiment as to the sources or nature of the revenue; it is a cash journalism and is for hire in any direction for cash. There is another journalism founded on a desire to serve humanity and make things better than they are; these are its first principles, the natural expectation of fair profit for services rendered being the subsidiary one; this is the profession of journalism and has as pure ideals as any of the arts or any of the other professions. There is a third journalism that is neither a trade nor a profession, but brigandage, robber-baronage, buccaneering, or anything else that is contraband; it has no regard for either the moral or material welfare of the community; no training is necessary for its pursuit, the clerk can lay down his yardstick which he has wielded honorably and pursue this calling of illicit journalism provided he has soaked in dime novels to acquire the proper diction, loves scandal and can serve it up with due salacity. This is the journalism represented by the sensational New York newspapers, the journalism the public delights in most.

The Work of the Constitutional Convention.

ALBANY, Aug. 2.—Andrew H. Green did not call up for consideration this week in the Constitutional Convention his proposed amendment to the Constitution providing for a Board of Commissioners of Land Records to draw up bills for the reformation of the land transfer laws of the State because of his desire to have personal chats first with members of the Convention about his amendment and in its favor.

One proposed Amendment to the Constitution of most interest to residents of New York was favorably reported by the Committee on Preamble and Bill of Rights. The amendment thus reported was Mr. Thanks', in relation to the condemnation of land for public use. It is suspected that Mr. Thanks, who is a resident of New York, introduced it with some thought of the approaching condemnation of land for the proposed rapid transit road in New York. The Committee on Preamble and Bill of Rights almost seems to be made up of corporation men, for its members have almost invariably taken the corporation view of things. They have transformed Mr. Thanks' amendment in a remarkable manner by giving the corporation a right to a jury to assess damages to property thus taken for public use. The amendment as presented to the Convention now reads:

"When private property shall be taken for any public use, the compensation to be made therefor, when such compensation is not made by the State, shall be ascertained by a jury when required by either party in interest, and if not so required, such compensation shall be ascertained by not less than three Commissioners appointed by a Court of Record, as shall be prescribed by law. Private roads may be opened in the manner to be prescribed by law; but in every case the necessity of the road and the amount of all damages to be sustained by the opening thereof shall be first determined by a jury of freeholders, and such amount, together with the expenses of the proceeding, shall be paid by the person to be benefited."

Mr. Thanks protested against a corporation having the right to a jury trial the same as a property-owner, and vainly attempted to have the Convention accept the following proposed Amendment to the Constitution as a minority report from the Committee on Preamble and Bill of Rights:

"When private property shall be taken for any public use the compensation to be made therefor, when such compensation is not made by the State, shall be ascertained by a jury when required by the owner of the property, and if not so required, such compensation shall be ascertained by not less than three Commissioners appointed by a Court of Record, as shall be prescribed by law. Private roads may be opened in the manner to be prescribed by law; but in every case the necessity of the road and the amount of all damage to be sustained by the opening thereof, shall be first determined by a jury of freeholders, and such amount, together with the expenses of the proceeding, shall be paid by the person to be benefited."

The Convention was informed by Jesse Johnson, the chairman of the Committee on Cities, to-day that he should call up for consideration on Tuesday morning, the Amendment to the Constitution prepared by that committee conferring "home rule" in certain respects upon cities. About half of the city departments under this amendment will be exempt from change by the authorities at Albany unless with the consent of the authorities in New York, Brooklyn and other cities. The rural delegates look with suspicion upon the amendment, but it is supported zealously by Elibu Root and other Republicans from the cities. The Democratic minority, however, are also opposed to the amendment in its present form, because of there being included in it a provision for the appointment of the election officers of cities by a State Election Board. This they regard as a serious invasion of the right of "home rule." The debate on the Home Rule Amendment, therefore, promises to be both partisan and bitter. A good many members of the Convention express the suspicion that the "Home Rule" Amendment will fail of adoption and that nothing more will be done in the direction of freeing the cities from having their charters modified by the Legislature ceaselessly than the adoption of an amendment providing for the classification of cities, and prohibiting the passage of any but general laws affecting cities of the same class. This amendment certainly would cast many impediments in the path of those who seek to tinker the charters of cities for political or partisan reasons.

That West Side Stable Matter.

As a result of the appearance of some twenty or thirty West Side property-owners before the Sinking Fund Commission on Tuesday, in united opposition to the scheme for a stable for the Street Cleaning Department in 90th street, on motion of Comptroller Fitch that scheme was abandoned. At the same time ex-Senator Geo. W.

Plunkett appeared before the Commission with an offer to lease the premises Nos. 625, 627 and 629 West 130th street, 75x96, with a three-story and basement stable, sufficient for the accommodation of 160 horses, with wagons, machines, shops, box-stalls, mud-stalls, etc., for ten years, at $6,000 per year. Commissioner Andrews approved the offer and the matter was referred to Comptroller Fitch with power to act. Since then the lease has been executed. The records show the conveyance of the property, vacant, to Geo. W. Plunkett, on May 5, for $14,000.

This does not altogether settle the stable matter, for the department is seeking a stable somewhere between 50th and 130th streets, and it is intimated in official quarters that Mr. Plunkett will one of these days submit one to the Sinking Fund and it will be accepted before there is time for any opposition to show itself.

Our Tenement Houses.

REJOINDER TO MR. FLAGG'S CRITIC.

JULY 26, 1894.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

My attention has been called to two letters which appeared in the last number of your paper in reference to an article I wrote for Scribner's Magazine, entitled "The New York Tenement House Evil and its Cure." I am gratified that this discussion should have been provoked, as I believe the agitation of the subject cannot but result in great good to the community.

I was surprised and somewhat amused to notice after I had read the letter signed Wm. J. Fryer that it was entitled "Views of a Practical Building Expert." I cannot resist asking, Mr. Editor, how you made this discovery; was it an admission of Mr. Fryer's? There is certainly nothing in the letter which would lead one to suspect its author of being an expert at anything except misstatements. The letter is written with an apparent intent to mislead, and would be unworthy of a serious reply were it not that the ignorant effrontery of its misstatements might impose upon people who do not pretend to be building experts.

The letter of Mr. Israel's is of an entirely different kind. His points are such as would naturally present themselves to one who had only had time to give the question a superficial examination.

Mr. Fryer begins by saying "that a central court entered by a tunnel has been considered time and again by builders and rejected as not desirable." While not admitting the truth of this statement, I cannot see what bearing it has on the question, as no such arrangement was suggested. But if Mr. Fryer means to imply that there is nothing new in the plans suggested by me, I will say this: Let Mr. Fryer show a single building, erected for tenement house purposes, on an inside lot in the City of New York, having equally good conditions for light as those shown on my plan for a plot 100 feet square and which comes within 5 per cent of the economy of that plan and I will present $500 to any charity he may name.

His next statements "that it will be necessary to have the building laws amended before such structures as I propose can be erected," and "that the law requires that the distance between brick walls shall not exceed 33 feet" are simply not true, and the implication that the floor beams would rest on stud partitions is equally without foundation.

He says, "Mr. Flagg presents his plan for a building of six stories" and calls attention to the fact that the law requires, for buildings of that height, fire-proof staircases. The height was taken at six stories simply as a basis for calculation, and has nothing to do with the question one way or the other. The same height was assumed in both cases, and if brick walls around staircases are required for one building they would also be required for the other. Such quibbling serves no other purpose in a discussion of this kind than to show an evident desire on the part of the writer to beg the real question at issue.

In regard to my statement that the Board of Health has been pottering with the matter for twenty years and has accomplished nothing, I have only to say let the buildings speak for themselves; no one who has seen them can deny that the buildings now being erected with the consent of the Board of Health are, as described in my article, I have heard no less an authority than Dr. E. G. Janeway say he regarded the twenty-family tenement as the greatest danger which confronts this community to-day and as being the chief instrument in the spread of pulmonary diseases. If this is the result of the Board of Health's efforts, at what value shall we place their labors?

Mr. Fryer's statement "that there are more tenement houses in New York over 30 feet wide than 25 feet wide," is not true, and if it were, would not alter the case except as an additional proof of the economy of the plan proposed by me.

In the last paragraph of his letter Mr. Fryer says: "Domiciles must be provided for the very poor and ignorant as well as for those in the higher walks of life." This information, if not particularly new, is at least true, but just what bearing it has on the subject I do not see, unless Mr. Fryer means that as the poor and ignorant must be housed, it is better to give them unhealthy dwellings rather than unobjectionable ones, even if the latter cost less to erect; but when he goes on to make the ludicrous assertion that "the present tenement is a blessing," one is forced to the conclusion that either Mr. Fryer is an owner of this kind of property or that he is trying to be facetious.

Mr. Israel's seems to be a very different kind of man, and it is with pleasure that I answer his candid and intelligent criticisms.

Mr. Israel commences his letter with the statement that "all architectural development must have for its basis the social conditions and business habits of the population to which it directly appeals, and buildings are successful exactly in proportion to their fulfillment of these requirements." This statement leads one to inquire what sort of peculiar business habits and social conditions have we which would make successful the modern tenement.

Do our social conditions render it desirable to lodge 1,350,000 of our population in houses of a kind which makes our death rate higher than that of almost any other great city, and this notwithstanding the fact that scarcely any other great city is naturally so healthfully located as New York, situated on a fine island bathed on all sides by swift running tides, the ground rising gently to the centre. No place could be more favorably located with respect to drainage than this city, but in spite of all the advantages of a health-giving character with which nature has so liberally endowed her, a mere enumeration of which would take much more space than you would be likely to accord me, what are the results? A death rate of about twenty-four per thousand as against about twenty-one in Philadelphia, London and Paris." Let us consider a moment what this means. A difference in the death rate of three, or the difference between that of this city and the other cities mentioned, means that in a population of 1,900,000 souls 5,700 more people die here every year than would die if our population were living under the same conditions of health as those of Philadelphia, London or Paris, and this in spite of the fact that New York has great natural sanitary advantages over these other cities.

If a steamer explodes or a theatre burns up and a few hundred people are killed, the community is horror stricken; do we realize that every month hundreds are just as truly killed by that horrible monster, the New York tenement house? Who will deny that our death rate is what it is owing to the overcrowding of our tenement house population? If our social conditions require this waste of life, this mountain of misery, is it not time that these social conditions were changed?

Now what are the business habits which go to make these houses successful, and how far should they be encouraged?

Tenement houses are profitable, they pay a very high rate of interest. I often wonder what kind of consciences the owners of some of them must have and how they can enjoy spending the money they receive from them; blood money is not too hard a name to call it. Doubtless the income would be larger and many of the owners better pleased if all the land could be covered and most of the rooms have no windows at all, as used to be the case. The business habits of this part of the community should not be considered, their greed should be held in check by the strong arm of the law. Mr. Israel, while admitting the evils of the present system, which indeed every candid person who knows anything about the subject must, gives as a reason for continuing the present system the fact that at least ninety per cent of these houses are built by speculators who must unload as quickly as possible at a profit; and this forsooth is the justification for continuing the erection of houses not fit for human habitation. The great mass of our population must then continue to live in misery and squalor so that building speculators can unload quickly at a profit. To hear such sentiments propounded in a civilized community almost makes one ashamed that he is a man. If this and similar reasons are the business habits which make the plan successful, I say away with them, they need reforming.

Mr. Israel says, "before tenements built wholly on the plan suggested can be made to rent profitably in this city, the dwellers in tenements must be convinced that the long hall is not a necessity," and he also says "that such a hall is demanded by tenants." Tenants do not demand a long hall; what they do demand, but what they seldom get, is the means of reaching all the bedrooms from the parlor or living room without going through other bedrooms; if this can be accomplished without a long, dark hall, no one will complain of its absence. Heretofore the hall has been a necessity to accomplish this end.

In regard to the location of the water-closets in my plan, which are entered only from the outside by means of a balcony, I contend that this arrangement is much better from a sanitary and every other point of view, than the present method of placing them where they open into the public halls and pollute the entire atmosphere of the house, and that tenants would be as quick to see the advantages of such an arrangement as any one else.

Mr. Israel also seems to think that I have forgotten the provision of the building law which limits the span of beams to 26 feet, but I assure him that he is mistaken. A very simple system of posts and girders would render the greatest span necessary, 20 feet. The plans were drawn to illustrate a principle and many matters of detail were omitted as unnecessary for the purpose in view.

Mr. Israel says: "It will further be evident to all real estate men that as far as the financial returns of Mr. Flagg's scheme are concerned, such a house could not be as profitable to the owner as the ones now built, for although the rentable area is fully as great, a plot 100x100 feet, built upon the present objectionable system, gives sixteen apartments with eight facing the street, whereas the one suggested gives twelve, with but four on the street, and the house of sixteen apartments being rented cheaper, a larger class of tenants can be secured." Here Mr. Israel seems to have missed the main point of my article, the chief object for which it was written. Knowing how utterly hopeless it would be to try to persuade landlords to erect houses which would not pay as well as those they are now building, I prepared plans which demonstrate to a mathematical certainty that buildings can be erected which shall give the same area of rentable floor space well lighted and free from all sanitary objections for much less money than the buildings of the present type cost. While it is true that there are not so many apartments to the lot as in the present type of house, this saving in the cost of erection and other advantages accruing from the plans suggested would enable the owners to rent the apartments at no increase over the present rates and still receive the same returns on the investment. In making the plans I had no desire to compete with the modern tenement on the question of overcrowding. Four families to a floor for each lot of land are too many, such overcrowding should be prohibited by law, and the object of my article was to show that there is no excuse for it even on financial grounds.

My answer to the point which Mr. Israel makes in regard to the small number of apartments facing the street is, that if this is an objection, let him turn the plan around, making what was shown as the rear the front, letting the courts at the sides open from the street, then we will have over 83 per cent of the apartments front apartments against 50 per cent by the present method of planning.

ERNEST FLAGG.

"The Law's Delays."

The proceedings for opening 54th street, from 10th avenue to bulkhead line of the North River, have been pending over five years. Michael J. Scanlan, Chas. G. Cornell and Lamont McLaughlin are the commissioners and their additional bill of costs, aggregating $1,499, was presented to Judge Barrett for taxation on Thursday. West 54th street is already opened and paved from 10th to 11th avenue, although the land was never legally taken. It seems little short of outrageous to have proceedings for street openings drag along for such long periods at a great loss of time and money to taxpayers and rentpayers and at a great profit to the commissioners—usually young lawyers with political backing. It is about time something was done to reform such abuses, and it seems most appropriate work for the Real Estate Exchange to take in hand. We suggest that a Board be created and paid reasonable salaries to deal with all such matters as condemning land for streets or public buildings, a Board of intelligent and reputable men who would give their time to and expedite such matters, instead of separate commissions as at present, composed usually of young lawyers with political backing, paid so much per diem, and often anxious, therefore, to continue hearings and prolong the proceedings until a large bill of expense is incurred, and everybody interested, except the commissioners, worn, wearied and disgusted with the manner in which the great City of New York transacts its business.

In this 54th street matter it seems a long delay was occasioned by a dispute and contest at law between the city and the Mott estate over the rights of each to lands within and at the foot of the street and under water. Four trials were had, with varying results, until finally, about two years ago, an adjudication and settlement of the rights of the city and those of the Mott estate were agreed on. In May, 1889, the Corporation Counsel decided to discontinue the proceedings to have 54th street opened and the commissioners' (Messrs. Scanlan and McLaughlin) bill of costs and expenses were taxed at $377. Subsequently the proceedings were commenced again, with the result of incurring the additional charges of $1,500, and we understand the report which will be presented for confirmation next week will not award any compensation to the owners for lands to be taken, the commissioners agreeing with the counsel for the city, that the lands have been dedicated by common usage. It should be added that the city finished building a dock at the foot of the street some months ago, notwithstanding that the street has not yet been declared opened and that a gate and other obstacles prevents trucks from reaching the dock.

Questions and Answers.

Correspondents who do not find answers to their communications in this paper must please refer to future issues.

SEAL.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly state in your "Questions and Answers" column whether the validity of a deed, or mortgage, is unpaired if no seal is placed opposite the signature?

Answer.—Chapter 677, Laws of 1892, sec. 13, reads as follows: "The private seal of a person, other than a corporation, to any instrument or writing shall consist of a wafer, wax or other similar adhesive substance affixed thereto, or of paper or other similar substance affixed thereto, by mucilage or other adhesive substance, or of the word 'seal' or the letters 'L. S.' opposite the signature." We are of opinion that a deed simply signed is not valid to convey real estate in the State of New York. It is, however, in most of the states of the Union.—LAW EDITOR.

GRACE ABOLISHED.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Was an act passed by the last Legislature abolishing days of grace on promissory notes?

Answer.—Yes. Chapter 607, Laws of 1894: "On all notes, drafts, checks, acceptances, bills of exchange, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, made, drawn or accepted by any person or corporation after this act shall take effect, and in which there is no expressed stipulation to the contrary, no grace, according to the custom of merchants, shall be allowed, but the same shall be due and payable as therein expressed without grace." It goes into effect January 1, 1895.

The Strike on School Work.

The strike of union workmen on the public school buildings had not, up to last night, fulfilled the expectations of the walking delegates. Superintendent of School Buildings C. B. J. Snyder said yesterday that of about 2,500 men at work on the buildings only 160 had been reported to him as having ceased work on the day.

*The exact rates as ascertained at the office of the Board of Health are Philadelphia, 21.2; Paris, 21.8; London, 21.3, and New York, 23.9.

gate's orders. Most of the men had declared a preference to continue at work under the existing conditions, and he believed they would do so. The work on all the repair jobs was so far advanced that a cessation now would not seriously interfere with the opening of the schools at the beginning of the fall term in September. Of the merits of the strike Mr. Snyder did not express himself. He did not know that non-union men were employed anywhere on the school work, and if there were it was by contractors over whom he had no control in such a matter. The policy of his department was to discourage the employment of non-union labor because it so often resulted in trouble and delays. If the contractors should stop work on their contracts he could serve a three-days' notice on them and then prosecute the work with other hands, but he was not disposed to take such peremptory measures until the contractors had been given a reasonable chance to settle their troubles with the unions or to obtain new men.

The contention on the part of the walking delegates is that non-union men are working on some of the jobs and that union men are working for less than the union wages. A specific instance is mentioned, that of some carpenters working for Wood & Colwell at $3.00 per day—which is 50 cents less than the union schedule. The contractors reported that in this case the men readily accepted the $3.00 rate; the walking delegate objected and threatened to order a strike, but was dissuaded by the men, and allowed the work to go on several weeks without interference. Altogether, it appears that the men at work are content to go on as at present; the walking delegates are being urged on by men out of employment, and that if the men quit on their orders their places will be quickly filled from the ranks of the unemployed.

Some Good Contracts Let.

C. O. Perry, of No. 5 Beekman street, is one of the busiest of contracting builders. He is erecting a handsome brick and granite private stable for Congressman Isidor Strauss at the Boulevard and 105th street, after plans by Architect John H. Duncan, at a cost of $75,000. John Pierce will supply the granite, the Eastern Hydraulic Press Brick Co. the brick, Prince & Kinkel the iron-work, the Guastavino Co. the arches, and J. and J. Morrison fire-proof partitions and plastering. The stable will contain eleven stalls, ample carriage-room, and very commodious and well-arranged quarters for coachman, etc. During the week Mr. Perry commenced work on a fine house for Mr. James W. Whitney on Riverside Drive, between 90th and 91st streets. It will cost about $50,000, and the plans were prepared by Architect Duncan. Messrs. Candee & Smith will supply the building material, the Sherman Iron Works, iron, and the Schneider-Birkenstock Marble Co. the marble work. Mr. Perry is also at work on a $30,000 alteration to the dwelling, No. 25 East 74th street, for Mr. Newman Erb, after plans by Clarence G. Luce; a new front and extension, also internal alterations are planned. Barr, Thaw & Forager will supply the brownstone, the Sherman Iron Works iron. The contract for cabinet work and parquet floors has not yet been awarded. Mr. Perry is finishing the Robertson Hotel, corner of Boulevard and 72d street, and two houses adjoining the hotel on 72d street, for Mr. Frank Tilford.

The Knickerbocker Trust Company.

ROBERT MACLAY ELECTED ITS PRESIDENT.

One of the most enterprising of the big financial institutions for which the city is famous is the Knickerbocker Trust Company. Two events and a consequence of pleasing character have followed each other in quick succession with it recently. Its offices, which for several years were at Nos. 18 Wall and 3 Nassau street, have been removed to the new building of the Manhattan Life Insurance Co., at No. 66 Broadway, running through to New street, where it has taken the entire first floor, with more commodious quarters and larger facilities for the transaction of a growing business; then it has elected, as President, Robert Maclay, well known as the President of the Knickerbocker Ice Co., Vice-President of the Bowery Savings Bank (with deposits close up to $60,000,000), and School Commissioner. Mr. Maclay had been acting president several weeks, and during that period the deposits of the company had increased from $5,500,000 to nearly $7,000,000—which is the pleasing consequence referred to. Mr. Maclay is also the treasurer of the Metropolitan Club, a member of the Historical Society, the Brown Club, of Glasgow, Scotland, and of the Advisory Committee of the University of the City of New York. He was a member of the Supreme Court Rapid Transit Commission of 1892, that reported in favor of the Steinway Commission scheme for an underground electric railroad, the same that has just been adopted by the new commission.

Trade Notes.

Gillespie Bros. have been selected as the builders of the high ten-story warehouse which Brewer James Everard is about erecting on the northeast corner of Washington and West 10th streets, at a cost of a quarter of million dollars. Messrs. Gillespie also built the Hotel Gerard on West 44th street, and are now engaged on the Hotel Savoy annex. The foundation for the latter is being constructed on the cantilever principle, the first application of that principle for buildings in this city.

The New Jersey Roofing Co., of No. 267 Washington street, Jersey City, N. J., recently organized, is prepared to figure and advise with owners, builders and others on all kinds of roofing. The company will do work in New York, Brooklyn, Newark, Jersey City, in fact throughout the great Metropolitan District. Mr. G. H. Groves, the manager, is an experienced roofer, having been in the business twenty years. Builders requiring new roofing of any kind and owners about repairing old roofs will consult their interests by sending to the New Jersey Roofing Co., who examine roofs and furnish estimates for all manner of roofing.

The old-established Manhattan House Cleaning Bureau, of No. 143 West 26th street, which does all manner of house cleaning, is now engaged in cleaning the ceilings, sidewalks, woodwork and windows in the Presbyterian Hospital, and in cleaning the Mt. Morris Baptist Church on 5th avenue. Important contracts for cleaning, recently satisfactorily executed, include the Methodist Episcopal Hospital (formerly Mt. Sinai), Brooklyn, where Mr. Garner's new disinfectants were used; Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt's dwelling, 5th avenue, and the fine new office buildings of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life on Broadway, the Hanover Insurance Co., and the Kuhn, Loeb & Co. structures on Pine street. Mr. James E. Garner, proprietor of the Manhattan House Cleaning Bureau, is a pioneer in his line, and besides having long experience is energetic and able, and has the very best of facilities and an experienced corps of workers, the latter at times numbering 100 men.

The well-known brokerage firm of Mills, Whitehouse & Hall has been dissolved by the retirement of Mr. Edward Ludlow Hall. The business will be continued by Mr. Edmund S. Mills and Mr. Worthington Whitehouse, under the firm name of Mills & Whitehouse, at the old address, No. 17 East 42d street.

Oliver Bryan has removed his real estate brokerage and agency business to new and spacious offices on 7th avenue, northeast corner of 127th street, where he will be reachable at all times, particularly in the evening, ready to accommodate those whose callings require them to keep late hours.

Among the new corporations recently organized are the following: The Manhattan Real Estate and Building Association of New York City; capital, $25,000, and directors, Thomas L. Reynolds, William B. Brownell and T. J. Hayden, of New York City.

The New York Home and Improvement Company, to deal in vacant and improved property in New York City; capital, $50,000. Directors: Israel N. Levy, Samuel Levy, Morris Abrahams, B. Ullman, and Louis Abrahams, of New York City.

The Gould Roofing Company, of Long Island City; capital, $200,000. Directors: Charles M. Gould, William J. Gould and George A. Gould, of Bridgeport, Conn.; William E. Burroughs, Harry C. Burbank, George M. Flanders and James W. Taft, of Brooklyn.

The Standard Improvement Company, to deal in real estate in New Rochelle; capital, $2,500. Directors: William W. White, Conrad Breuchen, Charles A. Siener and others, of New Rochelle.

Real Estate Market.

The market is again an ordinary summer one, with more rumors than sales its feature. When transactions are few the gossipers quite naturally fall to discussing sales that should have been made, and others that would surely be closed were it not that one of the principals is out of town. Rumors have even been plentiful of purchases, ranging in consideration from $100,000 up to a million or more. In no case, however, has it been possible to verify the alleged important sales.

On one day only during this week did the auction room present evidence of life. Tuesday's sale by Richard V. Harnett & Co. of the Casino leasehold attracted a crowd composed principally of people who seldom, if ever before, entered the Broadway salesroom. On the same day an East 34th street tenement caused some lively bidding, and was finally knocked down to Judge J. M. Fitzsimmons, who bought for Justice John Courtney, of Brooklyn. Two adjournments sine die of properties under foreclosure were announced, No. 49 West 35th street, by B. L. Kennelly, on Tuesday, and property on Gerard avenue, east of Ella street, by William Kennelly on Friday.

Smyth & Ryan will sell, on Friday next, August 10th, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, by order of the Supreme Court, in foreclosure, the new three-story and basement brownstone dwelling containing all the modern conveniences and finely decorated, No. 310 West 102d street, near Riverside Drive, one of the finest residence sections on the West Side. The auctioneers, at their offices, No. 111 Broadway, will give further particulars.

Real Estate Broker Robert Auld is having the finishing touches put to four handsome three-story and basement Middlesex brownstone private dwellings on the south side of 78th street, just west of Amsterdam avenue. They are each 18.9x55, with 12x14 extensions, lots, 100.8. The trim throughout the houses is of hardwood and the plumbing of the open exposed pattern. They will be ready for occupancy by September 1st.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Under date of August 2d, C. C. Shayne writes as follows to the Real Estate Exchange in reference to a recent sale on 42d street, a correct report of which appeared in last week's "Gossip of the Week?"

"A false and misleading report, apparently emanating from the Real Estate Exchange and published in the newspapers, states that I purchased Nos. 120 and 122 West 42d street, two 12½x100-foot lots, for $100,000. The first report appeared in the World on July 25th and the World corrected the false report the next day. Another report appeared in last evening's papers stating that I had purchased the property the day before for $100,000, from a Pine street broker, mentioning the gentleman's name. I again denounce the report as being absolutely false, and it is certainly misleading. Such dishonorable methods of doing business should be denounced by the Real Estate Exchange. Honorable real estate dealers and agents should be protected. Merchants names ought not to be used in this manner and I shall not permit these sharks to use my name to aid them in their contemptible attempt to deceive the public, and I ask you in the name of Justice to publicly announce the report false. I own No. 124 West 42d street and have a long lease on No. 126, and this is all the property I want on the street until times improve—unless property should be offered at very much lower prices than is being asked for it at present."

John N. Golding, the broker mentioned in the above communication, admits having sold the property to an investor other than Mr. Shayne, for about $90,000.

L. J. Phillips & Co. have sold for Mrs. Sophia C. Minton No. 60 Stone street, running through to and including No. 97 Pearl street, a four-story business structure, on lot 31.8x73.8x31.11x73.7. The purchaser is George Ehret for between $55,000 and $60,000. Mr. Ehret is the owner of the property north of his latest purchase extending to Hanover square. The same firm is reported to have sold a parcel in the Dry-Goods District for $175,000, no details of which are at present obtainable. Their recent sale of the southeast corner of West and Liberty streets was made to L. Wolfe, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and indisputable evidence has been submitted that the price agreed upon is $161,000.

The sale reported last week in THE RECORD AND GUIDE of the Hotel Metropole property to John Jacob Astor has created a great deal of talk. It having been asserted that the report was untrue no trouble has been spared by THE RECORD AND GUIDE to secure an authoritative verification or denial of the sale. Neither has been obtained notwithstanding that interviews have been had with many persons who have usually been considered the best informed about transactions in which the Astor estates were involved. The brokerage firm mentioned has refused to give any information whatever. The source from which the particulars contained in the report were gleaned has heretofore invariably proved trustworthy and there is as yet no reason to doubt that it will prove equally reliable in this instance.

Henry Brash writes as follows, from Richfield Springs, in reference to a sale reported a day or two ago of his property Nos. 116 and 118 West 12d street: "I beg to say that I have not sold nor attempted to sell the property mentioned."

Definite news has been received regarding plans for the improvement of the former New York Hotel site on Broadway, from Washington to Waverley place, and partly fronting on Mercer street. Randolph Guggenheimer, the present owner of the property, has arranged with the Mutual Life Insurance Company for a loan of $800,000 on the land, and $1,000,000 additional to be applied to the erection of a ten-story building to contain lofts, offices and stores.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

David Stewart has sold for Peter J. McCoy the five-story tenement, No. 10 West 136th street, on lot 25x99.11, for about $22,600, and for William S. Anderson two lots, 25x100 each, on the west side of Amsterdam avenue, 25 feet north of 139th street.

The double flat, No. 6 East 132d street, reported purchased last week by Charles M. Koplik for $28,000, has been resold at an advance of $1,000 to Joseph H. Barrett, of Jersey City.

The three-story stone front dwelling, No. 255 West 88th street, lot 18x102.2, has been traded by Samuel F. Adams for the three-story stone front dwelling, No. 647 Degraw street, Brooklyn, lot 16.8x100, owned by Edward Hatch.

The five-story stone front flats, Nos. 330 to 338 West 59th street, 19 and 29 each x100.5, plot 125x100.5, have been exchanged by Mrs. Rosina Vollhart for a four-story residence on West 72d street. In addition to the latter property Mrs. Vollhart will receive a second mortgage for $30,000 on the flats.

The plot Nos. 226 to 230 East 85th street, 75x102.2, on which is standing an antiquated church of little value, has been purchased by the Congregation of the Sons of Israel, for $29,000. The low price is due to the presence of rock on the property which would cost not less than $5,000 to remove in the event of its being required for a building site.

Henry Morganthau has sold No. 520 West 182d street, a three-story frame dwelling, on lot 17x79, between 10th and Audubon avenues, to Horace Moran, for $6,250.

In the exchange negotiated last week by L. J. Phillips & Co., of the easterly block front, 200x30, on Columbus avenue, between 86th and 87th streets, owned by Ludwig Bros, and on which are two modern five-story apartment houses, for Andrews Soher's lots on 116th and 117th streets; the value of the first-mentioned property is put at about $250,000, and that of the vacant lots at $100,000.

In connection with the sale of the "Washington," reported last week, the figures are $350,000, of which amount $160,000 is in mortgage now on the property, $140,000 in Lakewood property taken in exchange, and $50,000 cash. The seller is H. M. Denton.

F. Zittel has sold for Elliott Zborowski the plot, 50x102.2, on the south side of 87th street, 50 feet east of Columbus avenue. The lots will be utilized by the buyer as a site for private dwellings.

L. J. Adams has sold for Joseph H. King to Alexander Johnson No. 39 West 99th street, a lot, 25x100.11, with two-story frame dwelling on rear.

Gouon & Macdonald have sold for the estate of W. Tuttle, of Chicago, Nos. 103, 113 and 123 East 111th street, three three-story stone front dwellings, each 18.9x60x100, for about $33,000.

J. Romaine Brown's sale of lots on 125th street, referred to last week, was a cash transaction. He is in no way interested in the purchase of the adjoining tenements, Nos. 440 to 444 West 125th street.

NORTH SIDE.

J. Clarence Davies has sold for John Wintern to Frederick Dolle a lot, 25x164, on the north side of 156th street, 125 feet east of Prospect avenue, for $2,000; also for Chas. Bradley to Jas. Shube a plot, 50x irregular, on north side of Westchester avenue, 200 feet west of 162d street, for $1,500.

The Twenty-third Ward Land Improvement Co. has sold a lot on Home street for $1,350 to Francis McManus, and a lot on Hoe street to James E. Nolan for $1,400.

Out of Town.

NEWARK, N. J.—Brown & Schlesinger have recently sold for George M. Keasbey, trustee, the property, 10 Tichenor street, to Mrs. L. Joseph; for F. Conklin the vacant lot, 120 Clinton avenue, to A. L. Babcock, and for T. W. McNally the frame residence, 35 Fillmore street.

MORTGAGES.

—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency, (C) means not summoned, (F) signifies that the first name is fictitious, and under being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, AUGUST 1, 1894.

Some Suggestions from the Suburbs.

IF there is one season of the year more than another when the denizens of New York and Brooklyn break away from their accustomed routes of daily travel and see and learn a little something of the suburban sections, it is during the summer and fall. That is the general rule—to which there is the inevitable exception. The exception to this rule seems to be furnished by our builders and real estate operators. For it cannot be believed that if our builders were to cast their professional eyes upon some of the new sections in our suburban towns—notably in New Jersey—they would continue to build without adopting the most marked features of the suburban system of property improvement.

To him who is accustomed to live in streets walled in with brownstone and brick, flush up to the building line, with high stoops, endeavoring apparently to encroach even upon the sidewalk, it is a welcome relief to spend a few hours in a suburban town of recent construction, or in a new section of an old town. Their characteristic features are not hidden, indeed they are the most prominent. One overlooks for the instant the absence of the tough element, including the police, from the streets; the rattle and roar of traffic, the shrieking newsboy and the howling fakir—he seems to have left all that at the railroad station, and is most deeply impressed by the quiet beauty of the streets.

If he begins to make comparisons—to analyze the charm, he finds that a few facts account for it all. The houses are detached—centered in plots of from 50 to 100 feet frontage, generally, a condition which is of practical utility, he will say, only in the country, though there are many parts of Brooklyn and New York where the price of land is still low enough to warrant such liberal use of it. Then he will find that the houses are built on terraces of from 2 to 4 feet above the level of the sidewalk, sloping gently toward the street line, where there is a sodded bank, sometimes held up by a low coping on which there is an ornamental iron fence. But of most significance is the fact that the houses set from 20 to 40 feet back from the fence line. Where the plots are small, averaging, say, 50 feet front, they are generally not more than 20 feet back from the fence line, enough to allow of a neatly-ordered and attractive front yard or lawn, a marvel of beauty in comparison with the urban "front area." Finally the observer will note the beautifying effect of a few trees and shrubs scattered over these lawns, and the rows of shade trees that line the roadway on both sides.

Every such fair-minded observer will say to himself after such an inspection: "I do not wonder now that people are turning away from New York and Brooklyn in larger number every year and making their homes amid such delightful surroundings." But he will begin to wonder why it is that the builders and property-owners of the big cities do not adopt, at least in the more practical parts, the ideas of the suburban builders. "Is no part of all this beauty available for our city residence streets," he will ask. And then it will seem to him that much of it is available, without cost, often with considerable saving for grading and excavation, and that the application of it would surely add to the attractiveness of the city streets and increase the value and salable quality of the houses. It might even recur to him that he had somewhere seen a street, as for instance 9th street, in Brooklyn, where some part of the ideas had been employed with manifest advantage, and then he would wish that the building laws, instead of fixing a stoop-line outside the building line, would require that in all purely residence streets the houses should be set at least 20 feet back from the fence line.

If he has any taste in architecture this observer would say that such a regulation would give to our streets the one thing necessary to relieve them from the reproach of monotony and ugliness—a perspective. It makes no difference how fine a facade your house has, if there is no comprehensive point of view it is worse than a skyed painting in an art gallery—it never will be noticed. Suppose, then, that the wide lots and detached construction are impractical in the cities, let that feature pass. Even with houses built in rows, as most of them are in Brooklyn and New York, the rest of the features of these new suburban towns are adaptable to our construction, and wherever generally adopted would transfigure the streets and change the present anxiety of the owner to sell and get away from the city to a well-founded satisfaction with his home.

Give the lots a grade of a foot at least, to begin with, above the sidewalk, and an ascent of another foot to the building line, 20 feet back; make a smooth lawn of this, with perhaps an urn, a tidy shrub or a few rose trees upon it; run a low cement or stone coping along the front and division lines of the lot and put an ornamental iron fence on this; plant a few shade trees, not less than 20 feet apart, between the sidewalk and the curb; finish your walk from the gate to the stoop and basement door (if you must have a high-stoop house) with a neat flagging or cement walk or fine broken stone, and you have done all that is essential for the really vast improvement of your street. Of course, this cannot be done without the co-operation of owners and builders, much as residence sections are now restricted against nuisances—or by special ordinance, but in either event, the matter is in control of the professional builders of New York and Brooklyn. We do not insist that these ideas should be applied to flats or business structures, for it seems to be a dogma of most "practical" flat builders that they must be built as hideous and inconvenient as possible in order to pay. But there seems to be no reason for doubt that residence blocks improved in accordance with these ideas, would possess many charms where now they have few or none, and would have an aesthetic value easily convertible into dollars and sense.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—Most operators claim that the market for Common Hards is getting to be worse and worse every day and they rather seem to prove it. There is certainly no gain in business over last week, and the value line has settled still lower all around, with $4.75 now the very top on cargo rates and some of the trade think that is too high to quote. They say it is only made on a few brands which buyers imagine they must have, but who could save 12½ or possibly 25c. per M if they would shop around and make the discovery that some of the finest brick on the market can be reached at $4.50@4.62½. As a rule the quality is keeping up a very good average, shippers evidently being aware of the additional demoralization they would force by putting any excess of poor stuff upon the market. The sales are said to run along at six, eight or ten loads per day and to leave in accumulation eighteen or twenty loads awaiting custom. The condition of market not unnaturally leads to the query, why is the production continued? Well, it is not always an easy matter to shut off, because terms of leases, labor contracts, etc., have to be met and work must go on to a certain extent. That compels some shipments to secure room and some to secure money, and even though those limits may bind the sum of amounts sent forward they still leave a surplus, as already shown. Many manufacturers, however, express a determination to stop just as soon as they can and there is an idea that very little work will be going on at the end of the month. Pales are scarce on open market, but buyers can obtain what they want at former rates by placing special orders.

LATH.—Without any great change in value the buyers' side of the market has had a little more advantage during the week. There were a little too many lath, and while some receivers, according to their reports, appeared to find custom without any great difficulty there were others less successful even after they cut off the line of valuation somewhat. As near as is possible to gauge up matters at the close, about $1.60@1.65 is the market rate for cargo lots. There is probably quite as much stock about as will be needed.

LIME.—No changes of importance advised, except possibly a little better first hand position for Eastern. The arrivals have been moderate and although demand developed no life the local accumulation worked down some. Additional arrivals of St John product have taken place, with offerings from interior about as before and all finding some attention. No change in value is reported for any grade.

LUMBER.—There is little or no change in the general condition of the local market so far as can be learned. Most operators complain over the condition of trade, but speak of very good orders secured from time to time, and so far as the cheap grades are concerned there is a fair bit of trading going on. One noticeable feature of the situation is the constant changes in views of operators regarding the general outlook, and it is a common experience to find those who may have been ranged against each other, as enthusiastic, or the contrary for a while, completely change their relative positions within a week or even less. Much of the irregularity is due to the exasperating character of legislation at Washington, and the quieting influence thereof upon general business, with many clear headed people in the trade of late inclined to believe that it is now too late to hope for any important renewal of consumption for lumber or other structural material this fall.

Arrivals of spruce from the Eastward have been possibly a little greater than expected, the Maine ports appearing to have sent out more stuff than they were supposed to have ready. Receivers, however, claim to have placed the cargoes coming to hand without serious detriment to previous line of value, and are again commencing to talk about all the stock being accounted for. There is also report of a greater number of buyers angling for attention on special bills, and finding that manufacturers are not only indifferent about closing but will refuse to do so until higher bids are forthcoming. Logs at the Eastward retain full valuation. Virginia and State spruce remain firm in tone, and the latter seems to preserve a demand about equal to the supply.

Hemlock is about steady in price, and finding fair demand, although it is intimated that one or two promising negotiations of late pending have fallen through. It was the fault of buyers who seemed inclined to postpone matters until later in the season. There is no pressure to realize from any source.

Carolina Pine has an unsettled market. There is a very good average demand for the cheaper grades, and, indeed, the offerings of such keep fairly well sold up, but a pressure to get rid of the finer qualities under strong competition is a disturbing factor felt throughout the entire market. Local valuations are under the circumstances more or less nominal.

Yellow Pine flooring, it is said, commands unusually small attention, and is bought only on special orders. Indeed, pretty much the entire business in this class of stuff is upon specials and the market retains old unsatisfactory features.

White Pine of high grade finds only indifferent demand, and there is not much custom for other sorts on local account. Dealers especially are different, and the most likely custom is found among boxmakers. One improvement of late has developed in the export demand. Nothing very liberal, to be sure, but some fair quantities are going to South America, and as these go quite a full amount taken for West Indies. The call was promptly met at former rates.

Hardwoods remain disappointingly dull. Prospects for consumption have not improved and in consequence neither manufacturers of various goods in way of furniture, house trim, etc., feel no incentive to stock up, a condition promptly reflected in the indifference of dealers. There seems to be very good management in the matter of offerings, however, and with no surplus stock pressing for sale prices are sustained upon a steady sort of basis. Export clearances are fair, but quite a proportion of them are on through shipments from the West.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany Argus reports:

There has been the same quiet market during the past week. The first few days a number of pine houses had a fine trade, but afterward business quieted down again. The spruce men report a fair trade, the sales being a little larger than in any week for two months. All the mills on the upper Hudson are shut down. Prices are shaded somewhat.

Canal and lake freights remain unchanged.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

It is evident that there has been a large accumulation of stocks at the white pine mills. The docks in Saginaw Valley are groaning under an unusual load it being estimated that there is about 300,000,000 feet of unsold lumber in that district, though the mills have been run moderately, and some of them have been shut down a portion of the time. At Bay City some of the mill concerns are building extensions to their docks, so as to provide for constant accumulations. This situation has a discouraging effect on manufacturers. In that district delay in tariff legislation is charged with being the cause of the moribund condition of the market, and it is hoped that since the settlement of the matter is apparently near at hand, there will yet be time before the close of the season for a partial recovery toward better conditions.

At Duluth there has lately been almost a stagnation of cargo and car lot sales. Buyers have been few, and it seems almost impossible to convert lumber into money. The usual outlets for Norway bill stuff and piling have been closed, so that demand for that kind of product is especially wanting.

At all Lake Superior points lumber is accumulating, while the market is narrow and purchasers tardy in closing deals. It is apparent that the manufacturers are making heroic effort to hold their lumber against a further decline in value. At Lake Superior and Lake Michigan mills the disposition is to hold on to product and thus prevent it from coming to this or any other market in quantity so large as to cause a glut and further decline. This, of course, cuts off the mill operator from his usual means of getting funds to run his saws and pay current expenses. He is carrying a heavy load, but a large proportion of the pine manufacturers are financially capable of staggering along through the season without giving up. The object now most anxiously sought is to prevent a collapse of prices and an utter demoralization of the market; for it is figured out that lumber is now so low that a further decline would result in actual loss to the operators.

In respect to small bill stuff, or piece stuff as it is called west of Saginaw and the Huron shore, the condition is fairly good, for there seems to be a lack of an ordinary supply. But the demand for Norway timber is meager and sales are made with difficulty, while it is hard to maintain prices. Owing to a limited and hesitating demand for inch lumber in the East upper lake manufacturers have not sold as much lumber for shipment down the lakes as in any of recent years.

At Chicago the market has not yet recovered from the stunning blow of the late Debs insurrection, but the inquiry is reviving a little, and such cargoes as are being received are worked off at about quoted figures. The commission men are endeavoring to graduate receipts to the demand, and seem to be succeeding. The manufacturers know that it would be useless to ship anything here in excess of demand. In respect to piece stuff there appears to be scarcely as large a supply as could be sold. The demand for small timber is dull, and such lumber is a drag on a cargo of ordinary dimensions. Hemlock is also neglected. Good strips and stock with board sell whenever a yard dealer has sufficient dock room to take in a load, but piece stuff is mostly asked for.

During the strike the 22d street dealers kept mostly out of the market, and the north branch yards absorbed the major part of the offerings. It is probable that some concession in price or terms was made during that period, but it is claimed that values giggered back to the old figures within a short time. Piece stuff is still quoted at $9.25 for short lengths. Long stuff and timbers have shrunk a little in value since June, as has hemlock. Good inch stock holds up fairly well.

Lake rates are at bottom figures, with an extreme lack of demand for charters.

Prices for poplar lumber are certainly not so weak as they were a month or two ago, but demand has not improved to any extent. The firmer feeling is due to a growing scarcity of dry stock and the further fact that a large proportion of the visible supply is now in strong hands. Conditions have not improved as had been hoped after the middle of the year, but mill hands are still confident that the fall months will develop a better trade, and are therefore not crowding their lumber onto the market.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

The marvelous low rate of $1.50 a thousand feet is being made from Duluth to Buffalo by water, a distance of over fifteen hundred miles. When it is considered that this is less than the seven cent rate that prevails on lumber from Duluth to Minneapolis or the Minnesota Transfer, a distance of 150 miles, the low rate can be better realized. With the prices that now prevail, eastern buyers have no cause for complaint about not getting lumber cheap enough. The market at the lakes appears to be picking up lately, however, according to our correspondent, and a number of sales have recently been made at a price but half a dollar less than a year ago, last spring's prices.

The condition of the furniture factories of the country this season has an important bearing on the hardwood lumber trade. In nearly every furniture manufacturing city furniture factories are running on reduced time and force if not shut down. What does this mean? It means that less hardwood is being consumed in the manufacture of furniture, and consequently the hardwood trade is quiet and will be until there is a let up in the pressure and people will buy more furniture. Furniture manufacturers report that their principal demand this season is for the cheaper grades of furniture, and this brings oak and ash into better demand. It is also noticed this season that of the expensive woods, mahogany is again coming into favor. Its cost is slowly decreasing from year to year, and its durability and "staying" qualities are so well known that they need not be mentioned. White birch is also coming around into favor for cabinet woods, it making a very good resemblance to cherry. But until times get better mahogany will not have very much of a run. Of course there is a class that always buys the best or nothing, and these still want expensive pieces. But they are not in the majority, and the manufacturers of furniture are now catering to the trade that buys cheaper grades of furniture than heretofore.

The dry weather has made the water lower in the rivers and streams than has been noted for several years, and drives in some instances are hung up, and trouble is being experienced at the sorting works in getting logs down to the mills. There are enough logs within reach in the upper Mississippi so that no delay will be caused by low water in this stream, especially as the government dams will be open in a few days to relieve matters.

METALS—COPPER.—Ingot has been fairly sustained in value through the scantiness and moderate character of the offerings, the companies evidently making a determined effort to keep the market free from an oppressive supply. Demand, however, was slow, both home traders and exporters having only ordinary wants to attend to and speculators finding nothing to stimulate a movement. On the average range of valuation we quote at 9c. @ 9.15c. for Lake and 8½c. @ 8¾c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper remains quiet, beyond the natural average demand from regular outlets. Supplies generally appear sufficient to meet all calls promptly, but there is no surplus and previous valuation continues current. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do, 14 to 16 oz., 15c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 16c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 17c.; do, 8 to 10 oz., 20c.; do, under 8 oz., 22c. Sheets longer than 72 inches 14c. for 12½ to 16 oz., 19c. for 10½ to 12 oz., and 23c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do, 14 to 16 oz., 16c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 18c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 22c.; do, 8 to 10 oz., 25c. Sheets longer than 96 inches 14c. for over 32 oz., 15c. for 16 to 32 oz., 23c. 14 to 16 oz.; 19c. 12 to 14 oz.; 23c. for 10 to 12 oz., and 27c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 48x96, 32 to 61 oz., 14c.; do, 16 to 32 oz., 16c.; do, 14 to 16 oz., 18c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 20c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 24c. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 14½ to 17c. for 32 to 61 oz., 19 to 26c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 21 to 24c. for 14 to 16 oz., and 26 to 28c. for 12 to 14 oz. Bolt copper, ¾ inch diameter and over, 14c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do, 4c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1½ to 2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 18 to 24c. per lb. Brass—American Pig does not encounter any improvement in the general demand. For some of the better goods there has been a slight increase in the number of orders placed, mostly for delivery within a couple of months, but most of the trading is of the ordinary perfunctory character, and the market as a whole runs dull. Foreign goods get no attention to speak of. We quote at $12.00@13.00 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $11.00@12.00 for No. 2 X do., and $10.00@11.00 for Gray Forge; Scotch pig iron, $19.50@22. Old material undergoes no change of importance. Now and then buyers seem interested and hopes are entertained of some pretty good-sized sales, but business rarely gets beyond jobbing parcels. About old general valuation is made. We quote at $11.00@11.15 for old iron rails; $10.00@10.75 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $9.00@10.50 for cast scrap; $10.00@11.00 for old car wheels, and $6.50@9.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron has only an uncertain and at the moment a narrow demand. For current consumption provision was made some time ago and the goods are being delivered as wanted, but efforts to open up new deals are few and far between, and there seems to be greater doubt regarding fall consumption than heretofore. Values are too low for additional shedding so long as sellers do not seek to force the market. The following quotations are made f. o. b. at Pittsburgh: Angles, 1.25@1.30c.; tees, 1.40@1.50c.; beams and channels, 1.30@1.35c.; base; sheared bridge plates, steel, 1.25c.; Universal mill plates, steel, 1.25c.; iron, 1.35c.; refined bars, 1.35c. base. Steel rails have not attracted the attention hoped for, but no special comment is made upon that fact. Manufacturers are so accustomed to a sort of small and peddling trade they have ceased grumbling over business conditions and philosophically await a turn for better. We quote standard sections $24@25 per ton at mill, with usual advances for delivery at tide water. Pig lead has been doing very well again. At the advance in cost speculation appears to feel a greater measure of caution so far as additional investments are concerned, but endeavor to support former deals, which in conjunction with very good trade demand and moderate offerings make quite a steady market. We quote at 35c. @ 36.5c. per lb. The manufactures of lead are quoted at 5½c. for Pipe, 6c. for Sheet, 15c. for tin-lined Pipe, and 37½c. for Block Tin Pig. Tin during most of the interval since last report has rather favored buyers. Holders kept stocks so fairly well in hand as to prevent pressure, but demand was slow, and custom only be reached by shading the value line. We quote at about 18½@18¾c. for round lots, and 19@19½c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plate finds only a slow and spiritless demand, and it is a stupid sort of market throughout. Open offerings are moderate, but could be increased if wanted, and pretty much former rates rule all around. We quote as follows: L. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $6.00 @ 6.15; Charcoal, Melyn grade, crosses, $7.75; L. C. Charcoal, Allaway grade, $5.35@5.40; Allaway grade, crosses, $6.45; Charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $7.25@7.30; M. F. grade, 20x28, $11.50@11.55; Worcester, 14x20, $5.70@5.75; Worcester, 20x28, $11.00@11.05; Allyn grade, 14x20, $5.15@5.20; Allyn grade, 20x28, $10.00@10.25; D. R. D. grade, 14x20, $1.90@5.00; D. R. D. grade, 20x28, $9.70@9.75; I. C. Coke, Penlan grade, $5.00@5.05; J. B. grade, 14x20, $5.15@5.20; I. C. Bessemer steel, squares, $5.30@5.35; I. C. Siemens steel, squares, $5.45@— basis. Spelter finds simply ordinary demand, and there is an absence of really new WHETHER stimulated or not by an anticipation of an end to tariff discussion, business continues to improve in nearly all the great lines. Jobbers report a sustained improvement in demand. Manufacturers of woolen and other goods in the same lines are in receipt of a satisfactory number of duplicate orders. Stocks of pig iron are decreasing, notwithstanding that the furnaces are increasing their output. These facts are important and encouraging, especially as they are accompanied by evidence that retailers have not yet departed from their policy of limiting orders to actual needs. So far there are no signs of stocking up, consequently the improvement in demand represents the wants of the consumer almost entirely. In the stock market the securities of the old Richmond Terminal and of the Southern Railroad, which is to take its place, are the features, and will continue to be so as long as general conditions are favorable to an advance. Crop news continues to affect the grain market and the grain-carrying roads. No doubt serious damage has been done all round; this should be felt most in the prices for grain, as it is a question whether the advance in those prices will not operate to offset a large part of the losses in freights that the shorter crop will entail on the railroads. So far people who have gone short of the Grangers on crop news in the past week have not made much money even on paper, and as the short interest is estimated to be very large any attempt at covering should put up quotations considerably. Wall Street interprets recent tariff developments to mean the failure of the Wilson Bill, but while that might be the best thing that could occur at the moment, it must not be forgotten how the administration came out of the silver muddle at a time when it looked to outsiders as if total repeal was impossible and compromise the wisest course. The offer of free sugar from the Senate conferees has about it such an appearance of desperate bluff that it gives ground for the suspicion that they feel their position growing contenable.

COREA, or Korea as the Bureau of Statistics chooses to spell it, does not do a very large trade with the United States, according to the report of that bureau. Her exports to us in the year ended June 30, 1893, were valued at $79; the previous year she had sent us $608 worth of goods, all free of duty. She is not specially reported as taking anything from us, consequently all we send is probably missionaries. Indirectly we probably do some trading in Corea, through China and Japan, but our commercial interest in the country is very small. The unpleasantness that has broken out between China and Japan over this peninsula is regarded as likely to bring the contesting nations into the European markets as borrowers of money and purchasers of supplies, and in that way help to relieve the stagnation in business. Neither Japan nor China has any foreign debt to speak of. The former's outstanding external loans amount to only $3,000,000 and the latter's to $5,000,000. The English investor is counting the cost of investments in American breweries, where indeed the losses have been very heavy, but it is wrong to put all the blame for this on Americans, because the market here gave good indications that the properties were not what they were represented to be, and the deceits that were practised were mostly devised by the company mongers within call of Threadneedle street. It is probable that the exception favoring cotton goods from the general import duty in India will be soon removed. The 5 per cent duty on all cotton imported will not only help the Indian treasury, but also the manufacturers of cotton goods there. Berlin and Vienna have both seen more activity on their bourses as a result of improving conditions, though there is very little new in that direction that can be specifically mentioned outside of the understanding that the Austrian government has acquired all the gold it needs to carry out the reform of the currency. The people of Austria-Hungary seem to have the same ridiculous objection to the use of silver on account of its weight as our own people have, and a movement is on foot looking to the retention of part of the small bills. Money is plentiful everywhere, and the prediction is renewed by European financial journals that gold should come this way soon. The proposed new Western Australian loan of $7,250,000 brings out the fact that that province has a debt of over $200 per capita, which will be increased about $100 a head if the new loan is negotiated. What this means will be better understood when it is stated that the debt of Great Britain is only about $90 per head of population. The heat of the foreign holders of Greek bonds is explained by the report that Premier 'Tricoupis' plan of settlement with them is to scale down interest nearly 70 per cent to make a sinking fund out of which to compulsorily retire the bonds themselves.

A Danger Point in Real Estate Operations.

THERE is a point in our system of real estate operations that is insufficiently guarded. Four or five cases have come under our observation recently in which serious loss has been incurred because the parties interested failed to accurately locate the property. In some cases surveyors were employed and in others the property was taken by mere oral designation. The case which was reported in December last, in Bradhurst avenue, where a woman bought, or supposed she was buying, an unfinished flat, and learned to her dismay after she had finished it that the property actually conveyed to her was a vacant lot near by, is still fresh in everybody's recollection.

A year or so ago, in a board meeting of a corporation which makes loans on real estate security, one of the directors remarked that it would be an easy matter for a designing person to swindle all such corporations through this unguarded point. The same corporation has just been made the victim of just such an operation. A building loan was made to a woman who had recently purchased a lot at auction. She supposed she had purchased lot No. 47, and made her application for a loan accordingly. The deed she received was for lot No. 49 and the conveyancer for the corporation made the mortgage accordingly. The woman, all unwittingly, had her builders put up the two houses on lot No. 47, and the appraisers for the association, also unwittingly, certified to the progress of the work and gave certificates for payments on the loan until all was paid and the houses completed. Then the real owner of lot No. 47 made himself known, and, having the advantage of the woman and the corporation, made them pay him a fancy price for his lot.

In this case the mistake was clearly without design. But in the same manner it would have been quite possible for the owner of two or more lots to borrow money for building purposes on one of them, and to put up his building on one of the others, thus leaving the corporation with a vacant lot as security for its loan. These cases would be more difficult of accomplishment in a densely-populated section than they would in the suburbs, where there is land enough to juggle with. But even in the most densely built-up sections there is room for expensive mistakes, as has just been demonstrated in New York.

A firm of building operators, of considerable experience in such operations, some time ago began the construction of a large building in the dry-goods district, in New York City. They engaged a surveyor, one of the foremost of the profession, to "survey" the plot, giving him the legal description, as contained in the deed. In time they received from him a diagram and the plans for the building were drawn and the contracts for the construction given out. The mason obtained from the surveyor an oral designation of the corners of the plot. Thus far the story is undisputed, but at this point an issue of fact is raised by the surveyor and builder. It appears that on the southeast corner of the plot there stood a tall fragment of a party and rear wall, forming an angle. The mason avers that the surveyor designated with his finger the inner, plastered angle of this fragment of wall as the corner of the plot on which he was to build, and he went ahead accordingly. The surveyor avers that he told the builder that this inner angle was eight inches north of the southeast corner of the plot. But the diagram of the plot furnished by the surveyor did not show the fragment of wall in existence, and it will be generally maintained, we believe, that it should have shown it. However, the rear walls of the building were found to be eight inches too far to the north, and encroaching that much upon the lot adjoining on the north. Fortunately the mistake was discovered before the walls had risen much above the main floor. The mason is now engaged in tearing down the north wall preliminary to its reconstruction, and extending the south wall to cover the gore, which tapers from eight inches in width at the rear down to nothing at the front of the lot. The question of responsibility for this mistake in this case is an interesting one—but too complicated for discussion here. It will doubtless remain an issue to be determined at the conclusion of the job.

Inquiry among the larger loaning institutions and title companies elicits the information that cases of encroachment upon adjoining property are quite common, but only to the extent of fractions of an inch, or at the most a little over an inch. Instances of larger encroachment are of far less frequent occurrence. But there are sections of New York City and Brooklyn where the monuments have shifted, and there is a sharply drawn difference of opinion among the surveyors as to what are the proper legal lines of many valuable properties.

All these facts lead logically to the inquiry: What can be done to prevent this class of mistakes, and what is the proper remedy for them where they occur? It has been suggested from time to time that official boards of surveyors ought to be constituted by law, to have supervision of the street and highway monuments and surveys, within their respective jurisdictions, and to make surveys for private owners when called upon to do so. But it is argued, in opposition, that such a board would be no more responsible for the errors of its members and subordinates than are the surveyors of to-day. It would, however, give organization to a present disorganized element in our municipal system, and would probably weed out of the profession those who are incompetent. If surveyors were required to give bonds to insure the accuracy of their work perhaps there would be more care exercised in their work. But, after all, it is not the surveyors who are most often at fault in cases of the character described. Indeed, they are more likely to be technically correct in all their work. It is in building to the survey that the mistakes occur, and here, it would seem, is the point that needs strengthening—the point at which the remedy for such mistakes should be applied.

In the first place, it will be universally agreed that no one should buy a piece of property or lend money upon it until it has been surveyed by a competent and responsible surveyor. The surveyor should be given the description of the property as it is in the deed or mortgage. This is generally done, and he runs a dangerous chance who does not require it. But almost always the surveyor's connection with the transaction stops right here, and this is where the opportunities for fraud and mistake come in. Now if, in case of a sale, after the deed was made ready for delivery, it were handed to the surveyor and he, accompanied by the buyer or his representative, should visit the property and the surveyor should identify the property and indorse his identification upon the deed, certifying that the buildings were all within the lot or plot boundaries and did not encroach upon adjoining property, there would be no room for such mistakes as occurred in the Bradhurst avenue case.

If, furthermore, in cases of building-loans on vacant property the surveyors were required to take the mortgage description of the property after the building had been begun and to make a supplementary survey of it before any of the payments had been made, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the buildings were going up in the right place and were not encroaching upon the adjoining property, there would be no room for such mistakes as the two last mentioned. The greater part of the surveyor's work is done upon his original survey, and this supplementary survey, after the building has been begun, would be in the nature of a verification of his former work from the notes in hand. The expense should be trifling, relative to the value of the assurance of accuracy it would provide.

As to our friends the builders, we advise them to never begin the construction of a building until they have received from the surveyor a designation of the lot boundaries by actual stationary monuments—an iron rod firmly implanted on each corner and angle of the lot would be sufficient—and until that survey and designation is seen and accepted by the owner. If in the two last cases specified the surveyor had planted his proper monuments on the properties the mistakes would probably not have occurred. It would seem that an act requiring them to stake the corners and angles of all properties surveyed by them, with iron rods or stakes painted in some striking color, would be a long step towards security in such cases, and could not reasonably be opposed.

As a result of the Atchison exposure, probably some action will be taken to secure the proper auditing of railroad accounts. Congress may devise a measure for examining the books of railroad companies now under Federal supervision by means of experts specially selected and appointed for the work, but that will not be sufficient. The Federal government has no control over a very large mileage that is operated within particular States, and the system to be effective and give confidence to investors must cover all. The English system of auditors appointed directly by the stockholders is insufficient, probably because the officers so appointed are not far enough removed from the influence of the managers of the companies whose accounts they are required to check. What is wanted is a system like that employed in the banks, where the examiners are responsible to the State or national authorities alone and have the power to take control of the books of the corporation at any moment and immediately to suspend or stop any practice that they decide is injurious to the people who have put their money into the care of managers. In a very large majority of the cases of the railroads it is the bondholders and not the stockholders who have the greatest interest in obtaining clean statements of accounts, and these are not consulted in the appointment of the officers of the company, not even in the selection of the trustee who is supposed to directly represent and protect them. The holders of the mortgage debt can, therefore, only obtain adequate protection, by either securing a voice in the management of the corporation or the intervention of the government in their behalf. The reasons which justify a government expert's walking into a bank and looking over its books apply with equal force to a railroad or any other corporation for that matter, because the injury that is done through misrepresentation of a bank's condition is not greater, indeed very often much less, than is done to the security-holders of a railroad corporation and to commerce generally by fraudulent statements of that corporation's condition. This assertion finds ample support in the direct and indirect damage that is apparent to-day as a result of the cooking of railroad accounts.

Iron and Steel in High Buildings.

No one will be surprised to learn that the high building generally and the question of the durability of the metal structure in them continue to be actively discussed among architects, engineers and builders. While the high building is generally condemned from the artistic point of view, there is considerable difference in regard to the durability of the metal and at the same time a great hesitation on the part of those who doubt its ability to sustain the building for a very long period of time to express themselves openly. Those who take the opposite and affirmative view, however, have been quite ready to express their opinions regarding the respective merits of cast-iron and wrought work, upon which the following are some important opinions:

Mr. F. C. Moore, President Continental Insurance Co.: "I am decidedly in favor of cast-iron for all vertical supports of a building, columns, etc., for the reason that cast-iron, as is well known, will not rust beyond the thickness of a knife-blade, after which, for some reason unknown, the process of oxidation stops and the metal seems to be secure from further invasion. Wrought iron, on the contrary (and possibly steel—although as to the rusting of the latter experts know little or nothing), is liable to complete consumption by rust, which is hastened if the iron is in the form of riveted construction—what is known as Z-iron columns or Phoenix columns. The rivets themselves are especially liable to destruction by rust if of steel. Inasmuch as all iron used in construction should be covered with some non-conducting material to protect it from fire, and inasmuch as, being covered up, the progress of rust cannot be detected, the use of wrought iron, especially in the riveted form, is objectionable. I was present on one occasion at a conference of experts in iron manufacture, engineers and others, and not one person in the room differed from the above views. An iron factor of great experience who was present had brought with him the friction brake of a freight hoist which had been used in the basement of a building, and which he crumbled easily to rust and dust in his hands, showing the effect of dampness and rust upon wrought iron and illustrating the danger of its use. The mere fact that experts do not know whether steel will rust to the point of danger or not is a sufficient argument against its use, until tested, in buildings carried to great heights. I have laid stress upon the use of cast-iron for vertical supports. It, of course, cannot be used for beams; but there is not so much danger from rust in beams, as the giving away of one or two beams would not produce a catastrophe such as would result from the yielding of a column. I am glad to see that THE RECORD AND GUIDE is giving so much attention to this subject, for I regard with apprehension the possible outcome to buildings carried hundreds of feet into the air and depending for their stability on riveted iron columns which are certainly growing weaker year by year, and which may result in ultimate collapse of the building, if not stripped from time to time and examined in advance of a catastrophe.

"One of the strongest arguments in favor of the use of wrought iron and steel in manufacture as against the objection of the danger of rust has been the fact that the Government has employed both wrought iron and steel in the construction of cruisers. It was lately found, however, that the United States cruiser Charleston was in bad condition owing to the rusting of the keel bolts or rivets, which have become eaten away to a depth varying from an eighth to a half inch directly amidships. It is only the paint frequently used in vessels that preserves the iron-work; but iron-work in buildings, covered up with masonry, cement, plaster, terra cotta or otherwise, cannot be painted from time to time, as it ought to be. The effect of cement upon wrought iron was lately illustrated in the case of the discovery by Mr. Wilson, of the Survey Department of the Boston Board of Underwriters, of a badly corroded gas pipe which had been imbedded in Portland cement."

Mr. A. J. Campbell: "I consider it a mooted question yet, that is the sufficiency of the quantities. Architects and engineers have ignored one fact, not universally—there are a few exceptions among the architects—but almost so. That fact is that cast-iron is very much superior to wrought iron or steel as against the insidiousness of rust. What I mean particularly about that is that in the rolled work there are seams, grain interstices I call them, imperceptible to the naked eye with the skin of the rolls upon them, but susceptible to atmospherie action. There are mountains of proof of that fact. The difference with cast-iron is that if it rusts, it rusts entirely on the surface, unless it should contain a fracture or a blow-hole, or something of that kind. I consider that for bearing purposes, columns, posts, etc., to carry loads, cast-iron is very superior, and that is borne out by all the honest tables that ever were made. The bearing capacity of an equal area of cast-iron is double that of wrought iron. As conditions differ so will results differ. Where the architects have been imprudent enough to put comparatively light wrought iron or steel in the bottoms of buildings inclined to dampness, the tax upon it will be the greatest and we do not know yet what will be the result in such cases. Only time can tell that, but to a practical mind there is doubt about its efficacy."

Mr. Wm. H. Hume: "I have carefully read the various opinions you have published and wish to go on record as preferring riveted steel. I favor riveted steel construction, first, because in the built-up columns there is opportunity for inspection of the several parts before and while they are being put together, which is of course impossible in the case of cast-iron columns. An inspection can only be as perfect as the circumstances will admit and the lessening of the opportunities therefor makes more probable the passing of defects no matter how carefully the examination is made. My next objection is that in the case of cast-iron construction where bolts are used it is necessarily to an extent a rather loose construction; further, where the plates are put together there is danger of fracture of the parts, which if overlooked would weaken the structure. In the case of steel construction there is not only opportunity to inspect the plates before they are put together, but with the riveted work practically one girder is made from base to top, on the principle, to give an illustration, of a railroad girder placed on end. As to the one point that has been made in favor of cast-iron, its superiority in resisting corrosion, I would call attention to the fact that we are yet without sufficient data to form an accurate judgment as to the life of iron, but I believe that if the metal is properly coated, as it should be, before being encased in the inclosing walls that are built around the metal structure, there should be no trouble from that cause. Particularly in the present style of building with cement work, if the walls are thoroughly well built, I see very little chance for penetration of moisture. With proper coating I think there is very little danger to be apprehended from corrosion. The material around the column ought, of course, to be kept perfectly dry with cement coating. With that one objection to steel in the matter of corrosion, answered, it becomes simply a question of rigidity and I think there is no doubt but what the riveted construction is much more substantial in every way than the looser form employed in bolting cast-iron columns together. The employment of cast-iron is attended with some dangers that we all understand and, in railroad bridges, has been followed by disastrous results. No modern engineer would now think of employing such a material in such a structure and the same objections should hold to its use in our tall modern buildings as in a railroad bridge. For these reasons I therefore favor the use of steel in building to a great height."

One well-known engineer, who declined to take part publicly in the discussion, recommended that the iron be washed with pure lime to preserve it from the danger of rust, he holding that lime is a better preservative than either paint or asphaltum. The belief in the preserving qualities of lime seems to be founded upon the condition of iron, in the form of anchors found in very old European walls, but it must be remembered that too much stress can easily be put upon that fact because the iron so found was probably charcoal iron in the first place, and one in whose manufacture labor had been lavishly employed. Consequently it was a much purer iron than that turned out by the superficial and hasty processes of to-day.

Mr. Wm. Shickel declined to talk on the subject, but as the Constable building on the corner of 5th avenue and 18th street, of which he is the architect, has cast-iron uprights in all but two or three top stories, his preference of material may be surmised.

Restrictions in a New Light.

DECISION IN THE CASE OF THE FOURTH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH AGAINST STEINER.

In the amicable proceeding brought by the Fourth Presbyterian Church society against David Steiner to enforce a contract of purchase of the church property, the Supreme Court, General Term, has decided against the society. The case was an agreed one, in which certain restrictions upon the character of the improvements set forth in the covenants made in 1865 are admitted, but in which it was jointly set forth that by reason of radical changes in the character of the whole neighborhood the restrictions had lost their value and had become instead a positive injury to the property, wherefore the court was asked to declare the covenants inoperative, and that the defendant be required to complete his contract of purchase. It will be remembered that this is the property which Steiner is reported to have sold to a syndicate in which Neil Burgess was the principal factor, and which proposed to build a theatre and office and studio building on the location. Judge Follett, in rendering the decision, in which Justices O'Brien and Parker concurred, filed the following opinion:

"Assuming that the statements contained in the submission are true, and that all of the facts relevant to the question submitted are contained therein, it is clear that the case falls within the principle laid down in the class of cases of which the Trustees of Columbia College vs. Thatcher (87 N. Y., 311) is a type, and that the performance of the covenants would not be enforced or their violation restrained by a Court of equity; nevertheless, the damages sustained by the violation of the covenants might be recovered at law by the owners of the adjoining lots to which this negative easement created by the covenant has attached. We assume from the submission, though it is not expressly stated, that there are many lots to which the easement is attached. In case an action should be brought by a lot owner to restrain the violation of the covenant and recover damages for its violation, and the facts should be found as stated in the submission and no others, equitable relief would be refused and the damages awarded would be nominal. However, whoever owns the lot in question will be exposed to actions by the owners of the adjacent lots either for the purpose of enforcing the performance of the covenants restraining their violation or for damages. This is not the kind of title that a purchaser under this contract is entitled to receive. It is suggested that there be deducted from the contract price $2,000 per lot, and that the vendor be compelled to convey on those terms. The covenant, while it liquidates the damages as between Mrs. Ayerig, her heirs and representatives and the owner of the lot in question, does not assume to liquidate the damages which may be sustained by the owners of neighboring lots who are entitled to the benefit of the covenant. The covenants contained in the deed constitute such an incumbrance upon the title that the defendant should not be compelled to perform his contract, and is entitled to recover the sum which he has paid on the contract, with interest.

"A judgment should be entered accordingly in his favor and against the plaintiff with costs."

It is said the case will be taken to the Court of Appeals on appeal by the church society. In thus holding, contrary to the wishes of the litigants, that because of the rights of third parties, owners of adjoining properties covered by the same covenants, the restrictions could not be thus arbitrarily done away with, the court has presented the whole question of restrictions in a new and interesting light. Perhaps if the adjoining owners had been impleaded the decision might have been different.

Gems of Small Houses.

Builder Wm. Broadbelt is finishing three three-story dwellings on a plot of two lots on 113th street, between 7th and 8th avenues. The houses are of new and unique design of the American basement order and are well worthy of inspection by persons looking for small houses. They contain many features that will no doubt lead to their early sale. Mr. Broadbelt calls them "Boudoir Houses," having arranged handsome and attractive boudoirs on the second floor, adjoining the bath-rooms. The latter are tastefully floored and wainscoted with tile. The trim throughout is of oak and white maple, the mantels and fireplaces are well chosen, the rooms are all bright and cheerful, and there is a plentiful supply of closets. The third floor contains five sleeping rooms, including servants' room, also a second bath-room. The houses are numbered 235, 237 and 239. Mr. Broadbelt is improving the westerly block front on St. Nicholas avenue, between 148th and 149th streets, by the erection of some ten houses of new and attractive design, which will be completed early next year.

New Buildings Nearing Completion.

August Jacob, the well-known cornice maker and roofer, is erecting ten five-story double flats on the northeast corner of Columbus avenue and 126th street. The material used is buff brick with stone trimmings; five are already inclosed and will be ready for occupancy about the middle of October; the others will be finished before the holidays. Builder Francis J. Schnugg has commenced the erection of seven double flats on 126th street on lots adjoining those improved by Mr. Jacob.

Correspondence.

THE PRESIDENT'S COURSE INDORSED.

At a meeting of the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange, held at the Exchange on Tuesday, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, Since our last meeting the business of the country has been much disturbed in the North and Northwest by strikes in the railroad interests, which in the States of Indiana, Illinois and California resulted in riot and bloodshed, as well as doing great damage to property and disorganizing nearly all business affairs in the whole country, and

"Whereas, Such misfortunes are always brought on us (as is particularly so in this case) by ambitious demagogues seeking notoriety, and always resulting to the detriment of the well-intentioned and best elements of society, and

"Whereas, In our judgment all such movements, as well as all agitators who are responsible for them, should be discouraged and condemned, and

"Whereas, The suppression of this latest uprising of riotous persons was accomplished by the 'protecting arm of the National Government,' now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this Exchange, in meeting this day assembled, representing as we do the large and important interest of the building industry of this Empire City, that we commend our President of these United States for the prompt manner in which he took in hand and suppressed the insurrection that threatened the good and welfare of our whole country, and be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be prepared and signed by the officers of this Exchange, with our seal affixed thereto, and forwarded to our Chief Executive, at Washington, D. C."

(Signed) Isaac A. Hopper, president; John Bryns, vice-president; Edmond A. Vaughan, treasurer; Elliott Smith, secretary.

A School of Experience.

Architects J. B. McElfratrik & Sons and Owner F. J. Schnugg have had an experience with the Building Department in the matter of the 58th street theatre they are about to build for F. F. Proctor. The original plans provided for exits through subterranean galleries, but this was found inconsistent with the provision of the building law, which calls for exterior exits, open to the sky. To obviate this difficulty Mr. Schnugg purchased an adjoining strip 10 feet wide, and the architect changed the plans to provide a general exit on this side. Then the Department found that a large hall under the main auditorium, occupying almost the entire basement, and designated as a restaurant on the plans, was fitted with a stage, and would probably be used as a variety show or concert hall. Exits from this hall were made to open into the exterior passageway at the side of the building. Commissioner Brady objected to this, and the matter went before the Board of Examiners. Upon their suggestion the plans were again changed, so as to provide independent outlets from the basement hall direct to the street, without in any way communicating with the entrances or exits to the main auditorium, and in that form the plans were approved, and the construction of the building has begun. Almost every day architects are encountering features of construction, for which there is no clear provision in the building law, and which require the adjudication of the Board of Examiners, as in this case.

Personals.

Nathan Kempner is sojourning for the summer at the United States Hotel, Long Branch, with his family, Mr. Kempner coming to town daily.

Frank Drischler, of Hofer & Drischler, architects, will go to the Adirondacks for two weeks.

J. Clarence Davies has gone to Martha's Vineyard for a fortnight's outing.

Broker Thomas P. Payne and family are spending a few days at the Grand Union Hotel, Saratoga.

Wm. R. Ware, of Ware & Gibbs, returned from Europe a few days ago after about five weeks' absence.

F. J. Sause is living at Bay Shore, L. I., for the summer, coming to town nearly every day.

Trade Notes.

Gustav Franke has one of the best-equipped shops in the city for the manufacture of fine cabinet and interior woodwork and bank and office partitions, and his work is to be found in some of the handsomest banking offices and residences throughout the city. Mr. Franke is now engaged on getting out a quantity of fine woodwork for a number of costly West Side houses. He also does spiral, twist, rope and wood turning for the trade. Mr. Franke's address is Nos. 30 and 32 South 5th avenue.

The Excelsior Sliding Blind, manufactured by Louis Bossert, is constantly growing in favor owing to the manifold advantages it possesses. Architects who specify the Excelsior Blind find it always gives satisfaction, and prominent builders in New York, Brooklyn and the surrounding country speak volumes in their praise by repeatedly calling for the "Excelsior Blinds," patented and manufactured by Mr. Bossert. The latter, it should be added, is one of the best-known dealers in sashes, doors, stairs, store fronts, etc., besides being a manufacturer of blinds, mouldings, brackets, newels, laths, joists, roofing skylights, etc. Mr. Bossert's office is at Nos. 6 and 8 Union avenue, Brooklyn. His mill is at Nos. 18 to 31 Johnson avenue, and planing mill and timber yard at Newtown Creek and Grand street.

Real Estate Market.

The reports of brokers' sales this week deal exclusively with ordinary parcels. The aggregate investment involved is small but not unusually so for a week in August. Rumors of large transactions are still rife and some of them are known to have foundation in fact. That these larger sales are not included in the summary of the week is due to the average investor's dislike of publicity or his fear of being made the objective point of attack by other brokers who always have something similar to offer in the immediate neighborhood of nearly every purchase of importance. The general market cannot be said to be otherwise than promising. Brokers of prominence state that they have of late been consulted by numerous would-be buyers who stand ready to invest in any improved property fairly well located that can give assurance of a reasonable return for the money expended. Owners on the other hand are not desirous of selling. They almost invariably refuse to entertain offers on the plea that business conditions are such as to preclude the possibility of profitable investment other than in real estate. The majority of the brokers express the belief that bottom prices have been reached, and it may be said in a general way that their confidence in the future seems greater at present than it has been for months.

The auction market continues uninteresting, plaintiffs meeting with hardly any competition when offering bids at the legal sales which now monopolize the attention of auctioneers and the habits of the salesroom. Yesterday James L. Wells officiated at the only sale of the week that aroused the interest of the buying public. No less than six bidders competed at the foreclosure sale of the northeast corner of Division and Eldridge streets, and the property was finally knocked down at what was considered its full value. Preliminary to the sale the plaintiff's attorney made a weak objection to the terms as read, apparently with the intention of discouraging intending bidders. He was very properly ignored by the referee who ordered the sale to proceed in accordance with the auctioneer's announcement. On Tuesday a foreclosure sale of the southeast corner of 2d avenue and 19th street was adjourned and will be readvertised for some date next month. William Kennedy yesterday adjourned the foreclosure sale of Nos. 196 to 412 East 104th street to September 6, and Smyth & Ryan the similar sale of No. 310 West 102d street to Wednesday next.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

George De Forest Barton has closed a sale of a down-town parcel involving a consideration of about $310,000. By request of one of the principals the broker, while acknowledging the sale, has declined to give any particulars. Title is expected to pass on Tuesday.

E. A. Cruikshank & Co. who have sole charge of the Worth House and adjoining property on Broadway and 25th street, state that the report of its sale published yesterday is untrue. The property has been on the market for a year or two, but thus far there have been no negotiations looking to an actual sale.

Phipps & Easton have purchased for W. S. Lawson from Charles E. O'Hara, No. 45 West 47th street, a four-story stone front dwelling, on lot 25x100.5 (Columbia College leasehold), for about $32,000. Mr. Lawson, it will be remembered, recently sold a valuable country place at Portchester through the same brokers.

Tim & Co. have sold for Fannie Asheim to W. D. Lauritz, No. 343 West 55th street, a three-story stone front dwelling, 20x57x100.5, and for the Ranney estate to J. Sears, No. 227 West 34th street, a four-story English basement stone front dwelling, 16.8x55x98.9.

The sale mentioned last week as having been made by L. J. Phillips & Co. in the Dry-goods District was that of the six-story building, Nos. 18 and 20 West 4th street, 50x91x100, for Samuel Hirsch for about $175,000. The property was last sold about three years ago, when the present seller paid $166,750 for it.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

M. Bargebuhr & Son have sold for F. A. Snow No. 147 West 100th street, a five-story tenement, on lot 25x100.11, to a Mrs. Wetzler for $27,500, and No. 7 West 118th street, a five-story stone front flat, 27.3x86x100.11, for a Mr. Todd to a Mrs. Ebs for $26,000.

D. H. Senly has sold for William E. Seitz to Theodore Lobsenz No. 227 East 119th street, north side, 300 east of 3d avenue, a two-story brick dwelling, on lot 20x100.10.

Otto Pullich has sold a vacant plot, 81.7x65x74x97, on the southeast corner of Kingsbridge road and 215th street, for William H. Ramsey to Gustav Busch, and for Katharina Rock to Charles Berls, No. 485 Amsterdam avenue, a five-story buff brick tenement with stores, 25x78x100, east side, 75 feet north of 83d street.

Lewis Z. Bach has traded the four-story stone front dwelling, No. 10 West 82d street, south side, 157 west of Central Park West, lot 18x100, for property on the East Side. The house is one of two taken in trade in June, 1893, by Mr. Bach and Thomas J. McLaughlin.

L. Froehlich has sold for Heilner & Wolf No. 71 East 90th street, a three-story stone front dwelling, on lot 19x100, for about $22,000.

Arthur R. Parsons has negotiated a trade for Gunn & Grant, the builders, of the two five-story brick and stone apartment houses, Nos. 107 and 109 West 84th street, 40x90x102.2 each, which will be taken at a valuation of $165,000, by Mrs. Julia A. Bunn, who gives in part payment the country seat at Shrewsbury, N. J., known as "Meadow Brook," and valued at $60,000.

The four-story stone front dwelling, No. 138 West 77th street, 19x55x102.2, has been sold by D. A. Wessell to J. S. McGrath.

Henry Morganthan has sold to Laura A. McClatchey, No. 524 West 182d street, a three-story frame dwelling, on lot 17x70, between 10th and Audubon avenues, for $6,250.

William H. Hoyt & Co. have sold No. 214 West 61st street, a five-story brick tenement on full lot, for John Stewart for $20,500, and for James O'Brien No. 217 West 130th street, a three-story dwelling on lot 20.6x99.11, for about $20,000.

Louis Smadheck and E. G. Bach have sold the plot, 44.6x100.11, on the south side of 124th street, 180.6 east of 3d avenue, to Frederick B. Cole for improvement. The lots were bought at partition sale in the spring for $14,700, and have been sold at an advance in that figure.

A trade reported yesterday and Thursday in some of the daily papers by which Mrs. Annie F. Dieter, of Brooklyn, was to exchange the St. Albans apartment house, Nos. 349 and 351 West 58th street, for New York and Brooklyn properties will not be consummated, owing to some dissatisfaction on the part of the principals who had signed a contract to become the owners of the St. Albans.

The conveyance on Wednesday of four vacant lots on the south side of 88th street, 102.2 east of 5th avenue, by builder Frederick Correll to Benjamin I. H. Trask, has caused a revival of the rumor that the buyer is acting for a syndicate possessed of unlimited capital to invest in lots east of Central Park. THE RECORD AND GUIDE long since investigated the rumor and found there was no truth in it. Mr. Trask's backer is a well-known capitalist, whose wealth is greater than that of the most pretensions of syndicates, and he has wisely decided to invest some of his surplus cash in up-town realty.

It is reported that Tim & Co. have closed the sale of a large apartment house on the 7th avenue boulevard, near 125th street.

NORTH SIDE.

M. Barnett & Co. have sold for V. Everett Macy No. 700 East 137th street, a five-story brick tenement, to Antonio Angenino for $16,500, and made a resale of same at a slight advance to Ella Sica.

The Twenty-third Ward Land Improvement Co. has sold lot 39 on Hoe street for $1,200, and lots 6 and 7 on Southern Boulevard for $4,500.

LEASES.

Frothingham & Timpson have leased No. 143 East 23d street, a four-story English basement dwelling, 20.6x98.9, to Mrs. Waring, for a term of three years.

Tim & Co. have made the following leases: The four-story dwelling, No. 69 West 48th street, to Oscar Clark Miller, for three years, from September 1st, at $2,100; the similar residence, No. 64 West 47th street, to John G. Breen, for five years, from same date, at $2,600; the four-story dwelling, No. 316 West 34th street and the three-story house, No. 56 West 12th street, both for three years, from the first of next month, the former at $1,500 and the latter at $1,300 per annum.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, AUGUST 11, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

Notice is given that the Common Council has declared by resolution its intention to grade and pave Dean street, from Utica to Rochester avenue, with second-hand Belgian pavement; also, to open Pma street, from Dresden to Crescent street. Objections must be filed with the Clerk of the Common Council, on or before the 10th day of September.

Notice is given that the assessment rolls in the following entitled matters have been completed and placed in the hands of the Collector of Taxes and Assessments for collection: Grading and paving 43d street, from 2d to 3d avenue; grading and paving Butler street, from 3d to 4th avenue.

Notice is given that the assessment for the cost of constructing a sewer in Map O, District 37, Hansman street, between Nassau and Meeker avenues, has been completed by the Commissioner of City Works. The said Commissioner will be at his office, room 15, Municipal Building, on the 16th day of August, at 11 A. M., to hear objections to said assessment.

Austin Corbin, President of the Long Island Railroad, is said to have completed plans by which South Ferry, at the foot of Atlantic avenue, will be made the terminus of his road. At present the company enjoys such privileges as it has on Atlantic avenue as a lessee of the Atlantic Avenue Railroad Company. Mr. Corbin's plan is alleged to include the purchase of the franchise it now leases, paying for the same in bonds of the company he represents, a sum that will net the Atlantic avenue corporation $60,000 a year, the present rental. It is claimed that within two weeks the necessary legal papers will have been signed. When that is accomplished steps will be taken which will ultimately result in the Flatbush avenue station being removed to the ferry, and a four-track depressed road being built from East New York to the new terminus.

The Atlantic Avenue Railway Co. and the Nassau Electric Railway Co. have entered into an agreement whereby the former is authorized to extend its tracks through 5th avenue, from 36th street, the present terminus, to the old city line, at 65th street, with a privilege of the use of the latter's tracks through 39th street to the ferry at the foot of that street. Doubtless the Atlantic Avenue Company will continue its line through to Fort Hamilton as soon as the avenue shall be opened. Work has already been begun on the 5th avenue extension. This will open up to more easy access and doubtless to more rapid settlement one of the finest sections of Brooklyn. Fifth avenue along here skirts the hill pretty well up towards the top, that extends from Prospect Park to Fort Hamilton, and the view from property along the line takes in Staten Island, the Upper Bay, the New Jersey region clear to the Orange Mountains and Palisades, and the greater parts of New York City and Brooklyn. Property is very cheap throughout this section—20x100 feet lots selling for from $750 to $1,500—and there is a good deal of home building going on. According to the returns of the tax assessors, property advanced in value more in this section last year than in any other ward in the city.

President Swanstrom, of the Board of Education, has appointed Messrs. Weir, NeNamee, Davis, Butterick and Robertson as a special committee, called for by a resolution of Mr. Weir at the meeting of the Board on Tuesday, to ascertain those sections of the city where new public schools are most needed. The Board has $250,000 appropriated by the Legislature to spend for this purpose.

PROPOSALS FOR CITY WORK.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of City Works until Friday, August 17th, at 12 M., for grading and paving 45th street, from 5th to 6th avenue, with cobblestone pavement; also for grading and paving 45th street, from 5th to 6th avenue, with Belgian block pavement, and for grading and paving Kuickerbocker avenue, from Myrtle avenue to Palmetto street, with granite blocks.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of City Works until Wednesday, August 15th, at 12 M., for grading and paving McDonough street, from Saratoga avenue to Broadway.

Proposals are invited for additional water supply for the City of Brooklyn of a minimum of 25,000,000 gallons daily, to be obtained from pumping stations between Rockville Centre and Massapequa, on the line and south of the existing conduit. Proposals in accord with the specifications will be received at the Department of City Works, until Wednesday, August 15th, at 12 M.

On application of William De Witt, Justice Gaynor, of the Supreme Court, has granted a writ of certiorari for a review of the assessment on property owned by Edward H. Litchfield, the Brooklyn Investment Company and others in the 22d Ward. The property was assessed at $1,156,830 and in 1893 at but $877,800.

Brooklyn Real Estate.

BROOKLYN REALTY ADVANCING IN VALUE—IN THE EYES OF THE TAX GATHERERS.

Following are the comparative figures of the assessed valuation of real and personal estate in Brooklyn for the current year and 1893. EMINENT DOMAIN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I inclose copy of the bill referred to in the annexed clipping from a recent issue. The real question is: Would lenders of money on mortgage consider this bill as a cloud on improvements. If, after reading the bill, you can add anything to your reply, will you kindly do so.

Answer.—The question referred to above is entitled "Eminent Domain," and was answered in the issue of THE RECORD AND GUIDE of July 14th.

The bill as passed, which you inclose, is peremptory and positively directs the taking of the land mentioned in it. Therefore, if your land is included, you make improvements at your own risk.—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please answer this: A party, friend of this office, referred us to a friend of theirs, A, to buy a house. We called on A, and he agreed to call on us to look at some property to buy. We took him to seven different places. On the first call, time two hours; the second call our clerk took him out to some; the third call one of the firm took his wife and himself to the same places; time two hours. When leaving that evening said he would bring out a friend; and what he thought best to buy he would take. We supposed a carpenter. The buyer did come out with his friend, a broker unknown to us, and selected one of these places, and finding the owner's name, B, in the yard went to him and bought the house for $300 less than the price given by us and not saying anything to us as the brokers in the matter. After finding what had been done three days later, we notified B that we were the brokers, and that we wanted our commission, and also gave our bill to the other broker before the deeds passed. We were entirely left out. Our clerk is a witness, the lady that sent us to him, and a tenant on the second floor of the house that was bought let us in on the first call, and the buyer said he would testify that we were the brokers that introduced the property to him. Yet he did not do right in allowing his broker to do business in such a way. When they were out the fourth time his friend said it was not necessary to stop in, so the other broker got the commission after all our trouble and yet we were the brokers that introduced the property. We did not introduce the buyer to the owner because he had not selected the house yet, but we did intend to offer less than price given when he was ready. These people got the information through our office. Now, who is entitled to the commission, and can we collect commission from the buyer for doing business in such a way?

Answer.—You cannot collect two commissions. If B employed you to sell the house we think you are entitled to your commission from him notwithstanding he paid a commission to the other broker. On the other hand, if B did not employ you to sell the house, and A employed you to find him a house, then we think you are entitled to a commission from him, A.—LAW EDITOR.

- MORTGAGES.
NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.
Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—We encounter the same disagreeable run of reports that have characterized the line of information on this market for a long time, and while affairs may not be any worse than last week they are certainly no better. Up at the depot there is a good-sized fleet of barges on hand every day, and down on 'Change are the commission men and brokers trying to sell the stock, but they do not bother the telephone people greatly by calling the offices to give account of loads sold. As previously advised the demand, such as it is, comes almost entirely from contractors calculating their wants from day to day upon work in hand, and if any dealer is collecting stock he has not let the fact become known. In matter of price we use about former figures for quotations, all the principal receivers admitting $1.50 a 4.62 1/2 to be full high enough, and if anyone pays more it is because they are willing to submit to a premium for sake of controlling some pet make. There is hardly a doubt that the bulk of cargo business is done at $1.50 down. Report is made of some increase in poorer qualities, washed brick commencing to show up, and the sales have to be made quite low. For pales there has been some increase in the direct demand, and sellers were very willing to meet it on former basis, although the stock has to be ordered forward as a rule, manufacturers risking no open shipments.

GLASS.—There is very little news on market for window glass. Business has been dull, unexpectedly so on all outlets, and shows no present evidences of revival, and more or less complaint may be heard from operators generally. Slight irregularities of value have developed, but mainly in the factory rates, as jobbers are unwilling to give way to any noteworthy extent, and some will not admit weakening at all. In plate glass there is not much doing, and values stand much the same as for some time past.

LATH.—More or less irregularity has again been shown, but the reports seem to indicate that sellers have regained a little advantage. Nothing has been named as sold for less than $1.65 of late and $1.75 is advised on recent transactions. Additional arrivals have taken place, some of them pretty large cargoes, and in view of the surplus of receipts over last season already at hand it is a little surprising how well the market sustains itself.

LIME.—For Rockland grades there is a continued steady market at former rates, with some sharpness in the demand for lump, of which the proportion in supply is quite small. Stock of all kinds, however, is small and diminishing, as there were no recent arrivals of importance. Further receipts from St. John have come along and it finds custom both local and out of town on a steady basis. The State and Western lines enter into trade at fair proportion, and receivers do not find it necessary to grant any easier line of valuations to secure custom.

LUMBER.—It is hardly worth while printing a lumber market just now. Business fails to develop much life and the changes in price are so few and unimportant that practically no information of a new or interesting character can be given from week to week. If anything dealings have been on a more restricted scale since our last, and it is noticeable that many operators speak somewhat less confidently over the outlook for balance of season. They seem to think that should the tariff fight be settled before frost many lines of business will be benefited, but have an idea that so far as building operations are concerned they cannot become sufficiently progressive to give lumber a chance until spring, and that, in consequence, the quantity of stuff taken to put into yard will be of no great importance and confined mainly to cheap grades.

White Pine is not much wanted for any local line of consumption, even a great many of the boxmakers who have hitherto stuck to it pretty well now showing an inclination to handle something cheaper. There is, however, a continued measure of attention from exporters who thus offer holders of shipping grades an opportunity to work off some of their pretty full accumulation of stock. Fresh offerings from the interior are moderate, but dealers intimate they have had some tenders at easier rates, supplemented by offers to make extra allowance should duty come off.

Yellow Pine remains dull and unsatisfactory, and there is even fewer calls for specials than heretofore. Prices are too uncertain to warrant an attempt at quotations, but buyers retain just as much advantage as ever, and might increase it if they gave more liberal orders.

Hemlock has moderate and somewhat uncertain sale, two or three apparently promising negotiation of a week or so ago having fallen through. Local custom wants no stock of importance and the outside run of trade appearing to feel very well satisfied. Offerings seem to be very well managed, and there is no surplus offering, while about former rates are asked.

Carolina Pine is weak and unsettled on the upper grades, the recent cut on price having failed to attract demand of satisfactory volume, and sellers still finding it necessary to allow favors to secure custom. For low qualities, however, the outlet is fair, a few cargoes selling along from time to time, giving business some character, and on these grades there is quite a steady tone to values.

Spruce seems to show pretty much former general conditions. The State product is offered moderately and taken up easily to the supply, with no difficulty experienced in obtaining about former rates. Virginia stock a trifle slow, but its control excellent and the market steady. Eastern stuff has sold as it came along but there was quite enough of it to satisfy the market and prices made no gain. Receivers in some cases are complaining of the smaller number of special bills tendered for estimate. Advertisers from the east report the mills doing very little and anxious for custom, but compelled to stand for full figures to balance the cost of logs. According to a recent letter from St. Johns, N. B., the Surveyor-General has published a warning that the following timber regulation will be rigidly enforced: "No spruce or pine trees shall be cut by any licensee under any license, not even for piling, which will not make a log at least 18 feet long and 10 inches at the small end; and if any such shall be cut the lumber shall be liable to double stumpage and the license be forfeited." This applies to all government timber lands.

Hardwoods are the worst of the lot. Some popular can at times be placed and there is a small ragged demand for odd parcels of other standard grades of stock, but no business of thoroughly satisfactory character and values are nominal for wholesale parcels all along the line. Still, on the other hand, there seems to be no supply pressing for sale and agents express an opinion that the fall will pass without the burden of surplus stocks. The mills are working as lightly as possible.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany Argus says:

Houses dealing in pine lumber report a fair week's trade. There were more buyers about, more selling was done, and the orders came larger. The better feeling continued right through the week. There was no change in prices or in freights. There are no new features in the market for spruce, a very fair movement being reported.

THE EAST.

A letter from Bangor says:

There is very little trade in logs. One very nice lot of spruce logs sold for $10 a thousand. The quantity of lumber saw d and shipped is as small as ever. Those who shut down their saw mills weeks ago are working off their randoms as fast as possible, but considerable of it remains on the docks. The prospect of improvement in the trade entertained by the manufacturers months ago does not come, and apparently will not this season.

Shipments of long lumber from Bangor, by rail, increase, as so many want only a car load, which with the hemlock and box boards gives some heavy trains of lumber out of Bangor.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

The cargo trade at Saginaw and Bay City continues to be remarkable for its dullness, and there are no apparent symptoms of immediate revival. Shipments by both water and rail are very light. Stocks are rapidly accumulating and many of the mills have difficulty in providing sufficient piling space. Manufacturers continue to hope for better things, but the general feeling is that the revival, when it comes, will be slow in making itself felt. The car trade is spasmodic and spotted.

Reports from Manistee are that business at that port is beginning to regain its normal volume. One of the largest fleets of the season was loaded there the first of the week, and several of the inspectors have had to put on extra men, an unusual occurrence at this season. As a result of recent heavy shipments, stocks on the docks have been materially reduced, but prices continue low. Improvement is also noted at Lake Superior points.

At Chicago a brisker demand is noted on the cargo market, all arrivals going off readily, and there is active inquiry for cargoes to arrive. The wiping out of 50,000,000 feet of lumber by fire is not likely to have any effect upon the cargo market, as the dealers concerned have considerable lumber already brought across the lake. A few extra cargoes may be taken as soon as piling ground can be assured, to bridge over temporary requirements, but the demand will not be increased enough to materially affect prices.

Piece stuff is not coming forward any too rapidly, but sufficient is arriving to supply the immediate wants. Hemlock is dragging, with little prospect of improvement. Good strips stock and width boards are quick sale at quotations, and good inch is, if anything, firmer than it was a week ago.

Yard stocks in this city are generally well assorted, although not by any means heavy as compared with former years. Receipts for the season are something over 200,000,000 feet short of what they were for the same period a year ago, and this goes a long way toward covering the shortage in sales and shipments. With an average trade this fall there is no danger of a big surplus being carried over in the local yards this winter.

While an actual scarcity does not exist in anything usually carried by the pine yards, there is the customary shortage of such items as 12-inch 20-foot boards, 2x4's 10 and 12-foot, 2x12's 12-foot, etc., and on these items prices are perhaps a trifle stronger, although as a whole values are practically unchanged.

Conditions of the poplar market remain practically unchanged. There is a stronger feeling, as a result of the comparative scarcity of dry stock, but demand continues so light that there has as yet been no material advance in prices. Mill men are not crowding the market. Logs are scarce, and many of the mills are shut down for an indefinite period, and the general disposition is to hold lumber in pile until values rule higher.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Several crews have lately gone into the woods in the Menominee river district, Wisconsin and Michigan for the purpose of cutting and sawing the pine recently burned over by forest fires. There has been less summer logging this year than last season, owing to the slackness of the lumber market. It is predicted that next winter's logging operations will be restricted for the same reason, though forest fires may necessitate the cutting of more than was intended.

The low water in the Mississippi River is causing lots of trouble. The boom company is experiencing difficulty in getting its logs down, while steamers below St Paul find it a hard matter to get over the sand bars, where the bottom of the river has risen above the water. When Maj. Jones begins to let the water out of the dams up above, at the headwaters of the Mississippi, it is to be hoped that the situation will be improved. This is being done already and the effect will be noticed here in a few days.

The past week has been an eventful one in the white pine territory of the northwest. It has been a week of great drought throughout the agricultural districts, relieved here and there by copious showers. It has also been a week of great forest fires that have raged throughout the pine timber sections of northern Wisconsin, destroying more timber than is cut by lumbermen annually, while several large mill plants, together with perhaps 150 million feet of manufactured lumber, both in Wisconsin and in Minneapolis, has been laid in ashes. One might conclude that the loss of this amount of lumber would have an effect on the market, but the white pine lumber industry is too extensive to be influenced by a decrease in the stock on hand by 150 million feet. The loss to property and life has been large, but late reports from the burned regions state that the worst is over and that rains in some parts are helping matters.

Trade throughout the white pine territory shows but little sign of improvement, yet it is not getting any worse, and as fall approaches a more brisk demand is being hoped for and expected.

CANADA.

A letter recently written from Ottawa, Ont., says:

The amount of lumber shipped to the United States from the Ottawa district during the quarter ending June 30, was $160,584.57. The drive along the Ottawa River has been eminently successful this year. On very few of the smaller streams are logs blocked, the heavy rains of last month having the effect of raising several creeks and freeing the logs which might otherwise have been unable to reach the Ottawa. All the mills which depend for their supply on the Ottawa River have had a successful season thus far for cutting. It looks very much as if the square timber business was going to pieces. Only a few years ago there used to be rafts on the river from the time navigation opened until the approach of winter.

The lumber shipping business on the Ottawa River continues exceedingly dull. There are no very bright prospects of any material change this summer, and it is feared that this season's shipping will be even poorer than last year. It is said that a number of the barges on the Ottawa will shortly go into winter quarters.

A St. John River lumberman thinks the year's cut is 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 less than in ordinary years. Speaking of the markets he says American cut logs are worth no more than provincial, though in ordinary years they are worth $2 a thousand more. While a provincial man can get $9 for his deals, an American operator cannot get the cost of his logs. The difference is, of course, due to the American market collapse, while the British market has been steady.

NAILS.—From some quarters the demand has been a trifle better but in the same old form, and nothing is shown in the increase except the necessity for a portion of dependent custom to replenish supplies against ordinary trade wants. Although production is kept very well in hand the offerings of stock are quite equal to the outlet and about former rates accepted. We quote Cut at $1.00 @ 1.10 per keg for car lots and $1.15 @ 1.25 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel. Wire, $1.00 @ 1.15 for car lots, and $1.25 @ 1.35 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—A noticeable feature of the market is the contradictory statements in regard to conditions of trade. As there are some dealers, however, claiming a fuller run of orders than a week ago, it is fair to place a gain to credit of the market. Country trade is commencing to replenish supplies to some extent, and it is calculated will furnish a growing demand from this time on until all regular lines of custom are heard from, although there is nothing upon which to base hopes of a liberal movement. The position of sellers is generally found favorable to sharing all the courtesies that can reasonably be expected when buyers put in an appearance, and now and then there is an exception that goes a little further and takes an extra cut at prices as a bait for orders. As a whole the market is nominally steady. For leads, "corroders" quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 6½c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 5.94c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 5½c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c., and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case), add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corrodoring point. Linseed Oil appears to hold fairly steady. Demand is not at all times supporting, but production and stocks are well managed, and sellers find themselves at no disadvantage. We quote at 50 @ 52c. for Western, 53 @ 54c. for City from domestic seed and 54 @ 55c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine has slightly favored buyers, but without showing radical change, the moderate supply of desirable goods helping support values. We quote at 29 @ 30c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Business fluctuates somewhat but does not reach any important volume, and altogether the market is dull and unsatisfactory. Prices remain more or less nominal, but favors would have to be shown buyers to increase the volume of trading. We quote Tar at $1.85 @ 1.90 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.50 @ 2.55 in pork bbls., and $3.50 @ 3.55 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50 @ 1.70.

NATURALLY there has been a great deal of talk about the revival of business because of the passage of the Gorman Tariff Bill in place of the Wilson Bill, deceased. As a matter of fact, the revival may be said to have begun some time ago, with business based on the probable new tariff and merchants and manufacturers hoping that the McKinley Act might, for all said and done, still remain in force. What is seen now is a little extra spurt, due to the good feeling evinced on the close of a discussion with which the community has been bored and bothered off and on for nearly a year. The satisfaction, however, is wholly on the end having come to all this annoyance for a long time to come, even should the President take the highly improbable course of vetoing the measure just accepted with such ill grace by the House. One striking fact in the situation is the maintenance of the protective principle in our laws, in spite of the party pledged to free trade having numerical control of both Houses of Congress and its candidate in the White House. The coming elections will certainly not strengthen the free trade element so that it is safe to affirm that there will be no lowering of duties in a general way for many years to come. The administration, however, comes in for no share of the kindly feeling that is animating the public at the moment. On the contrary they take up Walt Whitman and sing: "I will make a song for the ears of the President, full of weapons with menacing points, and behind [the weapons] countless dissatisfied faces." While general business and the security market have both made response to the agreement at Washington, that of the former shows most sign of staying. In Wall Street realizing about offsets the new buying, a condition of things that usually indicates a reaction. But as securities reflect in the main the commercial and trading conditions it is safe to say that any reaction will afford an opportunity which intending buyers should not fail to avail themselves of, not forgetting, of course, that discrimination is always necessary in stock and bond purchases.

LONDON bankers have cut the minimum rate of interest on deposits from one to a half per cent, and while this may be necessary in view of the condition of the banks, it also cannot fail to awaken capitalists to the fact that there is something else to do with their money besides keeping it on deposit at the banks and getting an insignificant return for it. All the foreign security markets have become more active, especially those at Berlin and Vienna, and as first-class investments have for a long time been out of sight, buyers are turning their attention to other issues, American as well as European. Naturally Europe regards the reductions made in the tariff with favor, and in the good nature thus aroused, and the belief that trade on this side of the Atlantic must now improve with more rapid strides, is willing to buy our securities. Victoria, Australia, which has large silver interests, is proceeding with its land loan scheme in spite of the warning set by the Argentina and is putting forward bimetallic theories with remarkable naivete, claiming that her ability to pay in silver would relieve her of a large part of her obligations to England. Evidently Victoria wants to be avoided by lenders in future. According to mail advices the Indian jute crop promises to be better than that of 1892; if nothing untoward occurs the exportations for 1894-95 will equal those of 1893-94. The condition of the United States Treasury is being carefully watched from abroad. If it is not improved either as a result of tariff settlement or by some act of the Secretary of the Treasury to increase the gold reserve the confidence of foreigners in the coming of our new prosperity will be short-lived. Now that China and Japan are actually in the market for money and supplies and the prospect of the struggle between them being prolonged is increased, silver and silver issues are coming into favor on the foreign markets.

WE are in a time when the work of the statistical departments of the government is looked for most anxiously, and this makes more satisfactory the prompt issue of the trade statement for July. Previous reference has been made to the delay in issuing the Interstate Commerce Commission reports until the time had gone by when they could be of use to the active business man, however interesting they might prove to the speculative political economist or the student of railroad statistics. Similarly, there has been good reason to complain of the delay in issuing the reports of our foreign commerce, by the Treasury Department, though there is no reason to believe it was due to either want of ability in that department or the absence of appreciation of the importance of giving them to the commercial world as soon as possible. The fault most probably lay with Congress, whose members appear to be alive only to the moves in the game of the parties and cannot, therefore, know the importance of having the country properly informed of the proportions of its trade from time to time. The promptness with which reports of their transactions are made by the great trading associations of the country is conclusive evidence of the value of all facts and figures having a bearing on trade and commerce and contrast in a striking manner with the dilatoriness of the government. Another contrast, not at all to our credit, was found in European countries, where the issuance of every kind of report of this nature with every manner of useful detail is deemed of first importance. The bare report of imports and exports for June was sent out by the Treasury Department about three weeks after the London papers had been received here, containing elaborate summaries of similar figures, though in much more detail, of the foreign commerce of Great Britain for the same month and also for the half year. Consequently the British returns were issued fully a month ahead of our own. Congress ought to look to this matter, and at least keep us on an equality with other countries; a little judicious extravagance would pay in this instance.

IF a carpenter were to put a table together in the way the ordinary foreign correspondent fixes up his news, the legs would stick out at the sides and the sides themselves form a rim on the top. This suspicion of the newspaper man's clumsiness is raising doubts about the great Yellow Jacket story of the Chinese Viceroy, Li Hung Chang. The latest version of the story is that the great Viceroy was never deprived of his symbolic wrapper at all, but that finding the weather warm and the work heavy he laid it aside so as to be more at his ease, unmindful of the fact that the excitement of the times made newspaper correspondents more numerous and vigilant than usual. One of these, it is said, spying the celestial Richelieu working in the sleeves of the Chinese substitute for a shirt, immediately jumped to the conclusion that he had been deprived of his official garment by the Emperor, and accordingly made all this unnecessary bother about a very natural and harmless incident. In fact, as later reports run, so far from curtailing his Viceroy's wardrobe in any way whatever, the Emperor has added to it as a testimony of his regard and affection for the wearer a bullet-proof coat to protect him from enemies within and from without the Empire.

JAPAN and China at war with each other and employing Western tactics, arms of precision, ironclads and the other most modern and terrible results of scientific thought directed to production of engines of destruction is a picture that may well startle the Western powers and give them food for earnest thought. However the present conflict may end, either with honors easy, Japan triumphant at sea and China victorious on land, or one compelled to submission to the other, the war cannot fail to bring out latent powers and qualities that neither nation was supposed to possess before. Hitherto the wars of these countries have been carried on with bows and arrows and such like mediæval weapons. The use of improved arms cannot fail to show them how much of the power of the West depends upon these. There will probably be a new East hereafter, with Japan inaccessible to the invader, developing into a formidable sea power, having a large seaboard for the training of sailors and harbors for shelter and the building of docks and ships, and China becoming conscious of the advantages she possesses in her immense territory and a dense population from which may be drawn inexhaustible supplies of troops whose effectiveness will be many times increased by the modern arms. It may be that hereafter the West will not have so easy a task as it has hitherto had in enforcing its wishes on peoples of the Orient, because they will no longer be sunk in ancient traditions or reliant on means of defense that have satisfied them for hundreds of years. The gun which opened the war between Japan and China may have given the signal for the awakening of the long dormant East.

The Constitutional Convention.

ALBANY, August 16.—The Constitutional Convention has not been able to come to an agreement upon the "Home Rule for Cities Amendment to the Constitution." This week, after enduring a severe attack at the hands of both Republicans and Democrats, the Committee on Cities withdrew the amendment for repairs, and have since been endeavoring to prepare a more acceptable article. President Choate and Elihu Root, the two Republican leaders of the Convention, have been called in by the Committee on Cities to aid with their counsel, and it is expected that they will prepare some compromise measure.

The Cities Amendment as it stands contains too little "home rule" for the Democrats and too much for many Republicans. It frees from legislative interference certain city departments, public works, parks, buildings and assessments, but does not liberate the Dock Department, the Police Department and the Department of Charities and Correction from a like interference.

The Democratic members of the Committee on Cities are pressing the separate submission of that part of the Cities Amendment which provides for the separation of city from State and national elections. This provision, they believe, would be adopted by the people at the polls, whereas they do not believe that partial "home rule" would be.

President Choate has presented an amendment to the City Article providing that by a vote of three-fifths of the members of both Houses of the Legislature a city charter may be amended despite the veto of a mayor. The Committee on Cities are said to look unfavorably upon this amendment, but Mr. Choate is pressing it, being personally opposed to completely releasing the cities from legislative control. There will be a conflict over this amendment offered by Mr. Choate when it next comes before the Convention.

The Special Committee on the Transfer of Land Titles this week reported the following amendment to the Constitution—an amendment to one already introduced:

"Article one of the constitution is hereby amended by adding a new section as follows:

"SEC. —. All laws relating to the transfer of titles to, or interest in, land in this state, by conveyance, devise or descent, or the recording or indexing of instruments providing for such transfers, shall hereafter be general laws applicable to the entire state.

"The legislature at its first session after the adoption of this constitution, shall provide for the appointment of five commissioners for a prescribed time, to serve without compensation, whose duty it shall be to consider, and from time to time report such measures as should be adopted to carry out the provisions of this section."

In the amendment as originally introduced the Governor appointed the Land Transfer Commissioners; this amendment authorizes the Legislature to designate the appointing power.

The Convention debated for five hours to-day Mr. Marks' proposed amendment to the Constitution, giving property-owners along the line of the elevated railroad in New York the option of a jury trial if they bring a suit when their property is taken or damaged. The amendment was brought as one which might prevent the building of a rapid transit road in New York City. Mr. Marshall said that there was a general suspicion that the amendment was in the interest of the elevated roads and was intended to give them a chance to buy up property on the line of the proposed rapid transit road, demand a jury trial for the property condemned and delay the building of the road.

Mr. Marks, under this fire of criticism, amended his amendment until it reached the following form:

"Section seven of Article one of the Constitution is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"SEC. 7. When private property shall be taken for any public use the compensation to be made therefor, when such compensation is not made by the State, shall be ascertained by a jury when required by the owner of the property, and if not so required such compensation shall be ascertained by not less than three commissioners appointed by a court of record as shall be prescribed by law. But the compensation to be made for property taken for any public use by any civil division of the State shall be ascertained by a jury or by not less than three commissioners appointed by a court of record as shall be prescribed by law.

"Private roads may be opened in the manner to be prescribed by law, but in every case the necessity of the road and the amount of all damage to be sustained by the opening shall be first determined by a jury of freeholders, and such amount, together with the expense of the proceeding, shall be paid by the person to be benefitted."

A favorable report was made on the amendment by the Committee of the Whole, but the Convention disagreed with the favorable report by a vote of 49 to 59. The Convention then adjourned, but it was evident that it is hostile to the amendment and will probably kill it when Mr. Marks next calls it up.

Obituary.

Stephen D. Hatch, who died at the age of fifty-eight years, in Plainfield, N. J., on Sunday night, had for thirty years been identified as an architect with the building interests of this city. He was born in Swanton, Vt., and became a resident of New York in early manhood. His first employment as a draughtsman was in the office of the veteran John B. Snook, where he remained for four years. In 1864 he established an office of his own, and, being fortunate enough to meet with almost instantaneous success, he has since filled an important role in the building up of the metropolis. Among the prominent structures designed by Mr. Hatch and erected under his supervision were the Windsor and Murray Hill Hotels, the Gilsey

House, Boreel building, Manhattan Savings Institution building, Union Dime Savings Bank, Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Co.'s building, United States Army building, the Roosevelt building, at Broadway and 13th street, and many others. He was also the architect of the remodeled Real Estate Exchange and built the residences of William Rockefeller and the late Jay Gould. His latest designs were those for the new building of the New York Life Insurance Co., the construction of which he was personally directing up to a short time before his death.

Notice to Property-Owners.

116th street, opening from the Boulevard to Riverside avenue. The estimate and assessment have been completed and objections must be filed by September 20th. The report will be presented to the Supreme Court for confirmation on October 8th.

Notice of Dissolution.

The firm of Shaw & Phillips has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Phillips, of the above firm, will receive all moneys due said firm and pay all their outstanding bills. SHAW & PHILLIPS.

An Unusual Opportunity.

John S. Mason & Co., the well-known wholesale commission dealers in woods, will offer at auction a large stock of lumber, both hard and soft woods, as well as yellow pine flooring, at the rooms of the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Rooms, 59 Liberty street, on Wednesday, August 22d, 1894, at 2 P. M.

They will have to offer about one million feet of lumber, consisting of whitewood, white ash, cherry, quartered white oak, gulf red cypress, plain white oak, quartered sycamore, yellow pine flooring, plain and quartered red oak, etc.

This will be their second auction, and it is safe to anticipate a large attendance of lumber buyers. The stock is to be offered in car-load lots and in the judgment of well-informed buyers this will be a first-class opportunity to secure good stock at low prices.

The lumber can be seen at any time at the firm's Stapleton yard, located on the S. I. R. T. Railroad, between Tompkinsville and Stapleton stations, Staten Island, and can be reached in thirty minutes from the Battery.—(Communicated.)

Trade Notes.

Within the last decade or so a great change has taken place in the manner of cleaning the great stores, warehouses, office buildings and structures of a public character after the work of the builder is done and before the premises are turned over to the owner or occupants. In years gone by a number of women were called in to do the cleaning, and, owing to old age, infirmities or the inexperience of the workers the results were far from satisfactory. Nowadays the wise builder, contractor or owner calls to his aid a concern such as the Metropolitan House Cleaning Bureau, of No. 190 7th avenue, with experienced, able workers and every facility at hand to do the work well, promptly, and at a low cost. Mr. Geo. F. Garner, proprietor of the Metropolitan Bureau, who makes a specialty of doing work for builders, has recently completed cleaning contracts satisfactorily at Lichtenstein's new store on West 23d street; Ehrich Bros', extension on 6th avenue and 23d street; Bloomingdale's, at 59th street and 3d avenue; Dunlap's, at No. 180 5th avenue; Hatton & Healy's; White, Smith & Co.; Henry Holt's, and No. 24 West 23d street; also the New York Hospital and the Arion Club-House, and a stable on West 47th street for Builder S. K. McGuire.

Window shades are indispensable requisites to the furnishing of all buildings in which the human being resides, or has his daily employment. Supplying them and putting them up constitutes an important specialty in the building trades. They are not often thought of until you come to the finishing touches of a house or building, but then you want them quickly. It is good to know, at such a time, where to go to get reliable goods from a responsible dealer. Such a dealer is Richard J. Cullen, whose establishment is at No. 33 Worth street. Mr. Cullen is a manufacturer and wholesale and retail dealer of long experience and established position in the trade. He will fit up hotels, private residences, flats, office buildings and stores with any variety of shades on short notice and at the lowest prices.

OUR BUILDING LAWS.

Architects, builders, building operators and others interested in the building trades in Brooklyn, will be glad to learn that THE RECORD AND GUIDE edition of the new Building Laws of Brooklyn will be issued from the press next week. Those who are familiar with the manner in which THE RECORD AND GUIDE editions of the Building Laws of New York have been compiled know what to expect—a handy volume, containing everything embraced within the State laws, municipal ordinances and departmental regulations, with illustrations wherever they are helpful to declare the meaning of the text, and a directory of the Building Department. The laws and ordinances embrace those governing sanitation, drainage, water and other street connections, and the regulations of the Health Department also. Finally there is a complete index—a labor and time-saving convenience that is alone worth twice the price of the book, which will be ready for delivery from the offices of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey street, New York, and 276 Washington street, Brooklyn, after Wednesday next, at the uniform price of $2.

We will bind copies of THE RECORD AND GUIDE in 1/2 morocco, 6 months, per vol., $2 1/2 sheep, $1.75.—Binding Department, RECORD AND GUIDE 14 and 16 Vesey street,

The transactions of the week represent a very small aggregate investment even for the dullest season of the year. No sales of important parcels are announced and minor properties seem to have been in much less demand than at any time since the beginning of the year. A midsummer market is at best unreliable, and when the brokers who remain in town are but a small minority of the agents generally engaged in selling and buying, the cause of the prevailing dullness is easily understood. Rumors of big sales have, strange to say, not been at all plentiful this week, and the atmosphere of Liberty street has in consequence been more lightly laden with whispered reports of alleged transactions of magnitude than for a long time past. Several important purchases of previous weeks, of which no definite information has been imparted by the brokers or principals, are unlikely to become publicly known until they are matters of record. And then the convenient "nominal" consideration will probably conceal the most interesting of the facts connected with their sale.

The auctions held since Monday embraced nothing attractive to the operator or investor, and in the few sales under legal decrees the respective plaintiff's in the suits met with no competition in the bidding. The judgments in two foreclosures were announced as settled on Tuesday, and the sales of both parcels, the dwelling, No. 310 West 102d street, and the vacant lots on 146th and 147th streets, 100 feet west of 7th avenue, were adjourned sine die. On the same day William Kennelly adjourned, till September 12th, the foreclosure sale of the Imperial Flats, Nos. 55 and 57 East 76th street. Thursday might appropriately have been called "club day" in the Broadway salesroom. Two club properties, one in the city and the other in the Adirondacks, were disposed of, the former by order of court and the latter at voluntary sale. The lease of Manhattan Field, at 8th avenue and 155th street, was sold by Peter F. Meyer & Co. under the direction of Andrew Freedman, temporary receiver of the late Manhattan Athletic Club, and brought the munificent sum of $150. That amount was paid by the representative of the present lessee, the National Exhibition Co., or, as it is more familiarly known, the New York Baseball Club. The only leasehold interest actually bought was a privilege to renew at an increased rental the existing lease for a further term of five years from December 20th, the auctioneer announcing that the receiver would retain possession of the property and receive the income until December 1st. Four of the frame buildings, including the club-house now standing on the grounds, were sold after the lease had been disposed of. The original cost of the club-house is said to have been $35,000. The other club property sold was offered by A. H. Muller & Son. It comprised two adjoining tracts of land of about eighty-five and seventy-three acres respectively, fronting on Big Tupper Lake in the heart of the Adirondacks, and owned by the old Lakeside Club. The buyers were A. S. Levy, who obtained the largest parcel on a bid of $1,600, and R. C. Rathbone, who secured the smaller one for $1,100.

On Wednesday next, August 22d, at the Real Estate Exchange Auction Room, 59-65 Liberty street, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell, by order of executors, the six five-story and basement double flats, each with two stores, Nos. 1926-1936 3d avenue, west side, between 106th and 107th streets, and the four-story and basement brick flat, 25x78x125.11, No. 460 East 115th street.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

A report reaches us at an hour too late for verification of a sale by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of the seven-story building, formerly occupied by the company, on the southwest corner of Church street and Park place, 45.6x99.9x45.3x99.3 (Columbia College leasehold). Geo. R. Read is said to be the broker.

It is rumored that Jefferson M. Levy closed a contract yesterday for the sale of the four-story stone front dwelling, No. 205 West 14th street, at $29,000.

Charles Martin has sold for Mrs. Mary Hinrichs the four-story stone front dwelling, No. 457 West 47th street, 20x50x100.5, for $14,500.

Had it been based on fact the most interesting news of the week would have been the announcement of the future partition sale of the Spingler estate property on and near 14th street. William Mitchell, of Mitchell & Mitchell, attorneys for the estate, says that "there is no warrant for such a statement, and no idea of partition proceedings, friendly or otherwise, has entered the mind of any one of the heirs." Such a division has not even been suggested and would in truth be somewhat premature in view of the fact that the late Mrs. Van Beuren's will has not yet been read. There are a number of heirs and it is possible that the estate may be partitioned, especially as the property seems now to have reached the zenith of its value, but the question is one for future consideration.

Geo. De Forest Barton is the broker who negotiated the sale for John Pettit to Mrs. Kate B. Belloni (sister of Theo. Havemeyer), of the Hanover Square Building, an eight-story fire-proof office building on Hanover square, running through to Water street, for about $200,000, and the sale, for Mrs. Belloni to Franklin U. Green, of the seven three-story brownstone private houses, Nos. 128 to 140 West 126th street, between Lenox and 7th avenues, for $120,000. The deeds were recorded on Thursday.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Moore & O'Connell have sold for W. S. Padden the four-story dwelling, No. 120 West 82d street, lot 20x102.2, to James C. Shoup.

M. Bargebahr & Son have sold for Brady & Hauptenau to George Gerlach No. 11 East 118th street, a five-story single flat, 17x82x100.11.

E. A. Cruikshank & Co. have sold for the Taber estate a plot of four lots on the north side of 134th street, between Madison and 4th avenues.

F. Zittel has traded for Isaac C. Ogden, Jr., the three-story brick dwelling, No. 345 West End avenue, near 81st street, 20x50x66, for a vacant plot, 75x100.11, on the south side of 105th street, 200 feet east of 5th avenue, owned by the Bradley estate, of which Thomas C. Ennever is the attorney.

Hagan & Campbell have sold for Henry Fulling to Jane Donohue No. 103 East 106th street, a four-story double tenement, on lot 25x100.11, for $16,000.

Slawson & Hobbs have sold for Builder David Richey, Nos. 42 and 44 West 98th street, two five-story brick flats, 25x89x100.11 each, to Walter D. Starr, for $60,000.

De Selding Bros. have sold for Gordon Bros., the builders, the five-story brick flat and store building, on the southeast corner of 82d street and Amsterdam avenue, 26x102.2, for $71,500, to a lady for investment. The terms are $31,500 cash over an existing mortgage for $40,000.

The trade reported some time ago by which Builder John Kehoe agreed to exchange Nos. 308 to 320 West 71st street, at a valuation of $196,000, for the vacant plot, 100.8x88.9, on the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 90th street, owned by S. and H. Corn and valued at $112,000, has given rise to a dispute that the courts will be called upon to settle. The Messrs. Corn, it seems, objected to a clause providing for the payment in gold of two of the seven mortgages on Mr. Kehoe's houses and refused to carry out the contract. The latter specified the amount of the existing mortgages, the rate of interest and the date on which they will fall due, but, as is not unusual, no mention was made of the gold clause. Both properties are now tied up by lis pendens filed in the interest of either principal, the Kehoe action being to enforce a specific performance of contract, and the Corn instrument not only alleging a desire to compel specific performance, but also claiming damages consequent on the failure of the trade. The objection to a gold clause is a novel one, and, it is said, has never been made a legal question before. Many lawyers claim that such an objection is not valid. In this instance it is said to have been made only as a pretence for not carrying out an agreement. Mr. Kehoe's offer to give a bond covering the total sum represented by the gold mortgages has been refused. The Messrs. Corn are becoming quite famous as shrewd traders, but it is not unlikely that they will be worsted in the Kehoe transaction. Not long since they caught Builder Harry Chaffee napping, and succeeded in netting him out of $5,000, as a result of his inability to fulfill the exact conditions of a contract involving the exchange of his houses on West 70th street for the "Cornillac" building, No. 139 5th avenue.

NORTH SIDE.

James Montgomery & Son have sold for the Birchall estate to Samuel Bailie & Son, the marble dealers, the block bounded by 139th and 140th streets, Locust avenue and the East River, comprising thirty-three lots, for about $100,000.

The lot, 25x100, on the north side of Suburban street, 25 feet east of Valentine avenue, has been sold by Monroe J. Keith to Otis Weld.

The Daily News Savings and Building Loan Association has sold to John Reilly the property No. 955 Tinton avenue, north of 163d street, 24x130, with two-story, mansard roof, frame house and barn, for $3,800.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

R. M. Fulton has closed a sale long pending of the Lockwood farm of twenty-nine acres at Larchmont to Mrs. Palmer, wife of ex-Senator Thomas W. Palmer, of Michigan. The signing of the contract was delayed in consequence of an agreement of sale having been entered into by the owners with another party, who has finally been induced to waive his claim. The purchaser will erect a fine residence on the property.

H. C. Mapes & Co. have sold for the Pugsley estate a full lot on Westchester avenue, Westchester, for $1,250, to Margaret Aschenberger, who will have a store built on the property.

LEASES.

Horace S. Ely & Co. have leased for the Havens estate the three-story brick cottage, No. 101 East 19th street, to F. Kingsbury Curtis, for a term of years, from October 1.

C. D. Allen has leased all the lofts in the new building being completed by Louis M. Jones, on the southwest corner of West 4th and Greene streets, to Dayton & Close for a term of five years at about $10,000 per annum, and for John T. Williams the first, second and third lofts of No. 32 Lafayette place to the Lovell Brothers Company and the Universal Publishing Company for a term of years, at an annual rental of about $8,000.

Poor's Manual of Railroads.

Messrs. H. V. and H. W. Poor announce the issue of the twenty-seventh annual number of their Manual of Railroads. The main features of this work are so well known that it is quite unnecessary to describe them, further than to say that the immensity of statistics of which they are comprised are brought up to as recent a date as is possible considering the size of the work and the difficulty of securing comprehensive returns of the property and operations of the railroads of the country. This year, however, the scope of the work has been enlarged somewhat, and its value as an investment reference therefore increased by the addition of statements relating to Government, State and municipal bonds, to street railroads and the leading industrial enterprises. This last feature is a very important and valuable one, because heretofore it has been very difficult for even those who make corporate securities a study to penetrate the mysteries of "the industrials." Of course this first attempt does not succeed in giving all that is desired, but it is a very promising beginning.

MORTGAGES.

The arrangement of this list is as follows: In the first column is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general notes used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.
Whenever "P. M." occurs, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.
Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, AUGUST 18, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

Brooklyn's tax rate for 1895 has not yet been officially promulgated, but the figures from which it is computed are already ascertained, and these show that it will be not far from $2.41 per $100 of assessed valuation of real and personal property. This is the average figure, which will vary in the different wards, some being higher than others, according to our peculiar and senseless tax system. But the figure shows about one-fourth of 1 per cent reduction upon the rate for the current year.

Notice is given that the assessment for the cost and expense of constructing a sewer in Map O, District 37, Grove street, between Myrtle avenue and the city line, has been completed by the Commissioner of City Works. The said Commissioner will be in his office, Room 15, Municipal Building, on the 28th day of August, at 11 a. m., to hear objections to said assessment.

Messrs. Hurley, Lines and Seaton, representing the Wallabout Marketmen's Association, called on City Works Commissioner White on Monday, to object to a clause in the proposed market leases, which requires bondsmen to guarantee the payment of the rents. Mr. White told the committee that the leases were supposed to conform to the requirements of an act of the Legislature. He promised to refer their protest to the Corporation Counsel, and if the law did not stand in the way the clause requiring bondsmen would be stricken out. The leases will be ready for execution on August 27th.

PROPOSALS FOR CITY WORK.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of Parks until Monday, August 20th, at 12 m., for work required in providing labor and material necessary for proposed new iron beams and girders over the well in Prospect Park.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of City Works until Tuesday, August 21st, at 12 m., for constructing sewers in map S, District 39, subdivision 5.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of City Works until Friday, August 24th, at 12 m., for grading and paving Grove street, from Central to Hamburg avenues, with granite block pavement; also for grading and paving Grove street, from Hamburg avenue to a point 146 feet westerly of Wyckoff avenue, with cobble stone pavement, and for grading and paving Stockholm street, from Irving to Wyckoff avenue, with cobblestone pavement.

OUR BUILDING LAWS.

Architects, builders, building operators and others interested in the building trades in Brooklyn, will be glad to learn that THE RECORD AND GUIDE edition of the new Building Laws of Brooklyn will be issued from the press next week. Those who are familiar with the manner in which THE RECORD AND GUIDE editions of the Building Laws of New York have been compiled know what to expect—a handy volume, containing everything embraced within the State laws, municipal ordinances, and departmental regulations, with illustrations wherever they are helpful to declare the meaning of the text, and a directory of the Building Department. The laws and ordinances embrace those governing sanitation, drainage, water and other street connections, and the regulations of the Health Department also. Finally there is a complete index—a labor and time-saving convenience that is alone worth twice the price of the book, which will be ready for delivery from the offices of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey street, New York, and 276 Washington street, Brooklyn, after Wednesday next, at the uniform price of $2.

TRADE NOTES.

One of the specialties in the building trades which has come into existence in consequence of the demand for a higher order of excellence in construction and finish, is that of the tile dealer and layer. Mr. Darling has done work for such builders as Charles Hummel, Henry Meyer, Kasper Wahler & Son, Deinhardt Bros. and George Gutting—a sufficient guarantee of its high class and skillful execution.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transactions under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—The changes reported on the market for Common Bricks during the present week are few and of only minor character. There was a somewhat larger call for stock, but, as though that had been expected, arrivals ran up also, and made a balance of influences preventing either buyer or seller from obtaining any positive advantage. There is less complaint in regard to washed brick, which now appear in only a desultory manner, and the supposition is that most of the poor supply has gradually been pushed forward and worked off. That feature, however, does not help the general line of values because with the average good quality there is not much choice in the offering and most receivers again assert that if more than $4.50 is paid it is because some buyer has a hankering after a favorite make and to gratify it must pay a premium. By far the greater proportion of stock handled goes direct into hands of consumers, but we learn that in a few instances where buyers have struck a particularly nice cargo it was piled out and this makes a commencement of local accumulation. The great majority of manufacturers are still at work, but in a few cases we are informed there will positively be a stoppage this week. Pales sell on orders at old rates.

LATH.—Demand has been no better, indeed it is a question whether any natural or direct call existed, but the market was favored by a small run of receipts, and a little skinning on part of agents succeeded in securing custom without modification on cost. Indeed, it might be fair to call matters a shade firmer, as there appears to have been no trading of late below $1.75. There is now said, "really and truly," to be only a small quantity en route, but the market can stand a light offering without suffering for quite a while.

LIME.—The market has remained in good general shape and strong enough to take care of additional arrivals costwise without difficulty. As advised one week ago, there is a sort of special demand at the moment for finishing stock, and as receipts contained a fair proportion of lump the sale of that grade carried the balance of cargo with it and made a very good clean up. Offerings other than the Rockland production have also received a measure of attention well proportioned to the supply available and commanded a steady position.

LUMBER.—In common sympathy with the general mercantile community there is rejoicing in the lumber trade over the apparent ending of tariff controversy, and a hope that business conditions will now improve. There is, however, still an absence of assurance that the lumber market will receive any really substantial benefit this year. Some of the manufacturing industries may pick up a trifle, but much doubt is expressed about a material broadening of building operations, and the prospect for general consumption cannot fairly be called good. It is, however, quite likely that knowing better the status from which they will have to work in relation to the import duty question, buyers who yet have stocks to secure will soon make their appearance, and the chances, on the whole, are favorable for the handling of a little more bulk stock of certain kinds before the close of navigation.

In matters of minor detail very little new has developed during the week. Yard stocks have increased by the arrival of goods bought at various times during the season, and in a few cases by the ordering forward of stuff that has been held at the mills awaiting instructions ever since last year, but really new transactions were of a desultory character and of no special importance as a factor in giving the market a more active appearance. No buyer has experienced the least difficulty in securing reasonably prompt attention when making a call for stock, yet the offerings could not be said to show up liberally in any case, and there would soon be a scarcity of many of the staple grades should the demand for them suddenly expand. Current export inquiry is light, but fair amounts are loading on old deals.

Spruce is without change. Further arrivals have come along, most of them on orders, and where they were random it has required some effort to make a market, but after skinning around the cargoes were disposed of without materially varying the old line of valuation. Advances from St John report a fair business in deals with England, but coastwise trade practically at a standstill, with freight rates so low and cargoes so scarce that a number of vessels were laid up. Much the same character of report comes from the Maine ports, and at Bangor the average bid for logs is about $1 less than actual cost. All log owners who can do so will carry stock over, and those compelled to sell furnish supply enough for the few mills running. State spruce is still in small supply and shows steady rates. There is nothing of importance doing in Virginia spruce at the moment.

Hemlock is dull at the moment, and only now and then a respectable sized order can be booked. Offerings, however, have not proven particularly obtrusive, and there is said to be something like scarcity of 13-foot boards and 10-foot joists, which would under ordinary conditions of trade create greater firmness, and may do yet before the season closes.

Carolina Pine of best grade continues a great deal more plenty than the market requires just now, and has very uncertain value. For box and roofing, however, there is a fair demand, and these while a little irregular are no worse in price than a short time ago. Manufacturers are said to be keeping the production down as much as possible.

Yellow Pine gets a moderate call from regular lines of custom, but the business is not expanding, and the market generally remains in the old nominal condition, with pretty much every deal having its own special price.

White Pine has a moderate demand for export and some trade in boxing and kindred grades, but otherwise the market is quiet and unimportant. Supplies are ample with sellers as a rule willing to accept about former rates.

Hardwoods continue to find only moderate uncertain demand and sellers express dissatisfaction over the market. Some of the local manufacturing concerns have been doing rather more in book orders of late, but have plenty of stock on hand to meet their requirements and as yet call for no fresh supplies. The offerings, fortunately, keep moderate, and for all the staple lines of stock sellers are looking for about the same rates they have been asking for several weeks past.

A meeting of the Lumber Trade Association was called for Wednesday of this week to enter protest against the system of selling lumber at auction, but for want of a quorum failed to act. Why John S. Mason & Co., or any other reputable concern, should be protested against for selling their wares in a perfectly legitimate and legal way, even though it may differ somewhat from custom and methods heretofore common among the trade, is not particularly clear to those who believe a man has a right to conduct business as he may choose within the bounds of law, statute or commercial. Some of the lumber people, however, appear to think differently and the gist of their feelings is probably to be found in the following resolution, which was to have been offered at the called meeting had a sufficient number of members thought the matter interesting enough to warrant their attendance:

"That this Association is opposed to the selling of lumber at public auction by wholesalers, as being antagonistic to the best interests of the wholesale and retail branches of trade; also, as violating the principles upon which our Association is founded, and calculated to destroy the relations we are endeavoring to maintain with other retail and wholesale organizations in regard to directing trade into its proper channels."

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany Argus reports:

The condition of the lumber market has not changed much from a week ago. Prices for pine continue steady. Within a few days a "hurry" order for half a million feet of pine has been received in the district from a large firearms concern which manufactures its own gun cases, etc. This order was in addition to the regular supply the firm always gets from Albany, and it is supposed to be due to the war between Chili and Japan bringing the concern heavy orders for guns. In spruce and hemlock there is a moderate trade, with a good supply, though the mills have not been sawing for some time.

THE WEST.

From Northwestern Lumberman we obtain the following:

General conditions have not changed greatly from a week ago. Additional fires have removed several small blocks of lumber from the market, and it is probable the fire loss of the last couple of months will exceed 250,000,000 feet of white pine, but this cuts little figure with the present state of demand. From sections not materially affected by the drouth there is a slightly better inquiry than a week ago, as is indicated by the reports of railroads supplying such territory, but this is offset by less encouraging news from the west and southwest.

In the Saginaw valley there has not been any particular improvement in the demand as compared with a week ago, but the movement by water is a trifle more pronounced and there is a better feeling among manufacturers.

On Lake Superior the improvement noted last week holds good. Shipments from Duluth are fairly active, and while no large transactions have taken place, a number of buyers have visited that place and placed small orders.

At Chicago:

The cargo market has been quiet and receipts comparatively light. This change from the improved conditions of a week ago is directly due to the big fire. Dealers are unable to obtain additional insurance, and are afraid, if the dry weather continues, some of the policies they already have may be canceled. Therefore, they are backward about taking on more stock, unless it is something that is actually wanted. Shippers have anticipated this, however, as the light receipts indicate, and prices have kept steady on the former basis.

A good rain is all that is needed to dissipate fears of fire, and as soon as that comes, or as soon as the insurance companies are willing to write additional insurance, trade will pick up again.

At the yards:

The removal of between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000 feet of lumber from the market by fire has not caused any advance in prices, but the temporary wiping out of two large yards has thrown more trade to the other dealers, and with those to whom the bulk of their orders have been turned over by the burned out concerns, shipments are about equal to the average at this season of the year.

Stocks are in good condition. The fires have reduced the total materially, but the effect will not be noticeable unless there should be an active trade this fall. Inch uppers are very scarce, but that has come to be an old story. Such uppers and A select bring the same prices as thick lumber of the same grades, and even at that the demand cannot be supplied.

In piece stuff the assortment has been kept in pretty good shape, though some yards report a shortage of 2x4's, 10 and 12-foot, and 2x4's, 20 feet long. Demand for hemlock piece stuff is light and prices weak.

Prices for poplar lumber are still demoralized because of the light demand and necessity on the part of some mill men to keep their product moving. All that is required to stiffen up the market, however, is an appreciable increase in the requirement, for there is a decided shortage in stocks as compared with former years. More inquiry is reported the past few weeks in the eastern markets, and there is more of a disposition to hold on for better values, which dealers are sure will rule in the near future.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Eighty per cent and some claim 90 per cent of the stocks on hand at Saginaw are unsold. Just how much lumber there is piled on the docks is not readily ascertainable, but it is believed that at a low estimate it will approximate 300,000,000 feet, and the yards are all largely stocked.

There is but little new in regard to the drives on the upper river. The water that had reached so low a stage that all driving was being done with difficulty, has begun rising again since the government dams were opened. Logs from the great jam above Brainerd are now being sluiced over the dam. It is the intention to clean the main river up to the mouth of the Pine, and allow the Pine River drive of about 50,000,000 feet to come out.

The sawing season is now about half over and manufacturers all over the white pine territory are beginning to wonder where they are going to be at the close of the season with good sized stock on hand if the present light demand continues. In some sections talk of curtailing the output is being indulged in, especially at Duluth, and lower Mississippi River mills may shut down much earlier than usual because of a lack of a log supply owing to the low condition of the river. There is ample room for curtailment, however, this season, both in the south as well as in the north. Southern manufacturers at their meeting this week dismissed the feasibility of decreasing the output of their mills, and everywhere it is realized that the light demand for lumber does not warrant brisk sawing operations.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot has shown very little change. Reports prevailed of an agreement contemplated between domestic and foreign producers to restrict the output, but nothing appeared to come of it and the market is uninfluenced. Business seems to be only of ordinary trade volume and prices easy. On the average range of valuation we quote at 9c. 29½c. for Lake and 8½c. 28½c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper meets with simply an average sort of demand and no features are reported worthy of special comment.

We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 13c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 12c.; do. 10 to 12 oz., 11c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 10c.; do. under 8 oz., 9c. Sheets longer than 72 inches 14c. for 12½ oz. 16 oz., 19c. for 10½ oz. 12 oz., and 23c. for 8½ oz. 10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 13c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 12c.; do. 10 to 12 oz., 11c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 10c. Sheets longer than 96 inches 14c. for over 32 oz. 15c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 23c. 14 to 16 oz.; 19c. 12 to 14 oz.; 23c. for 10 to 12 oz. and 27c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz., 14c.; do. 16 to 32 oz., 16c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 15c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 20c.; do. 10 to 12 oz., 24c. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 14½c. for 32 to 64 oz.; 19½c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 21½c. for 14 to 16 oz. and 2½c. for 12 to 14 oz. Bolt copper, 38 inch diameter and over, 14c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do. do. 4c. do. circles, 96 do. do. and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1½c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 18x24c. per lb. Iron—American Pig is still being handled in a conservative manner and the market cannot be called active. There has, however, of late been found a little more demand for favorite makes of foundry for delivery balance of the year, and some orders placed upon about a basis of current rates. We quote at $12.00 @ 13.00 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $11.00 @ 12.00 for No. 2 X do., and $10.00 @ 11.00 for Gray Forge; Scotch pig iron, $19.50 @ 22.00. Old material meets with fair inquiry at times, but the business is irregular and not of stimulating character. Supplies are running equal to the outlet, and holders willing to accept about former rates. We quote at $11.00 @ 11.50 for old iron rails; $10.00 @ 10.75 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $9.00 @ 10.50 for cast scrap; $10.00 @ 10.75 for old car wheels, and $6.50 @ 9.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron shows no important changes. Some days reports may be heard of pretty good trade doing, and again there will be complaints of dull tone, the average movement probably not increasing to any extent. About former rates remain current. The following quotations are made f. o. b. at Pittsburgh: Angles, 1.25 @ 1.30c.; tees, 1.40 @ 1.50c.; beams and channels, 1.30 @ 1.35c. base; sheared bridge plat s. steel, 1.25c.; Universal mill plates, steel, 1.25c.; iron, 1.35c.; refined bars, 1.35c. base. Steel rails have remained at about former cost and found no increase of attention, so far as reported, the market at present writing showing an absence of specially interesting features. We quote standard sections $24.25 per ton at mill, with usual advances for delivery at tide water. Pig lead has sold along fairly on ordinary run of trade orders, but the market was kept unsettled by the influences of speculative manipulation. Supplies do not seem over plentiful. We quote at 3.55 @ 3.58c. per lb. The manufactures of lead are quoted at 53c. for Pipe, 64c. for Sheet, 15c. for tin-lined Pipe, and 37c. for Block Tin Pipe. Pig Tin has found a fair demand from jobbers and consumers, the business in that line increasing a little of late, although assuming no unusual proportions. Speculation was of much the usual character, with influence upon values slightly stimulating at the moment. We quote at about 19½ @ 19.15c. for round lots, and 19.20 @ 19.1c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plate has been getting fair demand on spot, and there is more interest shown in futures in consequence of practical settlement of the tariff question. We quote as follows: L. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $6.00 @ 6.10; Charcoal, Melyn grade, crosses $7.75; L. C. Charcoal, Allaway grade, $5.35 @ 5.10; Allaway grade, crosses, $6.45; Charcoal terne, M. E. grade, 11x29, $7.25 @ 7.30; M. E. grade, 20x28, $14.50 @ 11.55; Worcester, 14x20, $5.70 @ 5.75; Worcester, 20x28, $11.00 @ 11.05; Allyn grade, 14x20, $5.15 @ 5.20; Allyn grade, 20x28, $10.00 @ 10.25; D. R. D. grade, 11x20, $1.90 @ 5.00; D. R. D. grade, 20x28, $9.70 @ 9.75; L. C. Coke, Penlan grade, $5.00 @ 5.05; J. B. grade, 14x20, $5.15 @ 5.20; L. C. Bessemer steel, squares, $5.30 @ 5.35 basis; L. C. Siemens steel, squares, $5.45 @ 5.50 basis. Spelter has been moderately active, and void of feature worthy of special comment. We quote $3.45 @ 3.5c. for Common Western, according to brand.

NAILS—The demand is irregular and without general improvement of a lasting character. Buyers have no objection to cost and it has been noticeable of late when small additions were made they were submitted to without special comment, but there is a pretty general refusal to anticipate the future and that prevents the placing of large blocks of stock. We quote Cut at $1.00 @ 1.10 per keg for car lots and $1.15 @ 1.25 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel. Wire, $1.00 @ 1.15 for car lots, and $1.25 @ 1.35 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Tendencies toward an improvement in trade are rather more promising, but lines of custom are commencing to show up, and the call from old localities has not fallen away, all of which is encouraging. Buyers, however, very plainly state that they entertain no speculative views in regard to the market, and are quite determined to stop investment the moment they have rounded up a sufficient assortment to provide for early ordinary trade necessities. The final settlement of tariff controversy will probably progress a great many negotiations that have been in obedience awaiting that event. Supplies, as a rule, appear equal to all calls and are likely to keep so as manufacturers add to production promptly when market requires it. On prices there are no important changes as yet advised. For leads, corrodors' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 62c. net; in lots of 500 lbs to 5 tons at one purchase, 60c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 59c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 58c. Lead in oil in 12-lb. tin pulls, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pulls, add 1c., and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case), add 2 1/2c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2 1/2 per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil has found about average demand, probably a trifle tulle in some cases, and standard makes of stock remain quite steady in value. We quote at 50¢ 52c. for Western, 53¢ 54c. for City from domestic seed and 54¢ 55c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine continues slightly irregular and on bulk lots eased off somewhat in value, but in a small way commands about former rates or even a fraction better, closing firm. We quote at 29 1/2¢ 30¢ per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Only about an average demand reported and apparently nothing really new in general condition of the market. Stocks remain where there is no necessity to force them to sale and about old rates are asked. We quote Tar at $1.85@1.90 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.50@2.55 in pork bbls., and $3.50@3.55 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

OUR BUILDING LAWS.

Architects, builders, building operators and others interested in the building trades in Brooklyn, will be glad to learn that THE RECORD AND GUIDE edition of the new Building Laws of Brooklyn is now issued and for sale. Those who are familiar with the manner in which THE RECORD AND GUIDE editions of the Building Laws of New York have been compiled know what to expect—a handy volume, containing everything embraced within the State laws, municipal ordinances, and departmental regulations, with illustrations wherever they are helpful to declare the meaning of the text, and a directory of the Building Department. The laws and ordinances embrace those governing sanitation, drainage, water and other street connections, and the regulations of the Health Department also. Finally there is a complete index—a labor and time-saving convenience that is alone worth twice the price of the book, which is ready for delivery from the offices of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey street, New York, and 276 Washington street, Brooklyn, at the uniform price of $2.

WHEN reports of improvement in trade are as universal as now they must be accepted as good evidence of changed conditions. In almost all lines—jobbing, dry goods, shoes or iron and steel—improvement is noted. In the few instances where improvement is lacking there is no set back only hesitation, as in drugs and woollens, because of the uncertainty regarding the action of the President on the Tariff bill, and its particular effect on goods in these lines. The strike and shut down among the New England cotton mills have a bad appearance, but they can only fail of speedy remedy in the event of all the world being wrong on the trade situation. Continued improved business would soon use up manufactured stocks of cotton goods, and depleted stocks would quickly show the way to a settlement of labor troubles. In the stock market much of this week's advance has been due to the scaring of bears on the high-priced stocks, particularly in the Vanderbilts. Taken as a whole there has been a great deal of realizing, but it must be confessed that it has been an excellent market to realize on. The next few days will set le definitely all doubts on the Tariff bill and the market will take its cue accordingly. Looked at broadly there can be no doubt that it is a bull market. Whatever set backs come will be speedily recovered under an irresistible tendency of prices to advance from the figures into which they have been forced by the bad business of the past year. Stocks could not fail to advance, business to improve and people feel better on such good news as that the adjournment of Congress had been fixed for an early day.

CHEERFULNESS characterizes all the reports from foreign trade and commercial centres. The stock markets are active on advancing prices. In fact all the world seems to be emerging at one and the same time from the dumps into which one country after another has been plunged since the Baring failure. The universal recognition that conditions are better proves that the change is quite positive. The small signs which, from time to time, pointed the way we have gone have been overlooked. As a matter of fact the indications of better times have been quite precise for some time, this whole year having been one of steady recovery in almost all lines of business. English railways report an increase in gross earnings for the first half of the year of over $5,000,000. Board of Trade returns for July show a decline of $7,000,000 in imports, almost wholly under head of breadstuffs, and a decline of $6,000,000 in exports, generally distributed. Good harvests throughout Europe offset the falling off on this side of the Atlantic, so that the amount of wheat grown will equal a year's consumption, but there are still accumulations of the past three years to keep down prices. Announcement is made from Paris that meetings have been called for the 31st inst. of the stockholders of French Submarine Telegraphs and Paris to New York cable companies to ratify an agreement that has been negotiated for the amalgamation of those companies. Bleichroder and the Disconto-Gesellschaft have taken a hundred million francs loan of the Gotthard Railway Company. The textile trade of Germany is looking up as a result of the passing of the Senate Tariff measure. Vienna is flourishing because of the number of public works going on in its midst. The improvement of the Danube, the building of a number of railways, some of them underground, and to be worked by electricity, and the removal of the old fortress-like barracks from the centre to the outskirts of the city have given plenty of employment to the working people. A canal from the Danube into the Elbe or the Oder is now talked of. The government continues the rapid delivery of the new gold coins to the Austro-Hungarian Bank. In Russia the scarcity of labor in the farming regions is making a market for agricultural implements and machinery. South America and Australia are not excepted from the pleasant change that is taking place in the commercial conditions of the world. In Chili the sale of the nitrate beds has been so satisfactory as not only to put the government in funds, but also to encourage business; in Argentina the continued fall in the gold premium is having a similar influence, and in Australia the banks, as reorganized, are strong, with a large supply of gold on hand.

THERE is no doubt that 1894 will break the record for gold production, not only in the United States, but also in the other great gold producing countries of the world. Last year the total production was about $150,000,000, of which the United States contributed $30,000,000. Current reports indicate an increase of 25 per cent for this country. In South Africa and Australia there are also indications of a very large increase so that it is possible that the year may add $180,000,000 to $190,000,000 to the gold supply of the world. These reports are naturally having a very great influence on trade and on the stability of financial conditions. It is reported that Japan contemplates putting its currency on a gold basis as a part of the reforms it is carrying out in order to bring the nation more on a par with great foreign powers in its dealings. Such an idea would not have arisen except for the success that is attending the miner in the gold fields. The apparent certainty of a large increase in the output of gold has also a good deal to do with the maintenance of the policy of the Indian Council toward silver and will go far toward making that policy the success it promises to be as soon as business revives. While there cannot be any doubt that the world is becoming much richer in available gold, and that fact is having a great deal to do with the improvement in business, we should, however, be careful in accepting all the stories that are being circulated about gold discoveries in different parts of the world. Gold is found in places remote from the great hives of humanity, and a small discovery may become a large one before it reaches the confines of civilization by dint of telling, and as the ordinary newspaper is a sensitized plate, unresistingly receiving any impression thrown upon it, the latest version of the story is taken without criticism and passed on from one journal to another with equal indifference. It will be well to wait before we accept the amazing accounts of gold discoveries that are now coming—with the suspicious prints of the space-writer's fingers upon them—from out of Colorado, Australia, South Africa and even New Guiana and Venezuela, until competent examination is had of them to determine their proportions, otherwise we may be taking a gold-news boom for a gold-boom, which is a very distinct and different thing.

OUR newspapers make us out to be a queer people. A few months ago they were voicing what was supposed to be the popular sentiment concerning the Goulds. They were a tainted lot, these heirs of the dead piratical millionaire and, said our editors, the matter of rapid transit then being uppermost, they and the wicked corporation with which they are interested are not to be trusted. They are quite capable of burglarizing our streets, of attempting to bribe our incorruptible officials, of defrauding the city and of committing any of those wholesale crimes which it has become the privilege of our rich to indulge in almost with impunity. It was in these colors that the editorial picture of the Goulds was painted a year ago. Since then the purchase of the Vigilant has wrought a wonderful change in the newspaper conception of these young men. Depicted, if one may say so, in water-colors the Goulds make quite an attractive and meritorious appearance. Recently some spiteful and insular Britisher had the effrontery to suggest that the Vigilant was not quite "regular" in her racing, and our editors promptly gave the maligner to understand what they thought of him and of the Goulds. English yachtsmen were informed that the owners of the Vigilant were worthy representatives of American fair-play and chivalry, and though the editors were without absolutely any information regarding the alleged irregularities none had the slightest hesitation in declaring that such charges were prima facie false. Whatever they might do as land pirates, at sea the Goulds were above reproach. They might water stock at home, or debauch a Legislature, but the slightest yachting irregularity abroad was clean beyond them. We speak of this trivial matter for the sake of its lesson. We have no idea that the Vigilant has been raced unfairly, or even that any charge to that effect has ever been made against her by any one on the other side whose utterances on yachting matters are worth a second's attention. During most sporting contests there are idle rumors derogatory to somebody passing in a stupid way through the ignorant crowd to which no real attention is given until the newspapers bray about them and generalize a few chance remarks so that they appear as a national judgment. So with the case in hand. The charges against the Goulds and the newspaper defense of them is pure "journalism." It is a good example, however, of the value of newspaper opinions and shows how largely they consist of the prejudice of the occasion.

Political Reform by Voting Methods—Professor Sexton's Plan.

THERE is ample ground for the suspicion that the intelligent people of this State are not giving that attention and consideration to the Constitutional Convention which its very great importance deserves. A wise discretion restrains our publicists from too frequent manipulation of our organic law, and when at long intervals the changed and changing conditions of our social organization call imperatively for its revision, self-interest, if no higher motive, should secure for the work of the body to which such revision is committed at least as large a measure of public attention as is accorded to so transient an event as a yacht race or the suicide of a brace of morbid lovers. A partial excuse is found for this inattention in the imperfect character of the newspaper reports of the Convention's proceedings. These have with hardly an exception been fragmentary, confused and indefinite. But if the public interest were such as it ought to be, the newspapers would doubtless publish better reports of the Convention's work.

Among the radical changes proposed to the Convention is one dealing with the elective system. It is proposed by Prof. Pliny T. Sexton, LL. D., a Regent of the State University, and is submitted by Henry R. Duffee, a member of the Convention. Under its provisions it is proposed to give the voter the opportunity of voting both his political sentiments, and for the candidate for office—for measures as well as men. It proposes to accord constitutional recognition and acknowledgment to political parties as factors in our governmental system, under indicated names and numbers, and to insure to the voter the widest latitude of choice in candidates without endangering the supremacy of his party. It is suggested as a panacea for the evil of machine domination of parties. Illustrating the process by an imaginary election for Governor, the proposer says: "The Republican party, dividing its vote between its official candidate, John Doe, and its more satisfactory substituted candidate, Richard Roe, gave them respectively:

"John Doe.....	600 votes.
Richard Roe.....	900 "
Total Republican votes	1,500
"The Democratic party voted solidly, giving to
John Brown the total Democratic vote.....	1,000
"The Prohibition party gave to
John Jones the total Prohibition vote.....	600
Total votes cast.....	3,100

"The Republican party, having a plurality of all the votes cast, is entitled to choose the Governor, and as, between its own candidates, Richard Roe receives the most votes, he is the choice of his own party for and is thereby elected to that office."

The hypothesis is, that as between John Brown, with his 1,000 voters, all that his party polled, and Richard Roe, with his direct vote of 900, the latter is the choice of the remaining 600 Republicans, or of 1,500 Republicans altogether, because he more correctly represents their political principles. At first glance the proposed system would seem to be a great improvement upon the present voting system, because it certainly gives the voter a choice of candidates without endangering his party's chances in the election. If for any reason the regular nominee of the party should be distasteful to any number of the voters who own allegiance to that party, they may express their antipathy for the person by voting for some other man, and if the votes for such other man should exceed the number cast for the regular candidate the votes polled for the latter would be counted for the former, and vice versa under the reversed conditions.

Of course, a new form of ballot would be required, and this is provided for. At the head of the ballots the names of the parties are to be printed in a stated order, with a number opposite each name; then follows the names of the candidates of all the parties, in similar order, with the party number opposite each name, and a blank line at the foot, upon which the voter may write the number of his party and the name of his independent candidate, if he does not choose to vote for the regular nominee. If he votes the "straight" party ticket he has simply to mark an x between the number and the name of the party to which he adheres at the top of the slip. If he prefers to vote a "split" ticket, or to "scratch" any candidate, he marks the x between the number and the name of the candidate (instead of those of the party), or writes the name of the candidate and the number of the voter's party in the space provided for it. One of the proposer's strongest arguments in favor of this system is that its practical effect would be more largely preventive than curative of party evils, by compelling the parties to put up their best candidates in the first instance.

So far as the illustrations go the proposed system would work to advantage. But it is by no means certain that the conditions of all elections would conform to Prof. Sexton's hypothetical cases and where they did not so conform his system might prove an obstacle to reform rather than an assistance. We have only to state as a hypothesis which his system would not fit the condition of things that is likely to be presented at our forthcoming fall municipal election. Suppose, for instance, that four tickets should make their appearance in the field, a Tammany ticket, with William Steinway at its head; a Republican ticket, with Seth Low at its head; an Independent ticket, with Seth Low at its head, and a Social-Democratic ticket, with E. L. Wakeman at its head, and that the vote should be something like this:

1. Tammany, William Steinway.....	110,000
2. Republican, Seth Low.....	95,000
3. Independent, Seth Low.....	35,000
4. Social-Democrat, E. L. Wakeman.....	5,000

Total vote..... 245,000

Now, under the present system, which recognizes first the individual and only incidentally the party, Seth Low, having received 130,000 votes, would be declared elected, but, under the system proposed by Prof. Sexton, Tammany, as a party, having polled 110,000 more votes than any other party, would be declared the successful party, and its candidate, Mr. Steinway, would be the next Mayor. But it might be said that this illustrates a defect in the proposed system which could be easily cured without violence to the principle.

But, again, let us suppose that the conditions were slightly different; that in some such city as New York there was a highly organized political machine, able as, for instance, Tammany has always appeared to be, to control the large majority of its normal adherents, and that its candidate should be unsatisfactory to a large minority of the Tammany party, of what earthly benefit would it be to this minority to vote for any other Tammany candidate? The machine could snap its fingers in derision at such an opposition.

This brings us to the chief objection to the measure—that it accords constitutional recognition to political parties, and reduces the representative character of the office-holder. It exalts party above country—the partisan above the statesman. The most hopeful sign in the political firmament in recent years has been the increasing and growing tendency on the part of the more intelligent voters to break away from party control, to refuse to wear the collar of any party, and to vote for men worthy to represent an entire community rather than for the delegates of a mere faction. It is upon this intelligent, independent sentiment in New York City that our present hopes are based for a genuine reform of our municipal system. To enact into our fundamental law Prof. Sexton's plan for "Independent Voting within Political Party Lines" would be to practically disfranchise these the best elements in our present voting population, and to exalt above them the dumb, driven cattle, who never question the decrees of their party machines. Then the Chairman of the State Executive Committee of the dominant party would be the practical Governor and dispenser of patronage, the nominal Governor only his mouthpiece. In this city the Tammany machine, or another machine built upon the same plan, would be always in the ascendant, and fastened upon us by constitutional enactment. The proposition, however fair it seems at first sight, is reactionary in its nature and should be rejected.

Rus in Urbe.

What an unusually prolific year this has been for roses. Held back by the cold weather that prevailed all during the spring, when warm weather came it found the bushes in hardy and vigorous condition and fairly loaded with buds. It was but a short time thereafter when all the rose gardens were fairly ablaze with the color and stimulating with the exquisite odor of these royal flowers.

All which leads me to the observation that there might be more of these, with advantage to everybody. Every one has room for them, on even a 16.8 lot, for they do not require a great deal of space, and but very little attention. Front areas, even the cemented ones, and rear yards afford all the space that is necessary. A small wooden tub, where the pavement covers the soil, will give all the root space required for a season's growth.

But it is in the rear yard especially that a little attention to rose and other floriculture will return big dividends upon the investment. Most rear yards are anything but attractive in their aspects from dining-rooms and boudoir windows. What with bare board fences, unkempt grass plots and dissipated clothes-posts, many of them testify that the good housekeeping apparent in the interior stops at the kitchen door. Now a couple of climbing roses—and some of the new climbers are exquisitely beautiful and fragrant—with a few hardy tea roses and other monthlies between, up against the back fence, and grape vines or sweet pea vines on either side fence, will transfigure that rear yard and make it a thing pleasant to look upon and to have your dining-room windows open upon, from May to October.

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher goes a great deal farther than this in her rear-yard flower gardening. Besides the roses and grape vines she has boxes of almost every variety of flowers arrayed on brackets in rows all along the fence. All through the growing season she has flowers for her dining table, her boudoir, and to spare for the occasional sick-room from this improvised garden. The vines should be led fan-fashion along copper wires held by copper nails along the fences, and should be trimmed down to proper bounds for such a space. Even peach trees and pear trees can be trained this way and a very few years will find them paying big interest on the investments. We don't expect everybody to act on this suggestion because people are slow to appreciate good advice, but some few wiser than the majority probably will, and if persistent for a year or two will reap a just reward.

The Constitutional Convention.

THE CITY ARTICLE IN DETAIL—TO BE CONSIDERED THIS WEEK.

ALBANY, August 23.—The Constitutional Convention has been engaged all this week upon the proposed new Judiciary Article. No changes have been made in the suggested article except to decrease the number of Court of Appeals judges from nine to seven. It is hoped that with the creation of four appellate branches of the Supreme Court, who are to decide finally upon all questions of fact, and the limitation of the Court of Appeals to questions of law, that the latter court will be able to keep up with its calendar and not need to call in to its aid a Second Division of judges to clear off accumulated business.

The approaching week the Convention will once more plunge into the consideration of its City Article. This article has been undergoing repairs in the Committee on Cities the present week, and has been modified in many respects. Against the protest of the Democrats the Republicans give the authority to the Legislature to pass over a Mayor's veto a special act modifying the charter of a city in certain respects, which are specified in the City Article. Only the bill in its second passage through the Legislature must receive the votes of three-fifths of the members of the Legislature in both Houses. That is, it must receive the votes of seventy-seven Assemblymen and twenty Senators. Practically this is prohibitive, since political parties rarely have that number of votes in each House. If a Mayor vetoes a special act, therefore, the veto undoubtedly in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred will stand.

It should be stated that the liberty thus granted to cities of protecting their charters from modification by the Legislature against their will is a limited liberty. It only protects certain city departments from legislative interference.

The departments which thus have the shield of the Constitution put between them and the Legislature are the Park Department, the Department of Public Works, the Building Department, the Fire Department and the Common Council. The departments which are still left unprotected, subject to raids by the Legislature, are the Police Department, the Department of Charities and Correction, the Dock Department and the Health Department.

The City Article also authorizes the Governor to remove the Police Commissioners of any city and to appoint successors to them. This change in the Constitution is made by the Republicans under the theory that the State is interested as a State in the police administration of cities, that the police shall be an efficient semi-military force, and that it shall refrain from interfering with elections.

The City Article, it may be said without betraying any confidence, was put in its final form by Joseph H. Choate, Elihu Root and Edward Lauterbach, the three most distinguished Republican lawyers in the Assembly. As finally reported the City Article reads as follows:

"SECTION 1. All elections, except to fill vacancies, of city officers, including supervisors and judicial officers of inferior or local jurisdiction, elected in any city or part of a city, and of county officers elected in the counties of New York and Kings, and in all counties whose boundaries are the same as those of a city, shall be on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday in November in an odd-numbered year, and the term of every such officer shall expire at the end of some odd-numbered year. The terms of office of all such officers elected before the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, whose successors have not then been elected, which, except as herein provided, would expire with an even-numbered year, or in and before the end of an odd-numbered year, are extended to and including the thirty-first day of December following such expiration; the terms of office of all such officers which, except as herein provided, would expire in an even-numbered year, and before the end thereof, are shortened so as to expire at the end of the year preceding such expiration.

"SECTION 2. For the purpose of securing fair elections, provision shall be made by law by which the two political parties casting the highest and the next highest number of votes for governor at the then last gubernatorial election shall have equal representation in all offices, the incumbents of which are charged with any duty in registering voters, distributing ballots, receiving, counting or recording votes at elections held in any city. No law shall be passed at any time impairing such equality in representation.

"SECTION 3. No law shall be passed conferring the power to appoint the head of the police force of any city on any city officer, except the mayor, or the mayor with the consent of the common council. The governor may remove the official or officials or any of them constituting the head of the police force of any city for cause, upon charges preferred before him; a copy of such charges shall be served upon the official sought to be removed, and an opportunity afforded him to be heard in his defense. Upon such removal the governor may appoint the successor of any official so removed, and such successor shall hold office until the expiration of the term of office of the mayor of such city holding office at the time such charges are preferred. Nothing in this section contained shall in any manner interfere with the power of the mayor or other officer to remove or appoint the head of police or other police officer, as such power is or may be conferred by law; but such power shall not extend to the removal of any person appointed by the governor as herein provided.

"SECTION 4. Every city shall have a mayor, who shall be its chief executive, with such powers as may be provided by law; his term of office shall be two years. Every city shall have a common council, which shall consist of one or two bodies, to be elected with or without proportional or minority representation, and with such municipal legislative powers as may be provided by law. The legislature shall pass general laws under which new cities may be incorporated.

"SECTION 5. All cities are classified according to the last State enumeration, as such enumerations shall from time to time be made, as follows: The first class includes all cities having a population of two hundred and fifty thousand, or upwards; the second class includes all cities having a population of fifty thousand and less than two hundred and fifty thousand; the third class includes all other cities. Laws relating to any of the subjects hereinafter in this section enumerated in all cities of one or more classes are general city laws. Except as provided by section six the legislature shall not pass any law, except general city laws as to any of the following subjects in any city: 1, streets and highways, except bridges or tunnels across the Hudson river below Waterford, or across the East river, or across waters, which form a part of the boundary of any city, and approaches to any such bridge or tunnel; 2, parks and public places; 3, sewers and water-works; 4, the character and structure of buildings as to safety and security; city apparatus and force for preventing or extinguishing fires; 5, salaries of city officers and employees; 6, ward boundaries; 7, vacating, reducing or postponing any tax or assessment; 8, membership and constituent parts of the common council; 9, the powers and duties of the common council or of any city officer as to the subjects hereinbefore enumerated. The legislature is not hereby restricted in passing laws affecting the jurisdiction or power of any city as to such subjects, so far as it is to be exercised outside of the boundaries of such city.

"SECTION 6. Laws, other than general city laws, relating to any of the subjects enumerated in section five, or to such subjects with other subjects, are special city laws; all such laws, and bills therefor, shall contain the words 'special city law' before the first section of the bill or law. After any such bill has been passed by both branches of the legislature, the house in which it originated shall immediately transmit a certified copy thereof to the mayor of the city to which it relates, and within fifteen days thereafter the mayor shall return it to the house from which it was sent, with a certificate thereon that such city does or does not consent thereto. In every city having a population of five hundred thousand or more, according to the then last state enumeration, the mayor, and in every other city the mayor and the common council, shall act for such city as to such bills. After consent is given to any such bill, as herein provided, it shall be presented to the governor for his action thereon. Any such bill which is returned without the consent of the city may be passed by a three-fifths affirmative vote of the members elected to each branch of the legislature and it shall then be subject to the action of the governor as are other bills. In such cases there shall appear thereon, after the enacting clause, the words 'passed by a three-fifths vote without the consent of the city.' The legislature shall provide for public notice of any such bill so transmitted to the mayor, and for opportunity for hearings thereon before the consent of the city is given.

"SECTION 7. Nothing in this article contained shall limit or affect the power of the legislature to annex contiguous territory to any city, or to consolidate contiguous cities, or to make or provide for making a charter for any city created by such consolidation; but after the charter of any city, created by such consolidation, shall have become a law, such city, and the charter and laws relating thereto, shall be subject to all the provisions of this article. Except as expressly limited, the power of the legislature as to cities, their officers and government, and as to any district created by law and containing a city, or to provide for the removal of the mayor of any city, remains unimpaired; but such removal shall only be for cause and after a hearing."

The Committee on Cities also the present week reported two other highly important amendments respecting cities, which must be considered as brothers of the City Article, and intimately connected with that article. One of them deals with the interesting subject of the sale of franchises by cities. It was introduced in the Convention by ex-Mayor Bleeker Bauks, of Albany, a Democrat. His amendment reads as follows:

"Article eight of the constitution is hereby amended by adding a new section to read as follow:

"No franchise which may be operated in, along, over, under or across any of the public streets or places in any city in this state shall be granted to or acquired by any person, other than such city, unless by the express authority and consent of the local authorities of such city in pursuance of a general law. The terms of the grant of every such franchise shall provide for compensation to be paid to the city, either by way of a single payment, or of an annual rental, or a proportionate share of the receipts, or a combination of such methods. And in all cases the grants shall be for not to exceed thirty years, and may contain provisions for renewals for like periods on appraisals as may be provided by a general law."

Limitation of the debt of cities occupied the attention of the Committee on Cities for a long time. The subject was especially pressed upon the attention of the Convention by the delegates from Brooklyn who fear that the County of Kings may become bankrupt unless some effectual means be secured to prevent any further increase in the debt of that county. Ex-Mayor Banks is also the author of this amendment which, after many changes in the committee-room, has finally reached the form given below:

Section eleven of article eight of the constitution is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 11. No county, city, town or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become directly or indirectly the owner of stock in or bonds of any association or corporation; nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provision for the aid or support of its poor as may be authorized by law. No county [containing a city of over one hundred thousand inhabitants,] or [any such] city, shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose or in any manner to an amount which including existing indebtedness, shall exceed ten per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city subject to taxation, as it appeared by the assessment-rolls of said county or city on the last assessment for state or county taxes prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; and all indebtedness in excess of such limitation, except such as may now exist, shall be absolutely void, except as herein otherwise provided. No [such] county or [such] city whose present indebtedness exceeds ten per centum of the assessed valuation of its real estate, subject to taxation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount until such indebtedness shall be reduced within such limit. This section shall not be construed to prevent the issuing of certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes for amounts actually contained, or to be contained in the taxes for the year when such certificates or revenue bonds are issued and payable out of such taxes. Nor shall this section be construed to prevent the issue of bonds to provide for the supply of water, but the term of the bonds issued to provide for the supply of water shall not exceed twenty years, and a sinking fund shall be created on the issuing of the said bonds for their redemption, by raising annually a sum which will produce an amount equal to the sum of the principal and interest of said bonds at their maturity. All certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes, which are not retired within five years after their date of issue, and bonds issued to provide for the supply of water, and any debt hereafter incurred by any portion or part of a city (if there shall be any such debt) shall be included in ascertaining the right of the city to become otherwise indebted. Whenever hereafter the boundaries of any city shall become the same as those of a county the power of the county to become indebted shall cease, but the debt of the county at that time existing shall not be included as a part of the city debt. The amount hereafter to be raised by tax for county or city purposes, in any county containing a city of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, or any such city of this state, in addition to providing for the principal and interest of existing debt shall not, in the aggregate, exceed in any one year two per centum of the assessed valuation of the real and personal estate of such county or city, to be ascertained as prescribed in this section in respect to county or city debt.

Changes in Grand Street Property.

As a centre for large retail dry-goods stores Grand street has had its day. Lichtenstein will soon move away and the failure of Michael L. Doyle after thirty years trading in that street will leave only Lord & Taylor and E. Ridley & Sons doing business on an extensive scale, and even these, if current reports are true, would be only too glad if they could follow the example of their rival and lift their tents, but tents that represent a large investment in real estate are not very easily lifted and transported to a new pitch. Lord & Taylor admit that they are not doing the business they once did; that the people who shop in Grand street now buy neither the quantity nor the quality of the goods that the people who once patronized them used to do. Lichtenstein's complain that the one firm that dominates the street has driven the old time trade away by its reckless competition and undercutting of everyone else who sought to do business in the locality, so that instead of Grand street, between the Bowery and Orchard street, growing in opulence as a great retail dry-goods centre as 23d street and 6th avenue have done, the trade has dwindled down to the smallest proportions and character. The head of the firm of E. Ridley & Sons declined an interview, so that his opinion of the change that has taken place could not be ascertained. Lord & Taylor, while admitting the change in the character and amount of the business they are now compelled to do, said they had no thought of leaving Grand street, though there are reports current that they had considered the advisability of closing their store there. If they depended on the local trade alone they would probably do so, but many of their old customers still shop with them though residents of other localities.

Grand street, like every other business district, is feeling the stress of the times, but while that may explain part of its troubles it cannot be taken as a complete explanation of the fact that six or seven stores and very many more lofts and upper floors are to let between the two stations of the elevated roads (the 3d avenue line and the 2d avenue line) that the number of large firms doing business there has dwindled down to two and that rents have fallen away 30 per cent and more. The main cause for these changes is undoubtedly the substitution of a vast number of poor Hebrews, mostly Polish and Russian, for a substantial German element that has been crowded up town, and which is fast obliterating all traces of the comfort and cheeriness which was once to be found as a result of the Teuton's prosperity. The foreign born Hebrew who has taken the German's place is poor and in the first instance, at any rate, ignorant of English and, therefore, requires a store not only where he can make his petty purchases, but also where he can communicate in a familiar tongue. His style of doing business is altogether different from the ease of American transactions in which no very lengthy argument would be permitted on the number of onions that ought to be in a two cent bundle or the quantity of hairpins that should be included in a penny package. Consequently the old-time dealer has no longer a place in this region and the small Hebrew tradesman and huckster on the street are fast taking his place. Not only has Grand street lost much by the change in the local demand, but it has also been unfortunate in having its Brooklyn connections carried away by the communication opened between 23d street and that city through the Broadway ferry. Brooklyn shoppers that until recently had perforce to land at Grand street have now the opportunity of going to 23d street and coming into direct connection with the great retail dry-goods district there. South Brooklyn, entering the city by South Ferry, has of course the option of the East or West Side, and Jersey shoppers naturally go to the great 6th avenue market.

While the decay of its business has [had a very serious effect on rents, its effect on the value of the realty is very hard to state. There is very little inclination to touch Grand street property at all and in the few transfers that have been made recently the consideration was not given, and had it been such a distrust of recorded values has been raised by the practice of using fictitious figures that they would have very little value. Brokers who at one time dealt almost exclusively in East Side property have now very few such parcels on their lists which are now mainly made up of up-town offerings. The purchase at auction by E. Ridley & Sons, for $210,000, of Nos. 209 and 211, corner Grand and Allen streets, size 65 on Grand street and 100 on Allen street, with an extra jog 20x23.6 on the southeast end of the plot, with the four-story brick building thereon, does not indicate that the purchasers have lost faith in the value of property there, but at the same time it should be remembered that the property was leased to them until 1902 at a rental of $14,820 per annum. The same firm, however, did not renew their lease of No. 289 which they used for some time as a furniture store. This property was bought in 1883 of Raphael Ettinger by Henry Hesse (who subsequently refused an offer of $150,000 for it), for $65,000 and leased for ten years to E. Ridley & Sons at a rental of $12,000 a year, the tenant paying all taxes and doing all repairs. The lessees did not personally use it in the last year of their term and are said to have sublet it for half the rent they themselves had to pay. Brokers familiar with the locality can give instances of the prices that might have been obtained in good times for particular parcels. One of these is that four years ago an offer of $40,000 was made for a piece near Clinton street, which, recently was divided among the heirs of the party who refused it at $30,000. No. 289 is now said to be in the market at less than was refused for it. Between the Bowery and Orchard street the transfers in the large majority of cases date back a good many years, and as many of the improvements are of a very poor description, any circumstances that could attend real estate in the heart of the city on a busy thoroughfare would not be likely to prevent a good return being obtained on an investment made so long ago, though the hopes of very large increased values, founded on what promised to be the character of this section of Grand street, must be put aside.

Besides the instance given in the interview with Mr. Geo. J. Kenny, published in our issue of July 7th, of a drop in the rental of a third in the case of No. 297, other decreases in the investment returns may be found. For instance, No. 263, next east of Lord & Taylor's, was sold in 1890 by J. T. McGuire to Abraham Wolff, a member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., for $100,000. It then rented at $10,000 a year and now rents at only $7,000 a year. The prices paid in recent years for property in the section of Grand street now referred to, were only justified by the expectation that it would always be a centre for a very large retail business. Here are some of them: No. 271, 20x62, $112,500 in 1889; No. 281, 25x100, $117,000 in 1885; No. 301, 21x75, $80,000 in 1890; No. 288, 25x87.8, $80,000 in 1890. Most of this property is in very strong hands and, therefore, is unlikely to come upon the market, though the owners will have to be content with a much smaller return on their investment than they originally expected.

Confirmation of these views generally was had in the course of a conversation with Mr. S. H. Stone, who is thoroughly familiar with the property in question, having been a broker and agent on Grand street for many years. He estimated the depreciation of property in Grand street and its vicinity at from 15 to 25 per cent. He found in his rent collecting agency more than a year ago that instead of getting his rents in on the first of the month, he had to take $2 and $3 at a time, the month closing with the tenants in arrears. A year ago the Rent Guarantee Co. also abandoned the neighborhood. He had been offered houses on Allen street at $27,000, which three or four years ago he sold for $31,000, the several prices being based on the rental for the time being. He dated the decline of the neighborhood from about the time when the Astors disposed of their holdings of real estate there to the well-known builders of tenements, whose names are familiar in connection with this section.

The Times Building, with proposed alterations.

Proposed Elevation of the "Times" Building.

Prompted by the laudable ambition to stand as high in the world as any of their neighbors, the proprietors of the Times Building are considering the proposition to increase the height of the present structure, as shown in the accompanying drawing. It will be observed that up to the twelfth story and the three top stories are the present structure. The scheme is to take off the three top stories, two of which are in the present composing room, and sandwich in four more stories, and then replace the top stories with some probable alteration of the sky-line, though hardly the illogical candle-snuffer shown in the design.

Local Transit on the North Side.

NEW TERRITORY OPENED UP BY THE GROWING ELECTRIC STREET RAILROAD SYSTEM.

Few people who have not recently paid an especial visit to this section, riding over the various branches of the Union Railway Company trolley railroad system, have any idea how great a change has been already wrought and is now in active progress on the North Side. The transformation from the old "Huckleberry" road to the electric system, with its new and solid tracks, new cars, new operatives and faster time was not more significant than has already been the change in the appearance of the streets and the broader expanse of improved territory.

If any one needed to be instructed in the fact that the best transit systems obtainable are essential to the healthful and continued growth of large and populous cities he could find an object lesson here at hand. The old "Huckleberry" road and all the streets traversed by it were literally down in the mud when they were not buried in all-pervading dust. Then the beauties of North Side scenery were born to blush unseen, for few would undertake the perils and discomforts of the journey to the then distant woodlands. Now one can travel in comfortable cars over a comfortable road to many of the most attractive sections of the city above the Harlem, and by another year nearly every part will be within the range of accessibility by these trolley roads.

For a Sunday, or holiday or vacation day outing, no pleasanter trip could be taken than by the trolley roads through the northern section of the city. To most of the residents on Manhattan Island it would be a revelation. Run up to 129th street on the 3d avenue elevated road, or, if you chance to be on the West Side, go to the 135th street station on the west side elevated road. There take a cross-town trolley through 135th street to the Madison avenue bridge, across that and through 138th street to 3d avenue, and there transfer to a West Farms car, starting from 129th street. It runs through 3d avenue to Boston avenue and thence to West Farms, a settlement on the Bronx River, which forms the boundary line between New York City and Westchester County.

From this point you can transfer to a car which crosses the Bronx River and runs through country roads via Morris Park race track, Bronxville, Oliville, Williamsbridge, Wakefield and Woodlawn to Mount Vernon, at the New Haven railroad station. The ride is through a picturesque region, with broad valleys and wooded hills and slopes in frequent view. The fare from 129th street to Williamsbridge is five cents, and from there to Mount Vernon is five cents more. At the New Haven railroad station you can take another car which will carry you to the Harlem railroad station at South Mount Vernon for another five cent fare, and at the latter point the car of another company will transport you across country by another picturesque route, past groves of heavy timber, past country houses of comfortable and prosperous aspect, past orchards and farms and pastures, hemmed in by stone walls, to Yonkers.

Branch lines in Mount Vernon run through 4th avenue and 3d street to Pelhamville and through 5th avenue to the city line, whence there is a horse car line to Envermere. On the same side of the Bronx there is a line from West Farms, through Westchester avenue to Westchester Village. Another line from 3d avenue and 129th street, runs through Westchester avenue and Westchester turnpike to Westchester Village. Another turns off through 138th street to Port Morris, on the Sound, where there is deep water and often very good fishing. Another line, and the best patronized on the existing lines, runs through 3d avenue, from 129th street to Fordham, at about 190th street. These are the completed portions of a system of local transit which is as yet only in its infancy. Extensive additions and improvements are already under way, some of which will be in operation by fall. The line through the Southern Boulevard to the Boston road will be the first of these probably, to be followed shortly by others equally and even more important. The work of extension is impeded greatly by the slow progress in the opening and improvement of the streets. While the principal thoroughfares are in the hands of street contractors for severing, grading, the laying of water and gas pipes and paving it is impossible to do any permanent railroad work, and lately the contractors on North Side street improvements seem to have conceived the idea that it is more profitable to enter into contracts and then let them rest than it is to execute them within the contract period.

Of course the North Side trolley system is after all a system of local transit only, and cannot be called rapid transit. On one of the recent race days at Morris Park it took just two hours and five minutes to make the run from Mt. Vernon to 129th street, the usual running time being fifty minutes or thereabouts. But the delays on this occasion were incident only to the race-day excess of travel in one direction over a single-track road with infrequent side tracks. But local transit is as essential to the building up of a populous section as is through transit. It is over seven miles from Harlem Bridge to the northern city limits, but until the trolley railroad system was established last year and this there was no local transit system worthy of the name. But during the previous six years two elevated railroad lines had been built in Brooklyn, one extending from the bridge to East New York, a distance of seven miles; and the other from the bridge to Greenwood Cemetery, a distance of four miles; this latter has since been extended to 65th street, a mile and a-half further. Brooklyn has also converted her horse railroads to trolley roads, and greatly extended the latter, so that now she is better supplied with means of local transit than any other large city in the country, with the possible exception of Chicago. Unquestionably this has been the principal incentive for the upbuilding of Brooklyn, and unquestionably also the improvement and extension of the local transit system of the North Side will lead to the upbuilding of that section of New York City. It is never enough that a rapid transit road shall pass within a-half mile of one's home—that would not be practical rapid transit. Everyone wants to be taken up and dropped as near to his own door as is possible by the railroad that takes him from and returns him to his home, and to be practical that road must operate within the time limit. The North Side is in a fair way to be as well supplied with local transit roads as any other section of the metropolitan district and when the real rapid transit line from the lower section of the city shall have been established by the construction of the underground electric road through Broadway and the Boulevard, with a branch line crossing the Harlem near Madison or 5th avenues and following the general direction of Jerome avenue, through the North Side to the city limits, then the North Side will feel the impulse of a new growth; then it will begin to take on metropolitan airs.

"One Hundred Years of Business Life."

In the Old World, where the evolution of industrial systems has kept slow pace through many centuries with the growth of their political systems and where changes are few and infrequent, it is not difficult to find establishments in the various branches of industry that can trace their origin back for one or two centuries. In this country, however, whose existence as an independent nation is not much over a century, and where the industrial pace has been fast and furious and fraught with many vicissitudes, the attainment of the century mark in its business life is an event of which any establishment may well be proud—an event of historic importance.

This journal is in receipt of a souvenir volume of fifty-six pages, magazine size and style, an exquisite example of the printers' art, printed on heavy parchment paper and acquainting us with the fact that the New York firm of W. H. Schieffelin & Co., wholesale chemists and pharmacists, have in this year of grace 1894 reached that condition of renown. In a prefatory note the descent of the present firm is given in this wise: Lawrence & Schieffelin, 1794-1799; Jacob Schieffelin, 1799-1805; Jacob Schieffelin & Son, 1805-1814; H. H. Schieffelin & Co., 1814-1849; Schieffelin Brothers & Co., 1849-1865, and W. H. Schieffelin & Co., 1865 to the present date.

The history of the firm as presented in this entertaining volume will be full of interest for every reader, and especially for the older merchants and business men of New York. Written in a bold, graphic, historical style, the personal element is strongly linked with the successive steps in the growth of the nation and city through the century, and, what is rarer still, with an intelligent and highly entertaining account of the development of our commerce. In conclusion there is an instructive account of the progress of chemistry and pharmacy through the hundred years. We learn from these pages that Lawrence & Schieffelin's place of business was at No. 195 Pearl street, opposite what was then (and for many years after) known as the Fly Market, at the foot of Maiden lane. Then Front street was the river street where shipping did abound, and Mr. Schieffelin's residence was at No. 326 Pearl street, the historic Walton house, built in 1754 and torn down only thirteen years ago. "There were but few scattered houses then north of Leonard street, to the west of Broadway, and north of Grand street on the Bowery." "In 1794 the National Government had no longer its seat at New York. It was located at Philadelphia, and Washington had entered upon the second year of his second term." It was in this year that John Jay negotiated the first treaty of commerce with England; the French Revolution was at its height, Robespierre being at the pinnacle of his fame and power. In this city the City Hotel was in process of construction on the site of the former home of Lieutenant-Governor James De Lancey, in Broadway, where now stands the Boreel building—and St. Paul's, built twenty-nine years before, was just getting its steeples.

From these beginnings the record bristles with progressive events, in the nation and city, in commerce and trade, with which the firm of Schieffelin kept even pace. It is replete with reminiscences of the early days, and has many portraits, illustrations and interesting facsimiles. W. H. Schieffelin & Co. have, in publishing this volume, rendered a distinct and valuable service to local history, and have set an example that ought to have extensive following, as more of our big business houses attain to centennial distinction.

Architects and builders will find in THE RECORD AND GUIDE edition of the Building Laws and Ordinances of Brooklyn a time and labor-saving volume worth many times its price. It is illustrated and indexed so that the reader can find in a moment any regulation for which he may be seeking without having to read the whole volume. It is ready for delivery now at the offices of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, 14 and 16 Vesey street, New York, and 276 Washington street, Brooklyn. The price is $2.

AGENT'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I leased a house for two years to Mr. K., with privilege of three years more at same rent, $2,000. Received $60 commission. At expiration of lease Mr. K. thought Mrs. K. had better take the lease in her own name as she formerly had done, as it was for her that he took it. Mrs. K., being in poor health, did not like to be bound for three years, so decided to take it from year to year. Am I not entitled to commission on the one year's rent, and how much?

Answer.—We think you are entitled to a commission of 1 per cent on $2,000.—LAW EDITOR.

ENCROACHMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please answer this: In surveying ground I bought recently, 25x100, I find only 24 feet, as there is an old shanty occupied as a dwelling and an old fence extending 1 foot on my ground. Can I pull down the old fence and take possession? Can I compel the owner of the shanty to remove it? What means should I take to get possession?

Answer.—You may compel the owner of the shanty to remove it by an action. As to the fence we do not think you run any great risk if you remove it yourself without resort to law.—LAW EDITOR.

GRANTOR AND GRANTEE—RIGHT TO CLOSED STREET.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A sold at public auction a block of lots running from street to street and on one side facing an unopened avenue, called 2d avenue, or rather the junction or plaza of two avenues, one of which, 1st avenue, was legally open, while the other, 2d avenue, was in course of opening proceedings. In due time the purchaser, B, accepted deed which, after describing the dimensions of the property, further read:—"and all rights and title of A, to the centre of 2d avenue," while A's rights extended across this as yet unopened avenue and plaza to the line of 1st avenue. A year after the delivery of the deed to B, the City decided on striking from the map the unopened 2d avenue, a fact B claims never to have received notice of. Now he demands from A a quit claim deed of all A's rights, if any, to the land fronting and between B's property, which now by the right of his deed runs to the centre of the closed 2d avenue and the existing front on 1st avenue, on the ground that when B purchased the property at auction the map exhibited his property facing a junction of two avenues, and the fact of A not showing any claim to land facing the property he purchased gave him the right to pass and repass over the land to remove and improve same, in fact to own all the property now fronting his land to the line of 1st avenue, and on the ground that A dedicated his interest in it when he sold B the land fronting on 2d avenue. A acknowledges that the intention was that B's property would be so situated when 2d avenue would be opened by the city, but claims that as the city closed it without his knowledge or consent he has still possession of the property between the centre of 2d avenue and the line of 1st avenue, even though it does close up B's property on that, the most valuable front. (1) What proceedings would you suggest to B to obtain such damages as he claims are suffered by the closing of 2d avenue? and (2) how can he obtain possession of the land now closing in his property from access to 1st avenue?

SUBSCRIBER.

Answer.—A's position is correct. By the closing of 2d avenue the land between the centre of 2d avenue and the line of 1st avenue reverted to him. He never sold that land to B; he only sold the land up to the centre of 2d avenue to B. A has committed no fraud upon B. (1) B can only recover the damages he may have suffered by proceeding against the city. (2) By purchasing it from A.—LAW EDITOR.

CHATTEL MORTGAGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please answer the following: P, as a collector of brewery, entered into a business relation with a man, G, to open a saloon.

G after taking a place with a lease in his name, the collector, P, promises if G will work up the business in this place he will procure to this saloon keeper, G, a mortgage from his brewery of $1,500.

A few months later, after G has worked up the place to a good trade, he informed the collector that he would like to have the mortgage of $1,500 which he promised to get from the brewery for G the saloon keeper. After the passing of a week Peame to G saying that he has arranged everything in the following manner: G shall sign over the lease to the name of P, the collector, and sign a mortgage in the brewery's name of $1,500. The papers were signed and P took them away for to go the next day to the brewery to get notes of four months to order of G for the mortgage that G has signed. P did not come all the week. The collecting day for the beer he came, G, after paying for his beer, asked him for the money of the mortgage. P adjourned again, and till this day G did not receive any money, neither has the collector, P, given G anything.

It came to a severe talk between the owner on the place, G, and the collector, P. G claims his money of the mortgage that he signed to the brewery, but P, the collector, answered that he is actually the owner of the place of G and intends to foreclose the mortgage and to put out G from this place and all his rights.

Please to let me have an answer what to do in this case.

Shall I call all my transactions between the brewery and the collector, P, back because I did not receive any value?

Answer.—Consult a lawyer, bring suit to have the assignment of the lease and the chattel mortgage canceled, and obtain an injunction to restrain the foreclosure of the mortgage. —LAW EDITOR.

SIZE OF CITY LOTS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Has there been any law passed fixing the size of a city lot to be understood to be 20x100, or the equivalent in square feet, namely 2,000 square feet, if nothing is said as to size when lots are spoken of? In other words, if one speaks of a piece of property containing so many lots is it understood that the legal size of lots is to be recognized as 2,000 square feet, just as 6 per cent is understood to be the rate of interest when nothing is said as to rate?

S. P. H.

Answer.—We never heard of any such law.—LAW EDITOR.

Trade Notes.

The use of wire in the making of office railings, window guards, desk railings, fences, flower stands, sand, gravel and mortar screens, and partitions between departments in stores, lofts, wine cellars, etc., is one of the new specialties in the building trades. It is a strong, light and serviceable material, and can be used in either iron, brass or copper, as occasion may require. It yields easily to manipulation and can be produced in an infinite variety of ornate and beautiful designs. One of the most extensive and successful manufacturers of this class of goods is William J. Steel, whose Harlem Wire Works are at No. 188 East 124th street, southwest corner of 3d avenue. Architects, builders and owners ought to get Mr. Steel's estimates before letting work of this kind.

Every architect and builder will want a copy of the new catalogue of fire-proof building materials published by the Raritan Hollow and Porous Brick Co. The most notable advance made in our systems of construction in this generation has been in the employment of these materials, and new forms, with new applications of them at rapidly-recurring intervals, testify that more progress is constantly being made in their use. Every architect who wants to keep in step with the progress of his art is watching the continued development of these materials with keen interest. It is an essential part of his education. This catalogue is in that view of the matter a text book. This last edition contains all the valuable things in the former editions and some new things that are well worth knowing. A letter to the company at No. 874 Broadway will secure you one of the catalogues, handsomely illustrated.

A FINE EXAMPLE OF ANCIENT IRISH ART.

A memorial cross which illustrates to perfection the beauties of ancient Irish art has just been completed in Thos. J. Brennan's extensive steam stove works, at 57th street and North River, to the order of C. W. McCutchen, Esq., and erected in Hillside Cemetery, Plainfield, N. J. In general design and dimensions it is a reproduction of the famous "Cross of the Scriptures," at the Seven Churches, Clonmacnoise, Ireland, which tradition ascribes to a period previous to A. D. 924, and which still stands, despite the lapse of centuries, in a splendid state of preservation. The cross, including the base of 2.6 feet, is 13.2 feet high, and the width at the arms is 4.8 feet. The base is a plain diminishing stone, 3.1x3.10, with polished surfaces for inscriptions, but the cross, which is 10.8 feet high, is a mass of the beautiful interlacing ribbon design peculiar to the decorative art of the ancient Celt. The design has neither beginning nor end, thus symbolizing eternity. Five rings ornament the face of the cross, all having the interlacing design, save one, on the shaft, which incloses a carving of a dove, typifying the descent of the Holy Ghost. There are other ornamental features adapted from the various antique crosses of Ireland. The stone used is from the blue limestone quarry of Mr. Peter Rafferty, in Ballinasloe, about eight miles from Clonmacnoise, and is of a non-porous nature which renders it impervious to moisture. The Clonmacnoise cross was doubtless chiseled from the same stone. Chas. H. Smith, architect, of 191 Broadway, supplied the detailed drawings for the work. Mr. Brennan furnished all the cut stone work on the addition to Temple Court, in Nassau street, for Eugene Kelly, the owner, and for the Hotel San Remo, on Central Park West, and for various other important buildings. He is now engaged on the stonework for ten buildings which Wm. Broadbent is erecting on St. Nicholas avenue, 148th and 149th streets.

Real Estate Market.

The market has finally reached a condition that can truthfully be described as bordering on complete stagnancy. The week's transactions do not indicate that even the low average investment of corresponding periods during the duller of previous summer seasons has been maintained. Some sales of dwellings and other improved properties are reported and a few of vacant lots for improvement, but taken as a whole they are of little more importance than would be a list of a week's purchases of necessities for the maintenance of an ordinary household. New York real estate is always in more or less demand and it would be impossible, except in the event of the city being visited by an earthquake, for a week to pass without some sales being effected. Seldom, if ever during the past fifteen years, has it happened, however, that so small an aggregate sum has done duty in representing the total of a six days' business.

The auction room has shared the prevailing dullness with the brokers' market; nothing of interest having transpired since Monday, unless it be a foreclosure sale of Fordham lots held on that day by Richard V. Harnett & Co., all of which were purchased in the interest of St. John's College. Richard V. Harnett & Co. adjourned, until September 19th, an executors' sale, of Nos. 1926 to 1936 3d avenue and No. 460 East 115th street, announced to have been held at the Real Estate Exchange on Wednesday. The property is part of the estate left by the old-time operator, Ben. Richardson.

Justice Beach, of the Supreme Court, on Tuesday granted Frederick A. Schermerhorn an injunction against the New York and Long Island Construction Co., Contractor, Austin Corbin, George W. Quintard, Thomas Railey and Joseph H. Jones, forbidding entry on the complainant's property, between 64th and 65th streets, near the East River, for the purpose of excavating for the pier of the new bridge that is to span the river at that point. Work was begun in the morning of the same day before the granting of the injunction. The bridge will be built for the New York and Long Island Bridge Co. and is designed to give the Long Island Railroad an entrance into this city. It will run from the river to 3d avenue, where the terminus and station will be. The pier for which excavations were begun on Tuesday is to be 85 by 35 feet and 135 feet high. With the superstructure the height on the New York side will be 258 feet. The bridge is to accommodate four tracks. The spans from this city to Blackwell's Island and from that island to Long Island will each be 855 feet. The span on Blackwell's Island will be 635 feet. The cost is estimated at $7,500,000.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Charles Martin has sold for Bernhard J. Woffering to Herman Schmonsees, No. 532 West 58th street, a five-story double tenement, 25x70x100.5, for $15,000, and for Ungrich Bros. to a Mr. Reiche, No. 452 West 40th street, a new five-story stone front flat, 25x90x98.9.

Smyth & Ryan are the brokers who negotiated the sale of the dwelling, No. 205 West 14th street, referred to last week. The buyer is the Xavier Club, now at 27 and 29 West 16th street, from which it will remove to the 14th street house as soon as it is made suitable for occupancy as a club-house. The price agreed upon is $28,500 and the seller is Jefferson M. Levy, not the "estate of Henrietta Levy" as some of the daily papers had it.

The four-story brick tenement with lot, 20x80, on the northeast corner of 3d avenue and 14th street, owned by James Kiernan, has been sold for $35,000. A notice of foreclosure of a mortgage for $25,000 was recently filed against the property.

Once more a rumor is afloat of a sale by Lewis S. Samuel of his property on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 35th street. If it should prove to be true Mr. Samuel is to be congratulated. He declined yesterday to discuss the report and it will probably be found that he has sold a parcel other than the one mentioned.

The purchaser of the leasehold interest in the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.'s former office building, on the southwest corner of Church street and Park place, is the Manhattan Railway Co., as shown by the "Leasehold Conveyances" published on the 11th inst.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Matthew L. B. Larkin has sold for the estate of Lucius Gleason to Builder Alexander A. Jordan for improvement the plot, 100.8x190, on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 89th street, for about $110,000. The late Mr. Gleason purchased the property at foreclosure sale in March, 1888, together with eight other lots in the same block, two fronting on 89th street and six on 88th street, for $138,679.

W. E. Jackson has sold for Francis M. Jencks the lot, 30x125, on the south side of 75th street, about 153 feet east of Riverside Drive, to Fred J. Stinson for about $30,000. The purchaser will erect a handsome residence on the property.

Mrs. D. H. Blakely has sold No. 313 West 116th street, a five-story tenement, on lot 25x100.11, for Ella S. Conkling to Matilda Solomon, and the three-story dwelling, No. 153 West 93d street, with furniture, for $30,000.

The Twenty-third Ward Land Improvement Company has sold lots 114 and 115, on the Vyse estate, for $4,000, to Mrs. Charity Parker Ernhout.

LEASES.

The ground floor and basement of the new building on the north-west corner of 5th avenue and 13th street have been leased by the owners, Marx and Moses Ottinger and I. S. and M. S. Korn to the Post-office Department for a term of 5 years, from October 1st, at an annual rental close to $10,600. The floor space in each is about 50x100 feet. The premises will be occupied by Branch P. O. Station O, now located in 13th street, between 5th and 6th avenues.

Nicholson & Co. have leased the hitherto untenanted portion of the new Rhineland building, on the corner of Duane and Rose streets, for printing and lithographing purposes. Riker & Son have leased for M. E. Oakley the four-story dwelling, No. 66 West 55th street, to Mr. Pottier, of the Pottier & Stymus Co., for two years, at $1,800.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

John D. Rockefeller has purchased, through Brokers W. H. Hoyt & Co., the Lewis Roberts property, consisting of 215 acres at Pocantico Hills, Tarrytown, for about $200,000. Mr. Rockefeller now owns between 700 and 800 acres, including his latest purchase, and intends, it is said, to erect a magnificent residence on the Kaakeout place, bought by him some time ago from Mr. Wadsworth, and the adjoining property formerly owned by George W. Parsons. The cost of the house will approximate $500,000.

Mr. Todd, cashier of the Dobb's Ferry Bank not long since purchased the John J. Storms property, comprising four acres at Dobb's Ferry for $25,000, and has resold a plot about 200 feet square, or little less than an acre, to Rev. Father Flannelly, of the Roman Catholic church, for $15,000. That price is said to be the highest rate ever paid for vacant land along the line of the Hudson River.

T. H. Kite-Powell has sold for Mary Palm to Charles A. Anderson, of New York, a house, barn and two acres of land on Railroad avenue, Mt. Vernon, near the Harlem station, for $12,000. The property represents one end of a trade negotiated by Mr. Kite-Powell, in pursuance of which Mr. Anderson conveyed, last week, No. 90 West 103d street, this city, to Henry Palm, for a consideration of $33,000.

Travis & Arnoux, of this city, sold on Monday, at White Plains, under a decree in partition, the Miaturn estate, consisting of 165 7-10 acres at Hastings-on-the-Hudson to Robert S. Miaturn, for $150,000. The sale was the result of a friendly action brought by the heirs, for the purpose of enabling Meyer & Corsaut, of Buffalo, N. Y., who have purchased the land at private sale, for $165,703, to receive a perfect title. The buyers, who will receive a deed of the land within thirty days, propose to make a number of improvements and divide the property into villa plots.

Tim & Co. have sold to E. G. Bach and others the old Mager place, of about ten acres, fronting 700 feet on Fulton avenue, Mt. Vernon,

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever C's "etters" "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

It will be noted that the principal gains have been in British countries, while Cuba shows a heavy falling off.

LUMBER.—It is still a market upon which a large proportion of the demand is stimulated by necessity alone, and evidently buyers are not in a mood to make any voluntary addition to volume of business. There are a great many people talking about the greatly improved trade conditions, but in the lumber line, as well as many others, the gain is mainly in a sense of relief from danger of immediate surprise in way of tariff legislation, and there are a great many contingencies yet to be met and tested before the full measure of the situation can be taken. As we have previously intimated there are many careful students of the lumber situation who do not believe that actual consumption can be calculated upon to greatly increase during balance of the calendar year, but there is a chance that from this time forward dealers, large manufacturers, etc., who lay in winter stocks, will be in negotiation for the proposed accumulations.

There are a great many local customers, and some of the best ones too, who already not only own, but have received and piled upon a goodly amount of stock, but they will undoubtedly want more to make a complete and full assortment, and together with those who have been standing off, ought to run up a very good fall trade for all descriptions of staple goods. Present offerings are neither abundant or intrusive, and of many grades agents and commission men expect the amount on sale will not greatly increase in view of the shut-down of mills, but no one really looks for a scarcity of lumber, and if the market warrants it the production can again be expanded without much difficulty. Accounts from most primal points seem to indicate a steady feeling on values, and even a little more firmness where some grades happen to be scarce.

White Pine could not be placed with sufficient freedom to justify sellers in giving the market any extra attention at the moment, but there is a little more demand for the cheaper sorts, and some fair-sized engagements have been made during the week, including parcels upon which there is no special hurry for delivery provided they get here before the close of navigation. The export call is somewhat erratic in development but passes out a fair quantity of stock from week to week, some of it on direct shipments from interior points.

Yellow Pine would find little sale on random offerings even at further modified rates, but there are a few more random orders being picked up from custom here and at the Eastward, and some operators speak well of the f. o. b. trade at southern ports in response to foreign calls.

Carolina Pine retains much of the old irregular tone, and sellers have failed to regain any positive advantage. There is too much stock seeking the outlet unquestionably, and coming as it does without restraint as to price keen competition makes decidedly unsatisfactory results. The high grades are under greatest demoralization, both as to limited sale and poor prices.

Hemlock is ruling at pretty much former rates and generally considered steady, without much animation developing, although some addition to country trade shows itself in a few instances. As a general thing manufacturers appear in a position to abstain from urgent efforts to realize, and the curtailment of production for the season is still calculated upon as a factor to strengthen the market later on.

Spruce in all general particulars remains about as before. The sale of it could not be greatly increased even were prices further shaded, but the quantity offering is small from all localities, and any pronounced addition to the demand would promptly infuse a stronger tone. Advances from the Eastward contain nothing particularly new, the cutting running light, and the sale of logs limited and profitless, the log dealers as well as the millmen complaining seriously of the unsatisfactory condition of affairs. State production is very light, and it would be difficult to fill any orders of magnitude. Virginia Spruce can be obtained when wanted at about old rates, but is getting no great amount of attention just now.

Hardwoods have here and there gone into consumption with rather greater freedom with about an ordinary selection made and the chances are that demand from house trim and furniture manufacturers will be better for a while. No one calculates upon any real animation, however, and most consumers have stock enough to satisfy present wants. The indications are that Oak will continue a favorite wood, but other kinds likely to have about the same relative proportionate sale as before the dull times. There is some disappointment in regard to popular apparently, but operators explain comparative quietness now upon the assumption that the various amounts engaged from time to time during the spring and summer are filling the wants of those who might otherwise now be furnishing custom.

The second public auction sale of lumber for this season was held at the Real Estate Exchange on Wednesday, under the direction of John S. Mason & Co., Waldron Williams, auctioneer, and general results were considered as much more satisfactory than the May sale. There was a good representative attendance of all lines of operators, except consumers so much dreaded by a portion of the trade. The whole affair was conducted in the most businesslike form, and it is difficult to see what objections could be raised to this method other than the stereotyped grumble common in all branches of trade, when some of its members prefer the snap of the auctioneer's hammer to the ordinary form of seeking custom. There were about 700,000 feet in all in the catalogue, covering a good general assortment of hard and soft woods, and while prices were not always up to quotations that have been given they were in a large number of cases quite up to those obtained in current market deals. The offering was divided up into seventy-six parcels, mostly car lots. Previous to the sale a line of about 10,000 feet of walnut was disposed of privately, and where buyers were crowding too hard for bargains a number of parcels were with drawn, but the bulk was disposed of. We note inch birch, mostly culls, and mill culls, at $10; White Ash, inch, largely 1sts and 2ds, at $35.50; Cherry, inch, 1sts and 2ds and largely rejects and clear shorts, $30.50; a miscellaneous pile of several cars, Cherry, mostly rejects, culls and mill culls, $13.50; 2 1/2 inch, White. Quartered Oak, inch culls, $17; Plain White Oak, 1sts and 2ds, rejects and culls, $23.26; White Pine, inch, selects, common, $17.50; Cypress, 1 to 2 inch, selects, $25, and 1sts and 2ds, clear, $28; White Ash, 3 inch, 1sts and 2ds, $33; Whitewood, of which the quantity was liberal, ranged at $15.16 to $17.00, mainly culls, mill culls and common at $19.50 to 20.50; 2 1/2 inch, 2 1/2 inch, 2 1/2 inch and 2 1/2 inch, larger percentage of 1sts and 2ds, $24 to $24.50; inch 1sts and 2ds, mainly, $27; 2 inch, 1sts and 2ds, $27.29; and Whitewood Squares, good and culls, $25.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

At Albany, according to Argus, there has been very little change from a week ago. Dealers are feeling the usual summer drop. New lumber continues to arrive, but cannot be disposed of as quickly as the old dry lot.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

In the Northwestern States the distributive demand for pine lumber is increasing. This is especially true of this market, the largest in the country, and consequently of commanding importance with reference to general conditions. The whole-sale yards, which ship lumber to retail yards throughout this State and Indiana in heavy volume, and to the entire country in considerable quantity, now have a fairly large trade. This shows that there is a rising demand in the rural communities and in the interior towns.

In Saginaw valley, where throughout the season until recently there had been heard only a wail of woe and discontent at the dullness of market conditions, there is heard a more cheerful note. Buyers are beginning to put in an appearance, and several blocks of stock have been sold, one of 7,000,000 feet. Mills that had been shut down for weeks have been started up, while others are preparing to do so at an early day. The carload trade is also reviving, and altogether the prospect is brighter in that great producing and market district.

The decline of lake freight rates this season from Duluth to Lake Erie ports and Chicago is a feature that promises to benefit lumber producers at the first-named point. The rate is now the same to this city as it is to Buffalo and Tonawanda, namely, $1.62 1/2 a thousand in each instance. That is the lowest rate ever known. Though the decline has resulted from an unusually dull season and an excess of tonnage and reaction to higher figures may take place when activity shall have been restored, it is reasonable to suppose that a parity of rates will hereafter be maintained between Duluth, this market, and those at the eastern end of Lake Erie.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Logging operations are beginning early this season. Crews are already preparing to go into the woods of northern Wisconsin and Minnesota, and in one or two instances have already started camps and begun cutting down the timber burned over by the recent forest fires. These fires will necessitate the cutting of a good deal of timber this winter that would otherwise have been allowed to stand. Indirectly the forest fires will have something to do with the lumber cut of the season of 1895.

Lower Mississippi River millmen are now being bothered more by an inability to get a supply of logs for their mills, owing to the low water in the river and the fact that rafting logs down from the upper river is an utter impossibility, or has been for a few weeks. The water in the upper river is now rising since the government dams have been opened, and probably logs can soon be got down. The scarcity of logs has resulted in a curtailment of the stock on hand at the down river mills. Nevertheless the stock on hand is adequate to the demand. Some of the mills have closed down and will remain so until more logs are received. Others are running to give employees work. At Hannibal and Moline the output is being restricted and stocks are not excessive. At Winona one mill will close down next week because of lack of logs. At Dubuque, rafts recently received from upper river mills have increased the stock of lumber until it is now equal to what it was before the fire.

A little dry pine stuff has lately come in from Bay City, mostly long lengths, but there is no prospect of any considerable push of stock from Lake Huron ports this season. A considerable quantity of lumber has recently arrived from Lake Superior in tows.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—There does not seem to be a single really new text from which to compile the story of market for common hards this week. There probably has not been quite so much stock in, and demand continued fair, but buyers secured the closest kind of attention, and some of them claim to have found even better terms than heretofore, so far as bulk of offering is concerned. For extreme $1.50 may still be quoted, but 25 cents less gets about as fine stock as the average consumer wants, and $1 will buy stock entirely free from marked faults. There is a little demand for pole all the while at $1.50 to 1.75 and when they get positive orders some manufacturers will ship, but most of them are using the stock for filling. It is positive that several makers have stopped work, and pretty generally understood that a great many more have about come to the conclusion it is time to take the same action, and during the coming week which practically closes the month moulding is likely to cease at numerous yards along the river.

LATH.—The market is in somewhat better form. The open general demand cannot probably be called greater, yet receivers claim to know where a little stock could be placed without difficulty and buyers willing to pay former rates, or say $1.75 per M. From all the advices at hand from Eastward, the impression holds that amounts afloat and current shipments are small, and that is of material help in emphasizing the firm tone of holders.

LIME.—There are no changes of importance this week. The demand for lump continues very good and everything arriving sells, carry common with it as a rule and commanding former rates. It is reported that while a few cargoes are coming forward the shipments have been careful and there will be no surplus. State lime is selling steadily at full former rates, and a little Western gets in now and then at a satisfactory price. Actual consumption is not increasing and just now wants finishing stock in the main.

GLASS.—The demand for window glass does not increase much, but still on the whole is increasing somewhat and of late has reached proportions of about fair, and operators incline to speak more hopefully over the situation. It is believed that should inquiry run up to anything like normal proportions the supply would speedily become exhausted, as a leading trade paper figures that the production last season was only 3,189,550 fifty-foot boxes against 5,200,000 boxes in 1892-93. Jobbers are not thought to be well stocked. The wage committees of manufacturers and workers have been appointed to fix upon rates for the next firing, but it is not known what may be the chances for an agreement. In a general way prices are much the same as they have been for some weeks past and do not seem to afford much satisfaction to sellers. Plate glass remains about steady in price and has a demand averaging up rather fuller than a month ago.

HARDWARE.—Present demand for all kinds of hardware is moderate and there is some disappointment over the conditions of trade. Operators have about made up their minds that while dealers may want a little more stock for assortment, the chances are against any immediate increase in consumption of builders' hardware, beyond the line of contracts already out. Prices generally remain steady, the cutting of price lists having gone about as far as it can be carried with safety. The Bureau of Statistics gives the following interesting statement of exports of builders' hardware and saws and tools for fiscal years ending June 30:

Country.	1894.	1893
United Kingdom.	$714,154	$608,974
Germany.	293,032	236,561
France.	75,821	64,540
Other countries in Europe	167,290	114,183
British North American possessions.	640,272	571,017
Mexico.	300,362	392,559
Central American States and British Honduras.	79,515	115,981
Cuba.	438,720	639,508
Puerto Rico.	30,093	22,254
Santo Domingo.	27,609	17,524

The general condition of poplar has not especially changed during the week. Much emphasis is still laid on the shortage of both the log and lumber supply, and it is believed that a rising demand will greatly benefit prices. Good stocks are still held with reasonable firmness, for it is believed that, since the supply is limited, within the coming three months there will be a call for high grade product that will absorb that now on hand. In the lower grades there is demoralization of prices. The demand is quiet, and it requires much effort to make sales. But increase of factory consumption in the several lines, which now appears inevitable, will develop a demand that will introduce a new phase into the question of prices.

NAILS.—There has been some irregularity of demand, but manufacturers and jobbers generally appear very well satisfied with the amount of business accomplished and speak well of the market. Indeed, some of the mills have found sufficient encouragement to add slightly to the production, and drier rates are talked of. We quote Cut at $1.00 a 1.10 per keg for ear lots and $1.15 a 1.25 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.00 a 1.15 for ear lots, and $1.25 a 1.35 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Operators seem inclined to make a cheerful report, and, while now and then revealing some measure of dissatisfaction, evidently feel that the market is gaining. It is said that actual consumption is far below the average for the season and not likely to pick up much until spring, but painters, retailers and jobbers are all carrying small and more or less broken assortments to which additions must be made for ordinary working purposes. The demand is still met fairly well, as sellers seem to appreciate the propriety of conservative methods, and letting the action of buyers contribute whatever stimulus the market may secure. The general run of value is much the same as of late, but tone a trifle steadier if anything. For leads, exporters' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 62c. net; in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 60c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 59.4c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 59c. Lead in oil in 12-lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add 2c., and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case), add 2c. per lb. to kegs price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note of acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil does not undergo much change, the movement proving only fair at times, and again pretty full, but averaging well and prices ruling about steady. We quote at 50¢ a 52c. for Western, 53¢ a 54c. for City from domestic seed and 54¢ a 55c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine has a fair sort of jobbing demand, but in way of invoices from first hands the movement is very moderate, and prices only about steady. We quote at 29¼ a 30c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—On the natural element of supply and demand there is a very fair balance, but some touches of speculation have developed and created slight irregularity. For actual consumption the supply has been sufficient. We quote Tar at $1.85 a 1.90 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.50 a 2.55 in pork bbls., and $3.50 a 3.55 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50 a 1.70.

Ride a Columbia.

To be thoroughly well mounted is one of the first principles of cycling. Do not deny yourself the extra comfort and luxury derivable from a first-class wheel. The purchase of any wheel short of the best is bad judgment and worse economy. Unprejudiced truth acknowledges Columbia superiority. It is the standard bicycle of the world; unequalled — unapproached.

SO far the Treasury seems to have benefited most by the Gorman Tariff Act. That was to be expected because of the immense quantities of goods that were lying in bond awaiting the consummation of that legislation, and the duties on which go into the Treasury as soon as they are withdrawn. Incidentally, too, the Treasury gold reserve has increased, which is a very satisfactory feature of the returns appearing from day to day. Of course, it remains to be seen whether the new condition of affairs, after the first rush of business it occasioned is over, will continue to favor the Treasury sufficiently, not only to meet the requirements of the nation, but also to put the gold reserve into better proportions with the paper it has to sustain, and to keep it there. The position of the Treasury will continue to have a more than ordinary bearing on values of securities and on business until it has become strong enough to cease to excite attention. General business is on the whole satisfactory, though it shows no further improvement than has been already reported, but the removal of doubt from the situation cannot fail to have ultimately a stimulating effect. The reaction in the stock market was not unnatural, though the opinions of certain railroad officials in the corn belt are receiving more prominence than they deserve, because they represent the comparatively narrow view presented by the territory they refer to. The disappointment of the Northwestern farmer, both in the field as regards crops and in the markets as regards prices, while having an important bearing on the situation, is very considerably offset by conditions in other parts of the country, and by the tendency of other things besides grain to fall in price. Investors abroad see this and are buying discriminately. Shrewd speculators at home are interesting themselves in the securities of newly reorganized properties and properties about to be reorganized. These buyers, both at home and abroad, are acting on a belief that the country as a whole has entered on a new period, in which the favorable feature will largely predominate, and without regard to the day to day quotations.

OUR friends in Europe generally regard the settlement of the tariff discussion as we do, more as removing an obstacle to the regular course of business than as benefiting them through the lowered duties. If any are unduly sanguine it is the German woolen manufacturers. A typical British view of the situation is that the lower duties will work to the advantage of Great Britain, but that they will lead to any very large permanent expansion of exports to the United States is very doubtful. The woolen and linen trades, which unquestionably suffered from the operation of the McKinley tariff, are expected to benefit, if any do. The last report on the English labor market, being for the month of July, showed on the whole a downward tendency. The Panama Canal scheme is to the fore again, the courts having sustained the contract by which the Societe Nouvelle du Panama will take over the property and franchises of the old company. It has secured $4,000,000 of funds to take up the work, and will apply to the public for $8,000,000, which latter sum is, however, underwritten. But the estimated total capital required is $110,000,000, an amount that it will be very difficult to raise in view of what has already transpired, the impossibility of earning anything upon it for some years to come, and, most important of all, the doubt of ultimate success of the work. Whether any part of this money can be raised or not, the revival of the enterprise shows a change in feeling toward new operations that must be good for other and less problematic ones. The cheering reports from the European harvest fields are having their natural effects in better prices for securities and more activity in the industries. The New South Wales official report of its gold production in 1893 values it at $3,306,430, compared with $2,845,890 in 1892. The Greek bondholders have very positively rejected M. Tricoupis' proffered compromise, notwithstanding they were threatened with something worse in the event of their doing so; it now remains to be seen how long and to what extent Greece will retard her own recovery by keeping the question of the settlement of her debt open.

ONE of the things that must tell in time on the value of railroad securities and on business is the comparatively small additions that have been made to the railroad mileage of the country in recent years. This fact is strikingly brought out by the figures given in Poor's Manual, showing the extent of our rail transportation facilities since 1830, when the country commenced developments in this line with a modest twenty-three miles until the present time, when they have grown to upwards of one hundred and seventy-eight thousand miles. As in so many other cases, our railroad development has been in greatest proportion since the war. In 1863 there were in the United States only 33,170 miles of road which in 1873 had grown to 70,268 miles; thereafter the growth has been by leaps and bounds, the total in 1883 being 121,455 and in 1893, 177,753 miles. The increase of 100,000 miles in twenty years, it will be noticed, is almost equally divided between the two decades. The yearly contributions to the railroads of the country, however, have varied very considerably, according to commercial and financial condition of the times, but it is not since 1887 that we have had a real boom in railroad building, when 12,878 miles were constructed, beating the next best record made in the year 1881 of 11,569 miles. In the other of the past twenty years the new mileage has varied from about 1,700 miles to 7,000 miles. Large as it actually is, our steel rocade is small relatively to the extent of the country it has to serve. The fact that the new mileage of 1893 was less than that of any year since 1877, the figures being 2,549 miles and 2,280 miles respectively, is very significant. Indeed, the whole of the last four years have added only 16,000 to our total railroad mileage. It is probable, judging by the condition of general business in its early part and the improbability of any extensive railroad enterprise being done in the latter part that the mileage of 1894 will be even less than that of 1893. These facts suggest the extreme probability of the next few years seeing increased activity among railroad builders and the people who make their supplies, such as ties, rails, plates, bolts, bridges, equipment, etc., with all that implies to the general prosperity of the country. Meantime, the important consideration is what influence the disproportion of the growth of the railroads to that of general business will have on the securities of the companies controlling the transportation of passengers and freight by rail.

THE returns of wheat imported into Great Britain in July do not give any more satisfaction to the North American grower than previous recent reports have done. This applies to Canada as well as the United States, but, of course, proportionately more to the latter by reason of its more extensive wheat industry. The United Kingdom last month received from abroad 13,749,878 bushels of wheat at an average price of 63c. per bushel, as compared with 16,831,928 bushels at 78c. in July, 1893, a decline of 3,082,450 bushels and 15c. in the average price. The imports from the United States were 3,394,836, against 8,556,664, a falling of 4,961,828 bushels, accompanied by a decline from 79c. to 65c. or 14c. per bushel in the average price. At the same time the importations from Russia increased by 1,498,854 bushels, with a fall in the average price of 14c.—from 75c. to 61c.—and the Argentina increased their contributions by 714,300 bushels, accompanied by a decline in the average price per bushel of 15c.—from 76c. to 61c. The importations of Indian wheat, which sells in the British market at about the same price as United States, fell off 618,444 bushels. The decline in importations of our own and Indian wheat, taken in connection with the crop reports for Great Britain itself, makes it probable that, having a good expectation of an increased supply of their own wheat, which takes precedence in quality, the British millers have less need of the good wheats that come from North America and India for mixing with their own and more use for the poorer growths of Russia and Argentine. This theory is not upset by the fact that importations of Australasian wheat, which fetches the highest price of all foreign grown wheat in the British market, increased in July 849,392 bushels, because the decline in the price of North American was not so great as in the Australasian, which sold at 84c. and 68c., when our own sold at 79c. and

65c. respectively, hence there was a difference of 2c. per bushel to influence the miller in his selection of the high-priced foreign wheat he desired to purchase, which probably was more than usually influential, because the increase in the home crop limited the quantity required.

Real Estate Market.

The week's announcements of transactions closed by brokers indicate an improved condition of the market. West Side property especially has been in excellent demand. In other sections of the city no exceptional activity is looked for before the latter part of the present month. Some of the brokers, whose sales business is not confined to any particular neighborhoods or districts, even express doubt as to the fall business proving satisfactory or presenting nearly as good an average as that of the same season during the last two or three years. Their lack of confidence is due to the present dubious condition of the renting market. In May last it was said that never before had New York contained so large a number of untenanted houses and flats. The vacancies, instead of having been diminished as a result of the August demand, have been greatly increased, and to-day it looks, in view of the vast number of "To Let" signs displayed in every quarter, as if the office, mercantile and house accommodations of the metropolis were far beyond its present needs. Rents have tumbled to an amazing extent in cases where vacancies have existed since spring and responsible would-be fall tenants have indicated any disposition to lease. Concessions have not only been made in the business sections, but in every residence district, both south and north of the Harlem River. Renting agents who are not averse to honestly stating the result of their recent experiences say that the $1,000 and $1,200 per year houses are not in any more demand than those of higher price, and that this season's residence rentals have so far shown an average reduction of 10 per cent, when compared with the prices ruling a year ago.

The only properties that can be said to have fairly held their own are the cheap flats in good locations. The demand for them has been constant of late and when accommodations have proved fairly desirable there has been little difficulty in securing tenants. Inquiry has shown, in many instances, that the new lessee of a low-priced flat had heretofore occupied more expensive quarters, but in view of the depressed condition of business had found it necessary to economize.

The auction market has not as yet changed for the better, although there is a promise of several interesting sales next week. On Tuesday Charles S. Brown adjourned until the 11th inst. a foreclosure sale of the westerly block front on 1st avenue, between 95th and 96th streets, and the vacant half block on the northwest corner of 7th avenue and 120th street. On Wednesday Richard V. Harnett & Co. adjourned sine die a similar sale of a plot, 110x120 feet, on the northeast corner of Riverside Drive and 115th street. The foreclosure sale of Kingsbridge road property, north of 184th street, was once more postponed on Thursday by William Kennelly, and is again to be offered on the 20th inst.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Jacob V. D. Wyckoff has sold for Herman Wronkow, No. 585 Broadway, a four-story stone front business structure, and No. 154 Mercer street, a one-story brick building, with plot 171.10 north of Prince street, 28.2x200.4 to Mercer street, x25x100.4x slightly irregular, to George G. Williams, president of the Chemical Bank, for about $200,000. The property was bought at partition sale in the spring of 1891 for $141,500, and, after passing through other hands for considerations expressed as nominal, was sold in July of last year for about $150,000 to Mr. Wronkow. When the latter took title a month later, however, the consideration given in the deed was $200,000.

George Jonas has sold for Mrs. Fennelly, of Asbury Park, N. J., No. 412 East 18th street, a five-story double tenement, on lot 25x92, to S. Kempner & Bro. at a price not made public.

William J. Roome has sold the three-story stone front dwelling, No. 251 West 34th street, 22.11x50x98.9, to Mrs. E. Donnelly for $25,000.

M. E. Hewitt & Co. have sold for Paulina G. Hill, No. 149 West 45th street, a three-story dwelling on lot 17.2x100.5, for $20,000, and for the same owner No. 348 West 46th street, a three-story high stoop brownstone dwelling, lot 15.6x100 (Astor leasehold), for $7,500.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Joseph Rierhoff has sold for Thomas J. McLaughlin the two five-story double flats with stores, Nos. 2651 and 2653 8th avenue, west side, 50 feet south of 142d street, lots 25x 00 each, to a Mr. Mayer for about $54,000; for J. W. Meyners the three-story brick dwelling, No. 63 West 134th street, for $17,000; a full lot on the south side of 134th street, near 10th avenue, for $6,000, and No. 426 Lenox avenue, between 131st and 132d streets, a three-story dwelling, for F. Walther, to a Mr. Foster for $14,000.

Moore & O'Connell have sold for Charles S. Osborn, No. 121 West 80th street, a four-story brick dwelling, on lot 18x102.2, for $28,000. The seller took title to the house last week, having recently purchased it through the same brokers at a lower figure.

Peter A. Lalor has sold for George Mulligan and Patrick Donohue, No. 126 East 71st street, a plot 50x100.5, south side, 105 feet west of Lexington avenue, to Mrs. Jennie Graham, for $36,000. The lots will be improved by the erection of private houses.

Charles E. Schuyler has sold for Builder Harry Chaffee, No. 221 West 70th street, 15x67x100.5, one of a row of recently-finished four-story dwellings, to a Mr. Sherman, for about $28,000, and for Wilcox & Hoyt, the builders, the four-story stone front dwelling, No. 332 West 89th street, 20x60x102.2, to William A. De Blois, for between $35,000 and $40,000.

Henry E. Stevens & Son have signed a contract to exchange for another parcel, No. 317 West 84th street, a four-story stone front dwelling, 18x55x102.2.

The dispute over the trade recently agreed upon by Builder John Kehoe and S. and H. Corn, involving an exchange of Nos. 308 to 320 West 71st street for the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 90th street, and of which mention was made in THE RECORD AND GUIDE of August 18th, has been amicably settled. Each of the principals will pay the expenses of his or their suit and the respective lis pendens filed will be discharged of record. The principal objection made by the Messrs. Corn was the clause providing for the payment in gold of two mortgages. It would appear that the objection to the gold clause has been made before, although it has not been passed upon as yet by the courts, and while some lawyers claim that the objection is not valid, there are others who maintain the contrary. They state that no offer was ever made by Mr. Kehoe to give a bond covering the total sum represented by the gold mortgages, and that consequently no such offer was refused. Regarding the deal between Messrs. Corn and Builder Harry Chaffee, while it is true that the title was rejected, they declare it was for substantial reasons, and refer to the fact that he was represented by one of the best known real estate law firms in New York.

Charles G. Moses has sold for George T. Myatt to Thomas Brown the lot, 25x99.11, on the north side of 180th street, 100 feet west of 11th avenue.

Ware & Gibbs have sold No. 329 West 87th street, a four-story dwelling, on lot 15x100, for Mrs. Thomas R. Keator to Calvin Tomkins, for $22,500.

Adler & Herrmann have sold to a firm of builders, with a loan, the vacant plot, 100x95, on the northeast corner of Manhattan avenue and 102d street. The name of the firm has not been disclosed, but we are informed that the property is to be improved at once by the erection of flats.

E. G. Bach has sold the full lot on the south side of 120th street, 275 feet west of 5th avenue, to Builder Smith, for improvement.

C. A. Arnold & Co. are reported to have negotiated a trade between George F. Scott and Henry Gillies, by which the former disposes of a plot, 125x100, on the west side of the Boulevard, near 130th street, valued at $50,000, and receives in exchange Mr. Gillies' residence at Orange, N. Y., and an additional cash consideration of $15,000.

Alexander Johnson has resold, for $9,000, without taking title, No. 39 West 99th street, a lot, 25x100.11, with two-story frame dwelling, which he purchased last month at a lower figure. L. J. Adams is said to be the broker.

It is reported that Charles Parsons has secured a buyer, at $32,000, for No. 110 West 80th street, one of a row of three four-story stone front dwellings bought by him a short time ago.

John R. Davidson has sold for Builder Fred Haack Nos. 67 and 69 West 102d street, two five-story double flats, 25x77x100.11 each, to Charles Schilo, Jr., for about $49,000.

Stabler & Smith have sold for John J. Mahoney No. 507 West 149th street, a three-story stone front dwelling, 17.6x50x99.11, to a Mrs. Hastings, for about $16,500.

Mrs. D. H. Blakely has sold to Ella S. Conkling Nos. 157 and 159 West 93d street, two four-story dwellings, on lots 15x100.8 each, the former for Hannah Goldsmith and the latter for Matilda Solomon.

Carl Raegner is reported to have sold, for about $18,000, the four-story dwelling, No. 121 West 97th street, lot 15.6x100.11, recently purchased by him from the Hebrew Benevolent and Orphan Society.

M. E. Hewitt & Co. have sold for Mrs. McCauley the two five-story brownstone apartment houses, Nos. 109 and 111 West 103d street, on lot 37.6x100.11, for $46,000, and for Leonard L. Hill No. 130 West 97th street, a three-story high-stoop modern dwelling, lot 17.6x100.11, with extension, for $20,000.

LEASES.

M. E. Hewitt & Co. have leased the three-story dwelling, No. 149

West 45th street, at $1,300, and the similar house, No. 348 West 46th street, at $1,200.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

Joseph Bierhoff, of this city, has sold conjointly with Schenck & Co. for B. McGraw to a New Yorker the following properties at Mt. Vernon: The northeast corner of 8th avenue and 6th street, 100x 105, with improvements, for $8,000; No. 42 South 6th avenue, a two story and attic dwelling, for $2,500, and a lot on 5th avenue, Central Mt. Vernon, for $3,000.

The two-and-a-half-story house, No. 53 North Broadway, Yonkers, with lot 20x75, has been sold by Lewis H. Wiggins to Cornelius Coghlan for $5,000.

S. B. Steinmann, Owner,
No. 55 Liberty street.

Theresa Flats, Nos. 158-166 West Ninety-sixth street.

A West Side Improvement.

An attractive row of five five-story and basement flats has just been completed, on the south side of 96th street, between Columbus and Amsterdam avenues, by S. B. Steinmann, who, it will be remembered, was the owner and builder of the fine business structure, Nos. 208 and 210 Wooster street, which was described in THE RECORD AND GUIDE of March 24. The new flats are models of their kind, with basement fronts of brownstone, alternate first story fronts of same and buff limestone, and Tiffany brick in the upper stories. Thomas Graham was the architect, and their construction has been the best possible. The end houses are single and the three inside ones double flats. Light is secured for interior rooms by side courts of ample size between each building. The suites in the single flats contain eight rooms and bath, and in the other houses each suite has seven rooms and bath. Enamelled porcelain bath tubs, the most modern of open plumbing and Bolton's double system of steam heating are among the improvements introduced. The steam boilers are located in the basement of each house. The rear view from the flats is all that can be desired, private dwellings occupying the opposite block front. The location, surroundings and accessibility of the buildings could hardly be excelled. About equi-distant from direct entrances to Central and Riverside Parks, on a 100-foot street paved with asphalt and in charge of the Park Department, the sidewalks near the curb laid out in grass plots in which shade trees have been set out, and the assurance of increased transit facilities given by the new cable road on Columbus avenue, all contribute to insure not only the present but future value of the Theresa flats. The apartments rent at $35 per suite up, and are rapidly securing tenants. Few flat properties would seem to offer better opportunity for investment. It is understood that the property is now on the market. Particulars may be obtained from the owner, S. B. Steinmann, whose office is in the ground floor of No. 55 Liberty street, or on the premises. The flats are now ready for occupancy, and considering the low rents they will doubtless fill with desirable tenants.—(Communicated.)

News of the Building Trade.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have a house in Brooklyn which I want to paint. There is a space of 5 feet between my house and the next, 4 feet 6 inches of which belong to my neighbor, used as an alleyway. Can I be prevented from swinging a scaffold from my roof to paint the side next my neighbor?

Answer.—Yes, if your scaffold encroaches upon the 4 feet and 6 inches which belong to your neighbor.—LAW EDITOR.

CORRECTION.

In THE RECORD AND GUIDE, of August 11, appeared the record of a judgment against "The Times Printing and Pub. Co.," in favor of the "Manufacturers' Paper Co." Some of our readers who do not know our highly esteemed contemporary, The New York Times, and how thoroughly responsible a corporation it is, have imagined that the judgment was against it. The record on the docket should have shown that it was against a Rochester company.

SATISFIED JUDGMENTS.
